"If this statement correctly represents the facts, it does seem to me to be utterly unjust to throw the whole or even a large portion of the cost of restoring the natural drainage system of the country on those who are not responsible for these obstructions, and who have themselves been victims of virulent malarial fever, which has been caused by the action of other parties It seems to me indisputable that railway embankments, district roads, and railway feeders, so many of which have sprung up of recent years, are really responsible for these obstructions It is also clear from this report that sometimes zamindars and raiyats are responsible for damming up khals and water-courses either for retaining water in the paddy-fields or for fishing purposes, and under these circumstances it seems that the only fair and equitable course is that the State should make a substantial contribution, that the Railway Companies who are so largely answerable for this state of things should also be made to contribute according to their responsibilities, and that private parties who have caused obstruction should come in for their fair share of the cost of removing the obstruction, and if after all this it is proposed to supplement the fund by levying a rate upon land-holders and raiyats, I believe they will be patriotic enough to assent to such taxation without much murmur But I venture to think that the Bill as it stands is open to very serious objections on the grounds I have briefly indicated, and which I feel bound to point out I invite the Council respectfully so to shape its legislation that you may be able to carry public opinion along with you, that your laws may command a willing obedience, and that they may be welcomed by those for whom you are legislating With these observations, Sir, if I am not out of order, I beg to move that, with the view of giving an opportunity to the public to express their opinion on the subject, this Bill be referred to the Select Committee this day, three months"

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA JAGADINDRA NATH ROY OF NATOR said —"I entirely agree with MR. GHOSE in thinking that the Bill in its present form should not be referred to the Select Committee to-day I should like, however, to say one or two words with regard to the financial aspect of the question The Bill provides that the zamindars will in the first instance have to pay the whole cost of the drainage works, and also that year after year they will have to pay a certain amount for the drainage and repair of those works This seems to me to be rather inequitable, and it also seems to me to be to a certain extent an encroachment upon the permanent settlement, therefore it seems to me undesirable that this Bill in its present form should be referred to a Select Committee, and that it is desirable that sufficient time should be allowed to the public to express their opinion upon it"

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said —"I rise not to stand in the way of the amendment moved by my hon'ble friend I think that in a matter of this kind public discussion is of the greatest possible importance At the same time, speaking for myself, it is impossible for me to approach this Bill without feeling grateful to the Government for the benevolent intentions by which it was actuated in framing and introducing into this Council a measure of this kind Opinions may differ with regard to the details of the measure I myself have some objections in that direction We may object to the financial clauses of the Bill, we may object to the proposal to levy a cess on the people, we may argue that in the present circumstances of the people, having regard to the heavy burden of taxation they have already to meet—a burden which is likely to be added to in the near future in view of the demands of the Imperial Government—it will savour almost of criminality to impose an additional cess on the people, even for so necessary a purpose as that of sanitation. Some of us may hold that the assent or the dissent of the District Board is no reflex of popular opinion, it may be possible to devise a better machinery for ascertaining public opinion than what is provided through the medium of the District Board With reference to these and other matters of detail opinions may differ, but I think all will agree that in this matter the Government has been animated by the purest and the loftiest motives, by the single-minded desire to secure to the rural population of Bengal, the inestimable blessing of health I am a believer in drainage If it is a fad, I am one of the faddists, but I am in excellent company, for I am supported by the experience of the highest medical authorities, whose opinions are entitled to the greatest weight I presume it will be admitted that the Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal is the highest sanitary authority in a matter of this kind Time after time he repeats the same tale, time after time he repeats the terrible record of mortality from malarial fever, time after time he appeals to the Government to introduce some practical measure of drainage to relieve the people from this frightful mortality and the terrible sufferings which follow in the train of that mortality With Your Honour's permission I will read to the Council one or two extracts from the Report of the Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal. In the annual report for 1891 he says —

'An examination of the vital statistics of the Province will show that fever claims by far the largest number of victims, the death-rate from this cause being nearly three fourths of the entire death-rate of the Province in fact, the enormous and increasing mortality from fever calls for serious attention and inquiry

'During the year under report, 1,333,395 persons, representing a death-rate of 18 84 per 1,000 of the population, are reported to have succumbed to fever against 1,165,569, or 16 12 per 1,000 in the previous year'

"We find the same tale repeated in 1888 –

'The annual death-rate from fevers is nearly three fourths of the entire death rate of the Province, or more than twice as much as the death-rate of all the other diseases put together, and when it is remembered that every death from fever probably represents twenty or more attacks, it may be imagined what a very large proportion of the population must have suffered during the year under review'

"Now, what are the reports regarding the mortality of Calcutta? It is within our recollection that Calcutta used to be the hot-bed of malarious fever, and people used to leave Calcutta for the Mufassal to recruit their health Under proper sanitary arrangements Calcutta has now become a sanitarium, people leave the Mufassal to come to Calcutta to regain their health The price of land in Calcutta has risen three-fold within the last few years Ten years ago a katta of land used to be sold for Rs 300, now you cannot buy a katta of land for less than Rs 1,000 And what is the reason of this extraordinary rise in the price of land? It means an extraordinary demand on the part of people living in the Mufassal for land in Calcutta Let me read a few facts in regard to the mortality of Calcutta, and compare it with the death-rate of the suburbs of Calcutta before the introduction of drainage and water-supply In 1884, the death-rate of the Suburbs was 45 2 per mille, in 1884, the death-rate of Calcutta was 29 2 In 1885, the death-rate of Calcutta was 29 3, in the Suburbs it was 44 8 In 1886, it was 26·4 in Calcutta, in the Suburbs it was 40 5 In 1887, it was 26 9 in Calcutta, in the Suburbs it was 42 1 In 1889, it was 26 9 in Calcutta, in the Suburbs it was 42 4 And then when the Suburbs were amalgamated with Calcutta, we find a decrease in the death-rate in consequence of the sanitary improvements which were introduced I have before me the figures of five years of the added area before the amalgamation, and of five years after the amalgamation We find that the normal annual death-rate for the five years preceding the amalgamation was never less than 40 per mille, and that since the amalgamation it has never been more than 36 7 Therefore, having these facts before us, it is impossible not to hold that defective drainage is the cause of malarial fever, and that the surest means of removing malarial fever is the introduction of an effective system of drainage

"But though I am prepared to accord my support to the principle of this Bill, I am not quite so sure about its financial clauses, and I would appeal to the Select Committee and the Council to reconsider those clauses by the light of the observations I desire to submit for their consideration And I do not consider them an essential part of the Bill, they are an adjunct to the Bill, and might be safely dispensed with, and yet the principle of the Bill may be saved If the Government is really anxious that the Bill should not be a dead-letter, that it should be a workable measure, and that it should be largely availed of by the local bodies, then the proposal to levy a cess for drainage purposes should be abandoned. Let me remind the Council of the character of the Bill. It is a measure of local option. It is entirely optional with the District Boards to introduce it or not, just as they please. Now I ask, whether any local body with the smallest pretensions to a popular character would, of its own free will or accord, ask for or submit to a measure which involves the imposition of a fresh cess upon the people? Where then is the money to come from? I say from the surplus balance of the provincial public works cess. The Hon'ble MR BOURDILLON will, no doubt, tell me that there is no surplus balance, but notwithstanding the high authority of that gentleman, I am bound to hold that there is a considerable and an increasing surplus balance of the public works cess which ought to be devoted to the execution of such works as are contemplated under this Bill. Let me remind the Council, I will not say of the pledge, but of the distinct declaration made by the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill, when it was proposed to introduce the public works cess in Bengal. The Hon'ble MR REYNOLDS, when he introduced the Public Works Cess Bill, said that, in obedience to the mandate which had been received from the Government of India, the cess was to be imposed in order to meet the interest on the capital outlay on some extraordinary public works and in connection with works undertaken for the prevention of famine. The hon'ble gentleman mentioned what these extraordinary public works were. They are the three great irrigational canals on the Sone, in Orissa and in Midnapur, and the State Railways of Nalhati, Tirhut, Mutla and North Bengal. The calculations were made upon this basis. It was estimated that the interest charge on these works would amount to 22 lakhs, and the working charges to Rs 1,50,000. Then it was calculated that 8 lakhs a year would be needed to meet the interest on the capital outlay on the railways, 3 lakhs would represent the receipts from railways, and therefore 5 lakhs had to be provided to meet the interest on railways, in all 27 lakhs a year would be needed for these extraordinary public works.

"Then there were the famine works, and it was calculated that from 30 to 35 lakhs a year would be required to meet the charges of these extraordinary public works, and such works as might be needed for protection against famine. The surplus balance of the Public Works cess is, however, devoted to Ordinary Provincial Works. I maintain that it is not fair, it is not right, to go behind the declarations which were made in this Council, and to impose a tax which, in the words of JOHN STUART MILL, amounts to partial confiscation—a tax on the landed and agricultural interests for the sake of the public at large. These works benefit the whole community, but who are taxed—the landed and the agricultural interests? To do so involves an utter violation of the principles of political economy and the ordinary considerations of justice. Let us read the words of the Hon'ble MR REYNOLDS—words which he made use of in introducing the Public Works Cess Bill. He said:—

'It had been determined to render the Local Governments responsible for the cost and management of extraordinary public works, that was to say such public works as railways and works of irrigation which had been constructed with borrowed money and had not been paid for out of the revenues of the year.'

"Then, again, MR REYNOLDS observed:—

'The Government of Bengal would take over the works as they stood, and would be responsible for the payment of simple interest on the capital outlay up to date and for the provision necessary for future working expenses.'

"I will make one other extract from MR REYNOLDS' speech:—

'It had been laid down by the Government of India that it was necessary to introduce a system of provincial and local responsibility for the provision of local relief in the event of famine.'

"In this matter I claim to represent a large amount of public feeling. This question of sanitation was the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Bengal Provincial Conference, held in 1892, soon after the holding of the Belvedere Conference, and I hold in my hand an extract from a Resolution passed on that occasion. It was then resolved 'that this Conference, while deeply grateful to His Honour the Lieutenant Governor for his earnest attention to the improvement of sanitation, would appeal to His Honour to devote the surplus balance of the public works cess to this purpose.' I think this Bill ought to be recast by the light of the observations which I have ventured to submit for the consideration of this Council I wish to make one other observation before I conclude If the representative character of the District Board is objected to, as it has been objected to by my hon'ble friend to my right (MR GHOSE), why not adopt the procedure which we find in sections 12—14 of the Drainage Act of 1880? The Drainage Commissioners might write to the parties interested, inviting them within a certain time to submit, in writing, their views with reference to the project laid before them, and the matter should then be decided by a majority of the votes of those interested

"Subject to these remarks and the right to move amendments so far as the financial clauses of the Bill are concerned, I accord my cordial support to the principle of the Bill At the same time it seems to me desirable that facilities should be afforded for the public discussion of a measure which involves the imposition of a fresh cess"

The Hon'ble MR ALLEN said :—"Before dealing with the principle underlying this Bill, I wish to make a passing observation I am rather surprised at the inconsequence of the hon'ble member who has just sat down in objecting to the cost of improved sanitation being levied from the landed interest As a proof of the valuable results of sanitation, he has informed us that the value of land in Calcutta which formerly fetched no more than Rs 300 per katta has, in consequence of the diminution of fever, risen to Rs 1,000 per katta If the value of the whole of my land could be raised from Rs 300 per katta to Rs 1,000 per katta by proper drainage, I should not grudge the small taxation necessary to effect that result This, however, is a mere observation in passing

"According to the rules of procedure in this Council, it is on the motion to go into Select Committee that any objections to the principle of the Bill are to be brought forward, and that any discussion on the principle can be held There are two assumptions underlying this Bill—first, that the fever which has proved so deadly in certain parts of Lower Bengal is due to impeded drainage secondly, that it is possible to improve the drainage of those parts of the Province to such a degree as to put an end to the malaria which causes, or is supposed to cause, the fever in question There is no member of this Council, and there is probably no member in the service in Bengal, who has a larger acquaintance with the malarial fever, commonly called the Burdwan fever, than I possess It was first noticed in the year 1862, and in 1863 I was placed in charge of the Baraset subdivision, which at that time was the very worst spot for sickness and death from fever of any part of Lower Bengal, not excepting Burdwan itself The people feared it, no one would live there During the time I was there, a Commission was appointed to investigate into the causes of the fever The Commissioner of the Presidency Division, Dr Mouat, the Inspector General of Jails, and Babu Degambur Mitter came to Baraset while I was there They suggested certain causes for the fever, and it was then for the first time that Babu Degambur Mitter insisted upon impeded drainage as being the cause of malarial fever His notion was that the East Indian Railway running along one bank of the river and Eastern Bengal Railway running along the other bank intercepted the drainage of the country which otherwise would flow into the river Hooghly, and he originated the idea of intercepted drainage being the cause of malarial fever There appear, however, to be two objections to that theory—first, it has never been shown that the water lying on one side of the embankment permanently varies in level from that on the other side, secondly, the surface water does not drain naturally towards the Hooghly, but away from it I have personally discussed the matter many times, and have always had the greatest interest in the subject ever since As a matter of fact, in all alluvial tracts of country the drainage does not run towards the river, but from it, because of the banks of rivers passing through the alluvial delta being invariably higher than the more inland country, consequently the railways did not obstruct the natural drainage of the country It was then said—I believe Dr Mouat was the originator—that though there is no evidence of the level of the water on one side of an embankment being different from the level of the water on the other, yet a great mass of solid material such as a railway embankment being deposited on a semi-fluid soil, like that of Lower

Bengal, must compress the underlying strata so as to impede, if not the surface drainage, the sub-soil drainage of the country That was 32 years ago But I have not yet seen any proof that a well sunk on one side of a line of railway reached water at a different level from a well sunk on the other side of the line, consequently if the level of the water in the sub soil is identical on each side of a line of railway, it is obvious that an embankment cannot impede the flow of the sub-soil water from one side to the other

"So the matter rested when I left Baraset, and for a time the discussion on the subject of malarial fever practically ceased Nearly ten years afterwards it was my fate to be in charge of the district of Birbhum, which runs northwards from the Adjai river along the side of the East Indian Railway up towards Rajmahal From the banks of that river northwards, the soil is composed of undulating laterite with deep gulleys between, and it would be impossible to conceive or imagine any country more perfectly drained than the whole of that tract Rain is absolutely incapable of lodging there, in the course of half an hour it disappears in flowing streams Any person travelling by railway can satisfy himself, after crossing the river Adjai, how absurd the idea of impeded drainage must be when started with reference to any influences affecting the health of the people of that country In fact a large part of the railway has to pass through considerable cuttings Well, in 1871-72, I was in charge of the Birbhum district, and at the time malarial fever was raging with renewed intensity in the Burdwan district, and the whole subject came up for consideration and discussion anew The then Magistrate of Burdwan, summing up the matter, had nothing but a sneer to offer for all the theories which were propounded The fever crossed the Adjai river, it decimated Sonool and Bulpore and that neighbourhood, and moved gradually up to the village of Purundorpore, six miles from the town of Sooree I subsequently heard that it passed on and visited with equal fatality the town of Sooree and other places which had never known such fever The then Commissioner, Mr Buckland, naturally devoted considerable attention to discover the cause of the fever My own attention was constantly fixed on the subject The malarial theory, the obstructed drainage theory, was brought out again, but to attempt to account for fever in the Birbhum district on any such theory was absurd The only conclusion Mr. Buckland could arrive at, as the result of his own examination into the subject, was that it was like a large fire which, wherever it found combustible material, burnt it up and then passed on One of the most remarkable things was that the higher castes of the people invariably suffered—the Brahmins, the Kyasths and the Rajpoot caste—they were the victims, while the Bourres, Haris, Bagdees and other low castes escaped with impunity

"For these reasons, after having had my constant attention directed to the subject, and being naturally anxious to ascertain some cause, I have been utterly unable to satisfy myself that this fever is in any special way connected with drainage or malaria My conclusion was that it is mainly due to constitutional conditions, but I will not now detain the Council to enlarge on this theory It is sufficient for me simply to draw attention to the uncertainty which hangs over the main assumption of this Bill, namely, that by improving the drainage of a tract of country we necessarily improve the health of the people It may be so, but my own experience in Calcutta does not lead me to think so After having run the gauntlet of the most malarial districts of Bengal, I gained experience in my own person of fever for the first time in the town of Calcutta, and this I will say that the fever of Calcutta is of a much more vicious and persistent type than any fever in the Mufassal In fact improved drainage appears to give a typhoid character to the most trifling fever Therefore I think the passage of this Bill through the Council should not be hurried, and the suggestion that ample time should be given for discussion and consideration is reasonable in view of the doubts which exist as to the malarial theory being the correct one

"But admitting that malaria is the cause of all this deadly fever, what is the remedy? Is it possible to improve the drainage of Bengal? I observe that there is no section in the Bill prohibiting the cultivation of rice in any area subjected to drainage and being improved If rice cultivation is still to go on in a drained area, it is perfectly certain that the drainage must be practically inoperative Is it contemplated that rice cultivation should cease? If so, the last stage of the people may be worse than the first, and it may prove a measure for starving men in order to save them from fever The actual condition of things in Bengal renders anything like effective drainage absolutely impossible When once the highlands of Western Bengal are left behind, the whole country from the Bhagirathi at Murshidabad to the hills of Tippera is covered with water varying from 5 to 15 feet for four months in the year How can it be possible with that level of water over the whole country that any drainage worthy of the name can be effected? It is a curious fact also, but still well known, that the healthiest period of the year in these tracts is precisely when the drainage of the country is entirely blocked by this mass of water, and only after this water has run off that the effects of malaria are experienced

"I offer these observations not in any way as final or as tying my opinion to any conclusion, but these are the opinions which have been floating in my mind for a long time with reference to this subject, and I think it necessary—at least there can be no harm in it—to lay them before the Council when the Bill is at its present stage, as this will be the only opportunity when these considerations can be placed before the Council"

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABDUL JUBBAR said —"I beg to make one or two observations with reference to this motion The fever which is said to be due to malaria and obstructed drainage has brought on misery and wretchedness in some of the districts of Bengal, which thirty years back were regarded as sanitaria, and I am unfortunately an inhabitant of one of those districts There in the place of strong and nourishing food quinine and sago are the principal articles of daily consumption The fact was stubborn that the unhealthiness of these districts began shortly after the construction of railways in those places, and it is the general opinion that the railways have obstructed the drainage of the country The object of this Bill is admitted by all to be a beneficial one, but at the same time I think it necessary that it should be ascertained whether the people are prepared to accept it in its present form Therefore, I think that before referring the Bill to a Select Committee, a certain time should be allowed to the public for the consideration of its provisions"

The Hon'ble BABU GONESH CHUNDER CHUNDER said —"It seems to me that there is no necessity for the proposed legislation I admit, notwithstanding what has fallen from the Hon'ble MR ALLEN, that the time has come when for the preservation of the lives and the health of the people of this Province an effective system of drainage is necessary by means of legislation But the question is, have we not in our Statute Book a law now existing for that purpose, and has it been shown that the working of that Act has not attained the purpose for which it was enacted? If you refer to the Bill which has been circulated, you will find that almost all the provisions of this Bill have been taken bodily from Act VI of 1880 There are of course some objectionable provisions in it upon which I shall make some comments hereafter The hon'ble member in charge of the Bill in introducing it did not even allude to Act VI of 1880, nor did he say anything to show that any attempt to put that Act into force has proved unsuccessful, or that its provisions did not answer the purpose for which the law was passed Why cannot that Act be amended as the exigencies of the case may require? Why should we undertake new legislation on a subject on which we have already an exhaustive Act I think it will be seen that this Bill incorporates the main features of the former Act with the exception of some of the important provisions which have already been alluded to by the hon'ble member on my left (MR GHOSE) But it excludes the provision for ascertaining the views of those most interested in the proposed drainage system, namely, the owners of the properties in which drainage works are to be constructed Under the existing law it is necessary for the Drainage Commissioners to obtain the assent in writing of one-half of the holders of the land which is to be drained, but this Bill entirely does away with their consent It restricts the principle of local self government, which exists in that Act, and in place of the consent of the owners of the lands to be drained, this Bill gives the right of assent to the District Board I am not sure that owners of lands in the country are prepared to delegate their authority in matters concerning their own pecuniary interests to the District Board Under these circumstances it certainly seems to me that the present Bill is not an improvement on the existing law There are no doubt objections on financial grounds against the provisions of Act VI of 1880, some of which have already been adverted to by hon'ble members who have already spoken For these reasons I submit that, instead of proposing to pass a new law, steps should be taken to amend Act VI of 1880"

The Hon'ble MR LYALL said —"The substantive amendment before the Council is that of the Hon'ble MR GHOSE, who proposes that the Select Committee shall not be appointed for three months to come There is scarcely a word in the very able speech made by my hon'ble friend, in which I do not agree more or less, chiefly more, and if I thought any advantage would be gained by putting off the appointment of the Select Committee for three months, I would at once agree to it But I think the provisions made in the Rules of the Council fully meet the wishes of the hon'ble member The Rules provide that all communications made to the Government in connection with any Bill before the Council should be laid before the Select Committee appointed to consider the Bill, they also provide that a longer or a shorter time than the usual period of one month may be allowed for the consideration of a Bill by the Select Committee, and I very much doubt whether the object of the hon'ble member will be in any way forwarded by the adoption of his amendment I think it is far more likely that public bodies, and people generally will submit their opinions on a Bill which is actually before the Council, than upon one which was practically shelved for three months I am as anxious as the hon'ble member himself for a full public discussion of the provisions of this Bill In introducing the Bill I said that it had been put together by the Legislative Department as the result of the Belvedere Conference, and that it does not pretend to fix the exact wording of the law that is left to the Select Committee and afterwards to this Council to determine I feel sure that every point put forward by my hon'ble friend will be dealt with by the Select Committee, and I have no doubt successfully Among other objections the hon'ble member objected to the District Board being made the arbiter of the people That point was decided by the majority of the Belvedere Conference, but I feel bound to say that I agreed with the minority, and should the Select Committee not accept it, they will be at liberty to reject it The question of finance is another matter with which the Select Committee will deal

"The Hon'ble BABU GONESH CHUNDER CHUNDER has contended that, instead of the Bill now before the Council, an amendment of the existing Drainage Act, VI of 1880, should be introduced, but that will have very much the same effect as the present Bill inasmuch as this Bill has been drafted almost entirely upon the model of that law, there being no other enactment on the subject That Act, however, deals with small local areas which it was proposed to drain for the benefit of the zamindars and raiyats It has nothing to do with the health of the people, and it does not deal with large areas, and I do not think anything will be gained by simply amending that Act.

"Then, with regard to the remarks which fell from the Hon'ble MR ALLEN, I am personally at one with him in those remarks. I have seen malarial fever in tracts where there have been no roads or lines of railway to obstruct the natural drainage of the country My own view is that the gradual upheaval of the country has naturally interfered with the old drainage channels But that is a mere theory Everybody agrees that malarial fever does require to be dealt with, and the great majority of medical opinion is that it is largely caused by the want of drainage I hope that in view of these remarks the amendment which has been moved will not be pressed""

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said —"The Hon'ble MR GHOSE asks leave to move an amendment of which notice has not been given, and under the Rules I permit the amendment to be laid before the Council From one point of view I regret that the amendment has been moved in this form, because it creates the impression of disagreement where it is evident from what has fallen from all the hon'ble members who have spoken that no real disagreement exists We are all anxious to give full opportunity for the expression of public opinion, we are all anxious that the provisions of the Bill should be examined with the utmost care and deliberation The only point for decision is, which is the best step to take in order to secure the result we all desire? Are we likely to get the best consideration of the Bill by the public, and are we likely to get their views sent up in the fullest and completest form and in the shortest time, if the Bill is referred to a Select Committee at once, or if the reference to a Committee is postponed? I am inclined to agree with the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill that if it is actually before a Select Committee and is no longer a sleeping Bill, it will stimulate the submission of opinions, both of official and non official members, and that their views and criticisms will be sent in sooner than would otherwise be the case I say this on the simple ground that people are more inclined to give their mind to a subject when they feel that the time is limited than when they know the time is unlimited, and that it will make no difference whether they send in their representations to-day or three months hence Therefore, on the whole, it seems to me desirable that a Select Committee should be appointed now, but that they should be instructed not to proceed with any haste, but to give sufficient time and to give all local and public bodies notice that an expression of their views was desired, and that their views on the subject of the Bill would be carefully considered It should be understood that there will be no hurry, but that it is desired that the Bill should not be looked upon as a sleeping Bill, but that the Bill which is now in embryo should be brought to life within a reasonable time"

The Hon'ble MR GHOSE said —"After the observations which have fallen from the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill, I will ask permission to withdraw my amendment"

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said —"I am glad to allow the amendment to be withdrawn, because any appearance of disagreement on the subject will now be removed"

The Motion was then put and agreed to

CALCUTTA TRAMWAYS AGREEMENT BILL

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE introduced the Bill to give effect to an agreement made between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited, and moved that it be read in Council He said —

"This is an amending Bill, consisting of only three sections The object of the Bill is to legalise an agreement arrived at between the Corporation and the Tramways Company The Corporation is advised that the existing agreement being embodied in the schedule to an Act of the Legislature, it will be impossible to legalise any fresh agreement or alteration of the existing agreement except by legislative enactment That is the raison d'être of this Bill, and these are the reasons for asking leave to introduce it"

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Bill was read accordingly

The Council adjourned to Saturday, the 10th March, 1894.

(By subsequent order of the President the Council meeting was postponed to Saturday, the 17th March, 1894)

RESOLUTION ON THE RESETTLEMENT OF THE WEST TISTA KHAS MAHALS IN THE DISTRICT OF DARJEELING

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE

READ—

Letter No 845Rct, dated the 27th September 1893, from the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division, submitting the completion report of the resettlement of the West Tista khas mahals in the district of Darjeeling

The West Tista khas mahals in the district of Darjeeling are fourteen in number, and cover a hilly tract of country lying to the west of the river Tista, inhabited by a mixed population of Nepalis, Bhutias and Lepchas, the number of Nepalis being nearly double that of the Bhutia and Lepcha raiyats together. The total population of the tract is 3,592 males and 3,455 females. The mahals (the names of which are given on the margin) are the property of Government, having been acquired with the tract taken from Sikhim after 1850. The current settlement of the first eleven mahals, which was concluded in each case with the mandal and raiyats on what is known as the joint raiyatwari system, will expire on the 31st March 1894; of the three remaining mahals, Tukda (Pemchada's) was first settled with Pemchada Bhutia for a term of ten years which expired on the 30th September 1887. The fresh lease which was then granted jointly to his son and the raiyats of the mahal will expire on the 31st March 1894. The Dhajia khas mahal, which originally formed a part of the lands granted to Dr Greenhill for a farm, was settled in 1890 with the mandal and the raiyats jointly for ten years with retrospective effect from 1887. The current settlement of this mahal will not therefore expire, and the new rates will not come into force till 1897; the present settlement of the Mirik khas mahal will similarly expire on the 31st March 1896, and the new rates will come into force on the 1st April of that year.

2 The proposal of the local officers to commence resettlement operations in the cold weather of 1892-93 was sanctioned by Government in June 1892. Measurement work was commenced in the last week of November 1892, and was completed by the end of January 1893, the final report of the operations was submitted by the Deputy Commissioner in August 1893.

3 Under the joint raiyatwari system, the raiyats have nominally the right to hold their lands, but as a fact they are entirely at the mercy of the mandal who assumes the power to oust them at pleasure. The new settlement has therefore been made with each raiyat individually on the system adopted in the Kalimpong Government estate lying to the east of the river Tista. The mandal will now have to collect the revenue from the raiyats according to the rent roll, and to remit it to the Government Tahsildar who manages the mahals. For this and other minor duties to be performed in accordance with the terms of his sanad, the mandal will receive 10 per cent commission on the total collections made by him. He will no longer have the right to settle waste lands for his own benefit, and this should be made clear in the sanads to be issued to the mandals.

4 The total area of the 14 mahals, according to the recent measurement, is 15,033 acres against 14,694 acres according to the measurement made in 1882-83, the difference being due mainly to the recovery of lands which had been wrongly included in the adjoining tea gardens. The area comprised may be classified as follows:—

		Acres.
Cultivated and assessed	Cardamum lands ..	132
	Other cultivated " ...	10,041
	Total cultivated and assessed	10,173	=11,078
Culturable	Uncultivated lands recently settled	905
	Similar lands remaining to be taken up	776
	Area set apart for grazing	1,382
	Ditto as fuel reserves	511
	Total culturable	3,577
Unculturable	Covered by roads	62
	Lands otherwise incapable of cultivation	1,221
	Total unculturable	1,283
	GRAND TOTAL ..	15,033

5 For purposes of assessment the mahals have been divided into three classes according to the quality of the predominating soil The soil classed as first class is loose black earth which is fit for almost all crops and especially for Indian-corn, while soil of the second class is black earth mixed with red, and that of the third class is red earth which is said to be suitable for marwa and potato. For the settlement still current, three rates of rent were originally sanctioned, viz, twelve annas an acre for first class, nine annas for second class, and six annas for third class lands But when these rates came to be applied, they were found to yield a disproportionately large increase in the revenue, and orders were passed reducing the assessment by making allowance for fallow lands in each mahal to the extent of one-fourth of the total cultivated area in the first class mahals, one-third in the second class mahals, and one-half in the third class mahals The rates were thus virtually reduced to nine, six and three annas an acre respectively for the three classes of mahals For the new settlement the rates originally sanctioned have been adopted without allowance being made for fallows Cardamum land yields no crop for the first three years of cultivation, and has therefore to pay no rent for that time. In these mahals there are 132 acres of such land, and the rate sanctioned is Rs 10 per acre from the fourth year of cultivation as in Kalimpong. The total rent on the 11,078 acres assessed was Rs 7,693-12. But two of the mahals, viz. Hoomlingding and Mangwa, with a total jama of Rs 2,270 5, are to be settled at half rates with Raja Tenduk Palgar of Kurmi from the 1st April 1894. Adding Rs 127, the income to be derived from three plots of thatching grass, the total assessment under the new settlement will amount to Rs 7,820-12 against Rs. 4,213 under the existing settlement The net revenue payable to Government will be Rs 6,079-5 6 as shown in the margin.

	Rs	A	P
	7,820	12	0
Deduct column 17 of Appendix III	1,135	2	6
	6,685	9	6
Deduct—
(1) Mandal s commission (column 3, Appendix VIII)	549	3	0
(2) Concessions to certain mandals (column 16, Appendix III) .	57	1	0
	6,079	5	6

6. The expenditure incurred in completing the operations amounts to Rs. 6,812-3-8, divided as follows —

	Rs	A	P
On measurement	3,532	7	3
On settlement	3,279	12	5
	6,812	3	8

The total area measured being 15,033 acres, the total cost per acre amounts to seven annas and three pies.

7 The total number of holdings is 2,486, comprising a total area of 11,078 acres, which includes 132 acres of cardamum land and 905 acres of uncultivated land recently settled The average area of each holding is therefore about 5 acres, but, as the total number of households is 1,211, the average area held by each household is about 9 acres With the exception of the lands, amounting to 123 acres, to be held rent free by certain mandals for whom the ordinary commission would not be sufficient, there are no rent-free holdings in these mahals

8 The Assistant Settlement Officer gives the following areas as approximately representing the areas under different crops —

Crops	Area in acres
Bhutta or Indian-corn	6,859.85
Wheat	815.7
Mustard	302.16
Phaphar or buckwheat (Fagopyrum esculentum)	537.02
Marwa (Eleusine coracana)	1,372.31
Paddy	93.63
Potato	43.06
Tea	8.51
Peas	7.14
Orange trees	.56
Cardamum	132.2
	10,172.14

The total area under cultivation has thus increased by nearly 36 per cent. since the time of the last settlement, when only 7,508 acres were cultivated.

The estimated average outturn and net profit per acre of some of the crops grown are as follows —

Outturn				Profit per acre.
Bhutta (Indian-corn)	from	3 to 8	maunds	From	Rs	2	to	Rs	12
Marwa (Eleusine coracana)	"	2 to 4	"	"	"	Nil	to	"	5
Phaphar or buckwheat	"	2½ to 3½	"	"	"	2-4	to	"	4-4
Wheat	"	1½ to 2½	"	"	"	1-8	to	"	6-8
Mustard	"	1 to 1½	"	"	Annas	6	to	"	2-6
Paddy	"	4 to 6	"	"	Rs	1-8	to	"	5-8

The greater part of the land is under Indian corn which yields the highest profit The condition of the raiyats is described as fair Those who have large holdings are well off, while those with smaller holdings supplement their income by working as coolies on the adjoining tea gardens. The Bhutia tenants deal in pigs and make a little by trading at spare times There can be no room for doubt that the raiyats of these khas mahals are well able to pay the moderate rents assessed

9 The existing leases provide for the payment of rent in two instalments in June and December, but bhutta (Indian-corn) which is the staple product is harvested in August, and marwa, the next most important crop, in December, and in practice the raiyats generally pay in December The Lieutenant-Governor approves therefore of the proposal of the Assistant Settlement Officer that, as sanctioned for Kalimpong, the 15th December should be fixed as the date by which the raiyats should pay in their rents, and the 15th January as the date on which the mandals should pay the Government revenue to the Tahsildar.

10 As regards the term of the settlement, the Commissioner is of opinion that on account of the considerable increase in the assessment, the settlement should be concluded for twenty years Having regard to orders recently received from the Government of India, the Lieutenant-Governor is unable to accept this recommendation His Honour is of opinion that the terms of the leases in the different mahals should be so fixed that they may all fall in on the 31st March 1906 A D

11 As regards the maintenance of the settlement records, the Settlement Officer proposes that, as in the Kalimpong Government estate, the Deputy Commissioner himself should correct the entries in the record on tour in November each year. As regards the Kalimpong estate, this system was sanctioned as a temporary measure, and has since been modified. The Lieutenant Governor will await a further report embodying the views of the present Deputy Commissioner of Darjeeling and the recommendations of the Commissioner as to the most suitable system for adoption in the West Tista khas mahals

12. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are due to Mr R. M Waller, Settlement Officer, and Babu Bijoy Krishna Bose, Assistant Settlement Officer, who have effected this settlement in a thorough and satisfactory manner.

ORDER —Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Gazette, and that a copy of it be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division

† Sir D Brandis is not on the staff of the College

[The arrangements hereinafter described are subject to revision under the orders of the Secretary of State for India]

1 The Royal Indian Engineering College is primarily maintained, under the orders of the Secretary of State for India in Council, for the education of candidates for the service of Government in the India Public Works, Telegraph, and Forest Departments, but it is open, to the extent of the accommodation available, to all persons desirous of following the course of study pursued in it

India Forest Department Appointments

2 The Examination usually takes place in June of each year

3 The number of candidates to be selected annually varies according to the requirements of the Forest Service in India, the figures as regards each particular year will be advertised from time to time In 1894 there will be six appointments offered for competition*

4 Candidates for the Indian Forest Department are selected under the following arrangements —

(a) An applicant must be a natural-born British subject, and must be above 17 and under 20 years of age on the 1st June of the year in which he competes for an appointment He must be unmarried and if he marries before reaching India he will forfeit his appointment

(b) An applicant must send † to the Revenue Department of the India Office, on or before the 1st day of May of the year in which he proposes to compete,—

(1) His name and parentage, a certificate or other satisfactory evidence of the date of his birth, and the written consent of parent or guardian that his name should be recorded as a candidate

(2) A statement of the places of education at which he may have been, accompanied by testimonials of good conduct, during the last four years

(c) Applicants will have to appear before a Medical Board ‡ at the India Office, particular stress being laid upon good vision and hearing A physical test will also be imposed, so as to ensure the selection of persons of active habits and powers of endurance

(d) The applicants who have successfully passed the medical examination and the physical test will be required to undergo an examination before the Civil Service Commissioners § in the following subjects ‖ (Classes I to III), marks being assigned as follows —

CLASS I —OBLIGATORY SUBJECTS ¶	Marks
1 Mathematics (lower), viz, Algebra up to and including the Binomial Theorem, the theory and the use of logarithms Euclid, Books I to IV and VI, Plane Trigonometry up to and including the solution of Triangles and Mensuration	2,500	In each of these subjects a candidate must obtain not less than one third of full marks in order to qualify
2 English composition	1,000
3 German (400 for colloquial)	2,000

* Probably the number of appointments will not exceed six annually, for some years to come

† There is no form of application, the documents specified in clauses (1) and (2) should be enclosed in a covering letter addressed to the Secretary, Revenue Department, India Office, London

‡ With a view to prevent parents and guardians from incurring the inconvenience and expense of preparing candidates who may be physically unfit for the Forest Service, it is suggested that, before any such preparation is begun, candidates be submitted to examination by the medical adviser of the family, or any other qualified medical practitioner, with regard to the following points —

1 A week constitution
2 Defective vision
3 Impaired hearing
4 The existence of any congenital defect.

It is to be understood that this private examination is merely suggested to lessen the chances of disappointment, and that it is by no means intended to take the place of, or to influence in any way, the official examination

On the subject of the standard of eyesight required for the Indian services a pamphlet has been published, under the authority of the Secretary of State in Council, by Messrs Churchill and Sons, 11 New Burlington Street

§ A fee of 4*l* is required which can be paid by means of a stamp of that amount Instructions on this point will be issued to candidates the day before the examination

‖ Reprints of the papers set at previous examinations, together with tables of the marks assigned to the candidates, are published by the Civil Service Commissioners, and can be obtained through any bookseller The price of each reprint is one shilling

¶ Attention is invited to the appended Syllabus, giving further details regarding the extent and character of the examination

CLASS II —OPTIONAL SUBJECTS *

No.	Subject	Marks
4	Mathematics (higher), including Analytical Geometry, Conic Sections, Statics and Dynamics	2,000	A candidate may take any two, but not more than two, of the optional subjects Under "Optional Subjects" Nos 9, 10, 11 and 12, the examination will be partly practical
5	French (400 for colloquial) . .	2,000
6	Latin . .	2,000
7	Greek	2,000
8	English History There will be set one general paper, one paper limited to a fixed period, which will be from the year 1727 to the year 1783 for the examination of 1894	2,000
9	Botany, viz, the elementary parts of vegetable morphology, histology and physiology, and the principles of a natural system of classification as illustrated by the more important British natural orders Candidates will be required to describe plants in technical language Questions will not be set on vegetable palæontology or on the geographical distribution of plants	2,000
10	Chemistry, viz, the elements of Inorganic Chemistry	2,000
11	Physics Elementary properties of Electricity, Magnetism, Heat, Light, and Sound .	2,000
12	Physical Geography and Geology, chiefly economic, including the recognition of the more familiar minerals and rocks, and their properties and uses ,	2,000

CLASS III —ADDITIONAL SUBJECTS

No.	Subject	Marks
13	Freehand Drawing	500	Either or both of these subjects may be taken in addition to the obligatory and the two optional subjects
1[illegible]	Geometrical Drawing	300

(c) From the competitors who attain the above-mentioned minima of marks in obligatory subjects, and satisfy the requisite conditions in other respects, the Secretary of State will select candidates, in order of merit, as probationers to enter the College, where they will be further trained for the Forest Service of India

(d) If the full number of competent probationers required in any year cannot be wholly from the persons so examined, the Secretary of State reserves a qualified to fill up the deficiency by selecting any other person or persons fy the authorities of the College that he or they are properly ne probationers for the Forest Service

5 The course of stu[illegible] candidates for the India Forest Service extends over about three years, divided into [illegible] terms During eight terms the candidates will prosecute their studies mainly at the [illegible] d during one term (the sixth) which may last for four or five months, they will [illegible] Excursions will also be made for purposes of instruction may be selected for the purpose both during term time and during part of the vacations The cost of all such tours or excursions is borne by the Secretary of State (see paragraph 9)

6 Each annual session begins in September, and is divided into three terms, with vacations of about four weeks at Christmas, two weeks at Easter, and eight weeks in the summer, except at the end of the visit to the Continent when the vacation will be shorter

7 A charge of 61*l* is made for each term except the sixth, for that term the charge is 90*l* for each student, the duration of the term being longer and the cost of students in the Continental forests being higher than for any other term the amounts must be paid terminally in advance to the Bank of England Receivable orders, with full directions as to the mode of payment, will be forwarded from the India Office to the parents or guardians shortly before the fees fall due A student will not be allowed to come into residence until his fee has been paid

8 A deposit of 5*l* is required to be paid by each student on admission to the College, as caution money, to cover charges incurred by him for damage to books, instruments, etc, or any College bills outstanding on leaving the College Any balance over and above such charges will be repaid This deposit is to be paid with the fee for the first term, making the total payment on that occasion 66*l*

9 The foregoing payments cover all charges for tuition, board according to the College tariff, lodging, with washing up to a cost of 2s a week, and ordinary medical attendance while in residence at the College When students are on tour and during the course of practical instruction, whether in Great Britain or on the Continent, the Secretary of State will defray the expenses of (1) board, lodging, and washing (the maximum expenditure on such account being 10s per diem), (2) travelling expenses, and (3) fees to local Forest officers, etc

Students are required to provide their own class books and drawing instruments Drawing paper, drawing boards, and surveying instruments are provided by the College

* Attention is invited to the appended Syllabus, giving further details regarding the extent and character of the examination

10. The prescribed course of study at present comprises the following subjects —

I —Auxiliary Subjects

1 Geometrical Drawing
2 Freehand Drawing
3 Surveying
4 Forest Engineering
5 Accounts
6 German
7 Mechanics
8 Physics
9 Chemistry
10 Geology and Mineralogy
11 Entomology
12 Botany
13 Drill and Gymnastics

II —Forestry, Theoretical and practical, in all its branches

11 Every student is required to conform to the College rules, to exhibit due diligence in his studies throughout the course, and to give evidence of satisfactory progress in such manner as may be required, failing which, or in the event of serious misconduct, he will be liable to be removed from the College, or to be sent back from the forest tour, which may entail the loss of his appointment.

12 During the course of study, the proficiency of the students will be tested by periodical examinations, and on the termination of their studies there will be a final examination Each student may also, at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India, be required to appear before the Medical Board at the expiration of the first year of residence at the College, and should the result be unsatisfactory he cannot claim to be allowed to complete the course

13 The subjects enumerated in paragraph 10 are grouped in certain main branches of study,* and a fixed minimum of qualification is required in each branch and in the subjects taught during the forest tours, as well as a certain minimum for all branches taken together. Students who obtain these minima will receive the College diploma in forestry

14 Candidates who have obtained this diploma and are found to be of sound constitution and free from physical defects which would render them unsuitable for employment in the Forest Department (the final decision on which points will rest with the Secretary of State for India), will be appointed Assistant Conservators in the Forest Department of India in the order of their standing at the end of the final examination They will be allowed before leaving the College to state their preference in respect to the Provinces to which they desire to be allotted, but the distribution will be made at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India, after consulting the President of the College and the Principal Professor of Forestry, to the several Provinces according to the needs of the public service The distribution will be made on the understanding that officers are at all times liable to be transferred from one province to another at the pleasure of the Government of India

15 Within a month of his nomination as Assistant Conservator, each nominee must sign articles of agreement describing the terms and conditions of his appointment, he must embark for India when required to do so by the Secretary of State, and will be provided with a free passage Failure to embark at the stated time will, in the absence of satisfactory explanation, lead to forfeiture of appointment

16 The pay of an Assistant Conservator of Forests will begin from the date of arrival in India Probationers who acquit themselves creditably during their course at Cooper's Hill College will begin on a salary of R350 a month It will, however, rest with the President of the College, in consultation with the Principal Professor of Forestry, to decide whether any of the probationers, though they have obtained the College diploma in Forestry, have failed to deserve that rate of initial salary Such probationers, if any, will begin on a salary of R250 a month, and this difference of salary will continue until the first departmental examination is passed in India

17 Promotion, leave, and pension will be regulated by the rules of the service for the time being The more favourable pension rules have recently been extended to Forest officers appointed from England, who are thus placed on an equality with Public Works officers appointed from Cooper's Hill College Any Forest officer, who has rendered not less than three years' approved service at head of his department, has also been made eligible for an extra pension of R1,000 per annum A copy of the Regulations relative to these matters can be seen on application either at the Library or the Record Department of the India Office the principal rules, however, are contained in the Abstract of the Civil Service Regulations, as given in the "India Office List," or the "India List," published respectively by Messrs Harrison and Sons, 59, Pall Mall, and Messrs W H Allen and Co, 13, Waterloo Place, S W, either of which can be procured through any bookseller

* For details see Royal Indian Engineering College Calendar

18 Every candidate, before proceeding to India, will be required to furnish to the President of the College satisfactory evidence of his competency in riding

GENERAL RULES

19 Chemical, physical, and botanical laboratories, a forestry museum, a forest nursery, a library, and gymnasium are attached to the College Means are also provided for the practice of photography Students making use of the laboratories are supplied with the needful apparatus

20 The responsibility for the discipline and management of the College and for the superintendence of the studies is vested in the President, under the control of the Secretary of State for India

21 The students are distributed in divisions, under personal charge of one of the Professors or Instructors selected by the President, such tutor being responsible for exercising the proper degree of personal supervision over each student in his division, and for conducting necessary correspondence with the student's parents or guardians

22 Each student residing in the College is provided with a separate room, and with fuel and light, also with the necessary attendance Furniture and bedding are supplied by the College, but students are required to provide their own towels and bed linen Meals are taken in hall Wine and beer are not included in the ordinary fare, but can be obtained from the College cellar at fixed prices

23 A chapel is attached to the College, which the students residing in the College are expected to attend, unless specially exempted

24 Every student will be required to go through a course of gymnastics and also of military exercises, including the use of the rifle

25 Students are required to wear academical dress, under such regulations as may be prescribed from time to time

Students not nominated for the Indian Forest Service, but desirous of obtaining a Diploma in Forestry from Cooper s Hill College

26 Students not nominated for the Indian Forest Service may be received into the College, as far as the available accommodation permits Such students may pass through the course of instruction prescribed for the nominees of the Indian Forest Service, as detailed above, or they may be permitted to participate in the instruction given in certain subjects only On attaining the prescribed minima of marks in the several branches of study and in totals as laid down above, they will receive, as the case may require, either the College diploma in Forestry or special certificates showing in what subjects they have followed the instruction, and with what result

27 Candidates who desire to be admitted under paragraph 26 may submit the necessary application at any time, but not later than the 15th day of June of the year named for admission, except with the special permission of the President The application must be made on the prescribed forms, which can be obtained from the Secretary of the College

28 Candidates whose applications are found satisfactory as to character and in other respects will be required to undergo an examination, to be held at the College, about the last week in June of the year for admission The object of the examination will be to ascertain whether the candidate is qualified to follow the course of instruction with advantage (or certain parts of it, as the case may be) Candidates who do not come up to the required standard will not be admitted to the College

The President may dispense with the whole or any portion of this examination in the case of a candidate who produces an University diploma, or other similar certificate granted by a recognized examining body

29 Candidates admitted to the College under paragraph 26, who propose to pass through the full prescribed course of study, will be required to pay the same fees in every respect as those paid by the nominees for the Indian Forest Service Candidates who do not become resident, and are admitted only to certain subjects of study, will be required to pay the fees which may be fixed in each special case in consideration of the extent of their studies The candidates of both classes will be required to abide by the general rules of the College

FOREST EXAMINATION

SYLLABUS

Showing the extent and character of the Forest Examination.

In a letter addressed to the Civil Service Commissioners on the subject of the examinations for admission into the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich, and the Royal

Military College, Sandhurst, the Director General of Military Education observes —"The main object to be borne in mind with reference to the Entrance Examination is to secure a youth who has had a thoroughly well grounded liberal education as an English gentleman Any curriculum which renders those who are unsuccessful unfit for other professions is greatly to be deprecated" The Regulations for the Forest Examination, which follow the lines of the Sandhurst Examination, are intended to provide a test that the candidates have received such an education as is indicated in these words By these Regulations certain of the subjects specified are prescribed as obligatory for all competitors, while, in the choice of the subjects described as optional, allowance is made for varieties of taste and inclination in each candidate In view of the influence which the Regulations must necessarily exercise on the education of candidates for admission to the public service the Civil Service Commissioners deem it expedient to specify, with more fulness than in the Regulations themselves, the character of the examination which the candidates will be called upon to undorgo

(OBLIGATORY SUBJECTS)

Mathematics —The extent of the examination will be as defined in the Regulations

English Composition —An Essay to be written on one of several subjects specified by the Civil Service Commissioners on their Examination Paper

German —There will be translations of unseen passages from German into English and from English into German, the knowledge of pronunciation will be tested by dictation and the vivâ voce examination The passages for translation will be taken mainly from standard authors (Schiller, Lessing, Alexander v Humboldt, Ranke, etc) and a few simple questions may be asked on the passages set, as to the structure and character of the language, and allusions of obvious and general interest

(OPTIONAL SUBJECTS)

Higher Mathematics —The extent of the examination will be as defined in the Regulations

Latin —Passages will be set for translation into English selected from the authors usually read in schools Passages from English authors will be given for translation into Latin prose and verse, but candidates will be allowed, in the place of verse composition, to answer questions of a simple character, which will test whether they possess a fundamental knowledge of the grammar of the language, and such an elementary acquaintance with Roman History as is required for the intelligent study of the books they have read

Greek —Passages will set for translation into English from the authors usually read in schools, and in other respects the examination will proceed on the same lines as in Latin

French —The passages for translation will be taken from standard authors (Corneille, Madame de Sévigné, Guizot, Taine, etc), and in other respects the examination will proceed on the same lines as in German

English History —The General Paper in this subject will test whether the candidates are accurately acquainted with the facts of English History, and also possess an intelligent knowledge of the meaning of the facts The paper on the fixed period will, of course, require from the candidates more minute knowledge than the General Paper

Botany, Chemistry, Physics, Physical Geography, and Geology —The standard of examination in these subjects will be such as may be reasonably expected from the education given at schools possessing appliances for practical instruction, such as a laboratory, etc. A considerable portion of the marks will be allotted for the proficiency shown in the practical part of the examination

GENERAL

Handwriting —In estimating the papers of candidates, a limited number of marks, namely, 100 out of the maximum allotted to each subject, is assigned for handwriting

Bengal	Assam
North Western Provinces and Oudh	Coorg
Punjab	Ajmere
Central Provinces	Andamans.
Burma	Hyderabad

ORDER —Ordered that a copy be forwarded, for information, to the Governments of Madras and Bombay, the Local Governments and Administrations noted in the margin, the Inspector-General of Forests, and the Comptroller and Auditor General.

Ordered, also, that a copy be forwarded to the Foreign Department for communication to the Agent to the Governor General in Baluchistan, and that these papers be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India

From—C E BUCKLAND Esq, Secretary to the Govt of Bengal, Revenue Dept,
To—R A LYALL, Esq, on behalf of the Silk Committee

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No 468, dated the 26th February 1894, with enclosure, stating that Rao Jogendra Narayan Roy of Lalgola, in the district of Murshidabad, has contributed Rs 1,200 in addition to a similar donation which he made last year in aid of the silk experiments which are now being carried on at Alipore in the 24-Parganas, and suggesting that his liberality should be acknowledged by Government in a suitable way

2 In reply, I am to request the Silk Committee to be so good as to convey to Rao Jogendra Narayan Roy the thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor for his liberal contributions for the encouragement of the silk industry I am to add that the correspondence on the subject will be published in the next issue of the Calcutta Gazette.

No 468, dated Calcutta, the 26th February 1894

From—R A LYALL, Esq, on behalf of the Silk Committee,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal Revenue Department

WITH reference to the Silk Committee's letter to you, dated 5th June 1893, No 1634 (copy of which I enclose for convenience of reference), I have been requested by the Committee to inform you that Rao Jogendra Narayan Roy of Lalgola, Murshidabad, has again forwarded to them a donation of Rs 1,200 towards the silk experiments now being carried on at Alipore

This further instance of liberality on the part of the Rao may, the Committee venture to hope, be considered worthy of some notice on the part of Government, the more so, that his action is entirely voluntary The Committee did not even know the name of the Rao when his first donation was forwarded

No 1634, dated Calcutta, the 5th June 1893

From—The Members of the Silk Committee,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department

ON behalf of the Silk Committee, we beg to bring to the notice of Government the very liberal action of Rao Jogendra Narayan Ray of Lalgola, Murshidabad

This gentleman having, we presume, heard of the efforts of the Silk Committee to improve the breed of cocoons in Bengal, voluntarily presented the Committee with Rs 1,200 last year, and has promised a similar donation in the current year

It is very encouraging to find that the great importance of the possible results of the Silk Committee's work is realised by the abovenamed gentleman We believe that few do realise what an incalculable benefit to the population of the silk districts, and to the silk trade of Bengal, the result of the experiments now being made would be, if brought to a successful issue, and the Committee therefore think it right to bring to the notice of Government this instance of intelligent liberality on the part of Rao Jogendra Narayan Roy

Explanation.— indicates that no rain has fallen If the return for any day has not been received the corresponding space is left blank If any of the returns are wanting the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank With reference to the column of rainy days the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·10 inch of rain has fallen

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A M, SATURDAY, THE 3RD OF MARCH 1894

Abnormal meteorological conditions obtained over the province at the close of the previous week, and rather numerous local storms with rain were reported in many districts on the morning of the 24th of February, or the last day of the previous week On the 25th pressure fell considerably over parts of Central Bengal, Bihar and Chota Nagpur, and a decided depression was formed over that area where pressure was below the normal by nearly a tenth of an inch Hence winds became southerly over a large part of the province, and high temperature and humidity prevailed Rather disturbed weather existed in and near the hills of North Bengal, in East Bengal, and in Assam, and fairly heavy rain fell over these areas during local storms On the 26th the low pressure area had advanced in an easterly direction and stretched between Saugor Island and Purnea Weather on this day in Bengal was rather less disturbed than it had been and only a few light showers were reported, principally in North Bengal and Assam In other respects conditions were unchanged On the 27th the low pressure area still existed over Bengal, weather became rather more generally disturbed, and local storms with rain were rather numerous On the 28th these conditions remained practically unchanged, pressure being decidedly low, and southerly winds blowing over the province, giving decidedly disturbed weather and numerous local storms with rain On the 1st of March pressure had given way rapidly in Bengal the fall equalling in some cases about a seventh of an inch, and a very influential barometric depression was formed over the western half of the province, while the differences of pressure over the Bay became considerable Local storms with rain were therefore again numerous, and rather strong southerly winds were blowing at the head of the Bay On the 2nd of March a further fall of pressure took place over the greater part of Bengal, and the depression moved somewhat in an easterly direction, and at some stations pressure was a fifth of an inch below the normal Again local storms with rain were numerous, and in some cases they were severe, and Barisal reported 3 55 inches during a thunderstorm with hail Madaripur in the Faridpur district also registered 4 70 inches of rain, Gournadi (Backergunge district) 3 18 inches, Ramganj (Noakhali district) 4 65 inches, Mirsarai (Chittagong district) 5 82 inches, and Rangamati 3 72 inches On the 3rd March a rather brisk fall of pressure had again occurred in Bengal, and pressure became in defect by amounts ranging up to 0 285 inch at Malda Disturbed conditions therefore continued, and several heavy falls of rain accompanying local storms were reported, Rangamatia receiving the very heavy fall of 7 52 inches With this pressure distribution also strong southerly winds were blowing over the province from the Bay, bringing up much moisture, while temperature was also generally in excess by about 3°

Practically, therefore, throughout the week conditions have been disturbed and unsettled, and rather numerous local storms with rain have occurred in all districts, the falls being decidedly heavy in East Bengal

Pressure—Has been extremely low practically throughout the week, and the general defect has equalled from 0 11 inch to about 0 14 inch, and this defect has been fairly equally distributed in all districts.

Temperature—The mean temperature of the whole province for the past week has been 1 1° above the normal, but this excess has been unequally distributed, and excess amounts of two to two and a half degrees have been registered in South-West Bengal and Orissa, and very small excess amounts only in East and North Bengal

The actual temperatures registered during the week, and their variations from the normal temperature for the present season, are most clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in the Province are compared with the normal values for the same period The day or maximum readings for the week have indeed shown a slightly lower temperature than usual, and the defect at the nine stations in the maximum or day temperature has equalled 1 6°, while in the night or minimum temperature the excess has averaged 1 1° only —

Rainfall—The heavy average rainfall of 2 95 inches has been registered in East Bengal during the week, which is six times the usual amount for the period North Bengal has also received 0 34 inch, or nearly three times as much as usual On the other hand, in South-West Bengal, Bihar and Orissa the falls have only averaged a tenth of an inch, and in Chota Nagpur the fall has been only 0 04 inch

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 3rd of March 1894 —

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory) The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore 003 lower The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 2 1 lower, and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0 6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory

The mean pressure, temperature, &c , are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India

BY DR GEO WATT, C I E,

Reporter on Economic Products

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department

The first five volumes and Vol VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing No 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta and will be supplied to non subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, or which a separate charge will be made) packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume, for England, Rs 2 6 per volume For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral, each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names, habitat or source, history, properties and uses (both chemical and industrial), trade statistics, markets, &c The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages, Vol II embraces the letter C in 689 pages Vol III contains the letters D E, F and half of G Vol IV latter half of G to middle of L and Vol V contains the latter half of L to end of O Vol VI which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R The whole work will it is expected be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped may prove of considerable value

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 2nd March, 1894, and is hereby promulgated for general information —

ACT No V OF 1894

An Act to amend the Code of Civil Procedure

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, It is hereby enacted as follows —

Title and commencement

1 (1) This Act may be called the Civil Procedure Code Amendment Act, 1894, and

(2) It shall come into force at once

Addition of new section after section 310 of Code

2 After section 310 of the Code of Civil Procedure the following shall be inserted, namely —

Application by judgment debtor to set aside sale on deposit of debt

"310A Any person whose immoveable property has been sold under this Chapter may at any time within thirty days from the date of sale apply to have the sale set aside on his depositing in Court—

(a) for payment to the purchaser, a sum equal to five per centum of the purchase-money, and

(b) for payment to the decree-holder, the amount specified in the proclamation of sale as that for the recovery of which the sale was ordered, less any amount which may, since the date of such proclamation of sale, have been received by the decree holder

"If such deposit is made within the thirty days, the Court shall pass an order setting aside the sale

Provided that, if a person applies under the next following section to set aside the sale of his immoveable property, he shall not be entitled to make an application under this section

"Nothing in this section shall be construed to relieve the judgment debtor from any liability he may be under in respect of costs and interest not covered by the proclamation of sale"

Amendment of section 315 of Code

3 In section 315 of the Code of Civil Procedure the figures and letter "310A" shall be inserted after the word "section" and before the figures "312"

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 1st March, 1894 —

No 4 OF 1894.

CONTENTS

A Bill to amend the law relating to Customs-duties, and for other purposes

Preamble

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to the duties of customs on goods imported and exported by sea, and to provide for the levy of duties on goods crossing the frontier of certain Foreign European Settlements in India and of the territories of certain Native Chiefs,

It is hereby enacted as follows —

Short title

1 This Act may be called the Indian Tariff Act, 1894

Local extent Commencement

It extends to the whole of British India except Aden and Perim, and it shall come into force on the passing thereof

Repeal of Act

2 The Acts mentioned in the first schedule are repealed to the extent specified therein

But all notifications published, and rules and orders made, under any of such Acts, and now in force, shall, so far as they are consistent herewith, be deemed to have been respectively published and made hereunder

Saving clause

All references made to the Indian Tariff Act, 1875, and the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, in Acts or Regulations passed before this Act comes into force, shall be deemed to be made to this Act

And nothing herein contained authorizes the levy of duties of customs on any article carried from one port in British India to another, except salt, opium and spirit

3 There shall be levied and collected, in every port to which this Act applies, the duties specified in the second, third, fourth and fifth schedules hereto annexed

Duties specified in schedules to be levied

4 On all pepper exported by sea from the port of Cochin there shall be levied such duty not exceeding nine rupees per khandi as the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council from time to time determines, and at the close of each year, or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, the Customs-Collector at the said port shall, after deducting the expenses of collection, pay the duty collected under this section to the Governments of Travancore and Cochin in such proportion and in such manner as the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council from time to time directs

Export of pepper from Cochin

5 Duties of customs shall be levied at the rates respectively prescribed in the second, third, fourth and fifth schedules hereto annexed on goods passing by land out of or into—

Duties on goods crossing frontiers—

(a) Foreign European Settlements bordering on any part of the territories administered by the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council or by the Governor of Bombay in Council, of Foreign European Settlements in Presidencies of Madras and Bombay

(b) any territory declared, under the power next hereinafter conferred, to be foreign territory of foreign territory

Subject to the control of the Governor General in Council, the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council and the Governor of Bombay in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the local official Gazette, respectively declare that the territory of any Native Chief situate within, or bordering on, the territories respectively administered by such Governors, but not subject to the jurisdiction of the Courts and Civil authorities of such territories, shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to be foreign territory

Power to declare territory foreign

The Governor General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare that the territory of any other Native Chief shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to be foreign territory

6 In Act No XVI of 1863, section 1, for the words "calculated at ten" the words "not exceeding five" shall be substituted

Amendment of Act XVI, 1863, section 1

7 Spirit, opium and salt imported from any port in British India, and protected by the certificate of an officer empowered in that behalf by the Governor General in Council or the Local Government, are chargeable with only the amount, if any, by which the duty leviable thereon under the second schedule hereto annexed exceeds the duty shown by such certificate to have been already paid in respect thereof

Duty on spirit, opium and salt when protected by a certificate

The amount, if any, paid to the Government as the price of such opium or salt is not duty within the meaning of this section

Nothing in this section applies to spirit which is exported under bond for excise duty from one customs-port to another customs port under the provisions of Chapter XIV of the Sea Customs Act, 1878

8 So far as regards the Presidency of Fort Saint George the unrepealed provisions of Act No VI of 1844, and so far as regards the Presidency of Bombay, the unrepealed provisions of Act No XXIX of 1857, relating to the levy of duties and to dutiable goods, shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to duties levied and goods liable to duty under or by virtue of section 5, clause (b)

Application of certain provisions as to duties and goods

9 All notifications published hereunder may be cancelled by the authority publishing the same

Power to cancel notifications

10 In the event of any duty of customs or excise on any article being imposed, increased, decreased or remitted after the making of any contract for the sale of such article without stipulation as to the payment of duty where duty was not chargeable at the time of the making of the contract, or for the sale of such article duty-paid where duty was chargeable at that time,—

When contracts have been entered into, amount of increased or decreased duty to be added or deducted

(a) if such imposition or increase so takes effect that the duty, or increased duty, as the case may be, is paid, the seller may add so much to the contract price as will be equivalent to the duty or increase of duty, and he shall be entitled to be paid and to sue for and recover such addition, and

(b) if such decrease or remission so takes effect that the decreased duty only or no duty, as the case may be, is paid, the purchaser may deduct so much from the contract-price as will be equivalent to the decrease of duty or remitted duty, and he shall not be liable to pay or be sued for or in respect of such deduction

11 In the first line of the 2nd paragraph of section 23 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, the words "with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council" shall be inserted after the word "may"

Amendment of Act VIII of 1878, s 23, 2nd paragraph

SCHEDULE V —(EXPORT TARIFF)

Name of Article	Rate of duty
RICE, WHETHER HUSKED OR UNHUSKED, INCLUDING RICE-FLOUR	Three annas per Indian maund of 82⅔ lb avoirdupois weight

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

THE embarrassed condition of the finances, and the certainty that the accounts of the present year and the estimates of the year 1894-95 show a heavy deficit, have placed the Government under the necessity of reducing expenditure so far as reduction is possible and of raising a larger revenue to meet the cost of administration

It has accordingly been decided to increase the revenue by the imposition of indirect taxation in the form of import duties, and the present Bill practically reimposes the Tariff Schedule of 1875, with some exceptions, of which the most important is the omission of duties on Cotton Yarn and Goods.

ALLEGED ILLEGAL ORDER AFTER ACQUITTAL

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

Has the attention of Government been called to the case of Probhat Chunder Nag of Baudea, in the Dacca district, in which the said Probhat Chunder was convicted in April or May last of an offence under section 174 of the Indian Penal Code, for non-attendance in obedience to an order from a public servant, and sentenced to simple imprisonment for two weeks and a fine of Rs 200, by Babu Khettor Gopal Roy, Deputy Magistrate of Tipperra, (2) whether there is any truth in the report published in the newspapers that the prosecution against Probhat Chunder was revived by the District Magistrate contrary to law, after the said Probhat Chunder had been discharged, such discharge in a summons case having the force of an acquittal, (3) whether the District Magistrate, who was not trying the case, had recorded an order to the effect that the Deputy Magistrate was not to pass final orders without letting him (the District Magistrate) know of it, (4) whether this order is to be found in the order sheet with the records of the case, and (5) whether the Deputy Magistrate before passing sentence said in open Court —

"The District Magistrate does not consider a fine to be an adequate punishment in a case like this"?

Will the Government make an enquiry into the aforesaid allegations and lay the result of such enquiry on the table?

The Hon'ble MR COTTON replied —

"The answer to the first part of the question is yes the attention of Government was drawn to the case by an article which appeared in the Bengalī newspaper in September last, and an enquiry was then made into the facts

"The answer to the second part of the question is No it is not the fact that the prosecution against the person referred to was revived contrary to law

"With regard to the other questions, I have to say that the Officiating Lieutenant-Governor did not at the time consider that the matter called for further notice, and the Government is not now prepared to re-open the subject"

HARASSMENT OF VILLAGERS BY SOWARS

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

Is the Government aware that, notwithstanding any action the local authorities may have taken, the mounted Sowars of the 8th Bengal Cavalry still continue to harass the people of Moheshtolah and the neighbouring villages in the 24-Parganas by cutting and taking away by force ooloo grass, sugarcane, &c, belonging to the villagers, and that, notwithstanding the action of the local authorities, these proceedings have been repeated from year to year for some time past, and that in former years the raiyats had sometimes taken the law into their own hands?

Whether, under these circumstances, the Government will order an enquiry to be made into the truth of the above allegations, and take such action as may be deemed necessary to prevent a recurrence of these proceedings?

The Hon'ble MR COLLIER replied —

"In December last I received a petition from certain villagers that the Cavalry grass-cutters had cut some ooloo grass of theirs, this was investigated and there was reason to believe it was true. I therefore communicated with the Officer Commanding the Cavalry, and he undertook to give orders preventing the recurrence of anything of the sort. Since then no further complaint has been made to me, and I am not aware that any further occasion for complaint has arisen. As far as I have been able to ascertain, the petition referred to is the only complaint of the kind received from the inhabitants of the locality in question. If any persons are aggrieved they must know that they will obtain redress by laying their complaint before the Officer in charge of the Sadar sub division or before myself as Magistrate of the district"

MUNICIPAL GRANTS TO ENGLISH SCHOOLS.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

Will the Government lay on the table a statement showing the grants made by municipalities (excluding Calcutta) to English schools in Bengal for the last five years, the grant for each year being shown separately?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied —

"The answer to this question will be found in columns 7, 8 and 19 of Appendix I to the Resolution on the working of the Bengal Municipalities for 1892-93, and in corresponding statements in those for previous years Those Resolutions have been published in the Government Gazette, and are obtainable by the public. The figures are as follows —

	Rs
1888 89	48,360
1889-90	47,121
1891 92	53,947
1892 93	31,480"

ALLEGED EMBEZZLEMENT OF MUNICIPAL FUNDS

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

(a) Is it a fact that from 1884 to 1890, while the administration of the Dinajpur Municipality was in the hands of the Magistrate-Chairman, the Examiner of Local Accounts had occasion very frequently to find fault with the accounts of the Municipality, and to draw the attention of the municipal authorities to the laxity and inefficiency of supervision in respect of the accounts?

(b) Is it a fact that before and without making a thorough enquiry into the defects pointed out by the Examiner of Local Accounts, some of the documents essential to such an enquiry were destroyed as useless record, owing to which the enquiry that was instituted by the non-official administration of the Municipality in 1891 could not be carried back by the Local Auditors beyond April, 1890?

(c) Is the Government aware that as the result of this enquiry a sum of money, amounting to about Rs 1,500, has been reported by the Examiner of Local Accounts to have been embezzled by the late Tax-Daroga of the Municipality within the space of about 15 months from April, 1890, to July, 1891?

(d) Is the said Tax-Daroga now in Government service, employed in the Police Department, notwithstanding that a special Committee, appointed by the Commissioner of the Division to enquire as to his fitness to remain in Government service, recorded a finding against him, one member alone dissenting from such finding?

(e) Will the Government enquire into the above allegations and take such action as may be necessary to secure the Municipality against the loss which it has sustained?

The Hon'ble MR BOURDILLON replied —

"The Government has no information on the subjects mentioned by the hon'ble member in clauses a, b, c and d of his question In reply to the last clause, I have to say that the Government will not order an enquiry into these matters, as the law places them within the cognisance of the Commissioner of the Division."

LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE ACT, 1893, AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. COTTON presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend Bengal Act I of 1893 (Licensed Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act). He said —

"It is a matter of great satisfaction that the Committee on this Bill have been able to present a unanimous report. We discussed the provisions of this amending measure very fully and carefully amongst ourselves, and I must say that it is mainly in consequence of the conciliatory attitude assumed by the Member of this Council who represents the Chamber of Commerce and the important jute interest, which is more materially affected by the provisions of the Bill, that we were able to come to so satisfactory a conclusion. The Council are aware that the necessity for amending the Licensed Warehouse and Fire-Brigade Act, which existed last year, was due to the fact that for many years past the whole cost of the fire-brigade had been borne by the jute industry in Calcutta, and not only the whole cost of the brigade, but a considerable sum besides, which was, with the permission of Government, appropriated by the Corporation of Calcutta for general municipal purposes It was a great grievance with the jute industry that they should be so charged, and it was to relieve them of what was recognised by the Government as a legitimate grievance that Act I of 1893 was passed The object of the Act was to apportion the burden of bearing the cost of the fire-brigade partly upon the general ratepayers, and partly upon the owners and occupiers of warehouses in which specially inflammable materials are stored It was hoped that the law would come into force from the beginning of the year which is now drawing to a close, but there was some unavoidable delay in the Bill passing into law, and as a matter of fact, the commencement of the law dates from the 28th of June last Therefore, it is that the jute industry is liable to pay the whole cost of the fire brigade up to that date only But, as I explained to this Council at our last meeting, practical difficulties exist in giving effect to the intention of the Legislature, and it was found necessary to introduce the present amending Bill, which declares that the jute industry shall continue to pay, during the whole of the current year, the cost of the fire-brigade, in other words, licenses will be taken out for the current year on payment of the same fees as were leviable under the old Act The jute industry of Calcutta have met the Government in a very friendly manner on this occasion, and no objection has been raised by them to the amendment which the present Bill proposes

"In regard to the changes introduced by the Select Committee, I need not detain this Council long We thought it undesirable that there should be any mention in the licenses of paying by instalments It was thought desirable that the payment of the fees should in all cases be made in advance, and as the payment of the fee is a condition under which licenses are granted, the effect of the change which the present amending Bill introduces is that the payment of the fees shall be a condition precedent to the grant of the license This was agreed to by all members of the Select Committee as tending to facilitate administration Then we have introduced a small amendment in section 5 of the existing Act in order to protect the interests of old warehouses, the owners or occupiers of which are entitled to obtain licenses from the Commissioners on payment of the fees prescribed As the law stands, this privilege would be granted only to warehouses in existence at the commencement of this Act, but owing to the fact that in many instances the licenses of old warehouses have not been granted during the current year, and therefore were not in existence on the 28th June last, it was thought necessary to introduce a verbal modification into section 5 in order to protect those old warehouses and give them the privileges which the law provides. Then we have thought it proper, in order to protect the interest of the Municipal Commissioners, to suspend the repeal of section 347 of Act II of 1888 and section 261 of Act III of 1884, until the close of the current financial year. By Act I of 1893 it is not only warehouses in which jute is stored that become liable to assessment under the Fire-Brigade Act, but many other commodities will be stored in warehouses for which licenses will have to be taken out under that Act. Many of these commodities are now taxed by the Commissioners under the sections of the Municipal law which empower the Commissioners to impose taxes upon obnoxious trades and dangerous professions. This power of special taxation has been withdrawn by the Fire-Brigade Act, but as the Act in regard to the assessment and levy of fees will not take effect until the 1st of April next, it was thought fair and reasonable, in the interests of the Commissioners, that they should continue to exercise the special powers they possess under the Municipal Acts for the whole of the present year.

"Lastly, the Select Committee, after considerable deliberation, agreed to omit section 23 of the Draft Bill as presented to the Council. That section, you will remember, was proposed in order to give the Government power to insist upon the Commissioners making payment of any sum due from them in the event of their default The reasons why it was thought necessary to introduce that section were explained by me at our last meeting, and these reasons, as far as they go, still exist But it was represented at our discussions that the provisions of section 64 of the Bengal Municipalities Act already sufficiently empowered the Government to insist upon Mufassal Municipalities paying in money demands due from them to the Government That undoubtedly is the case. In regard to the Calcutta Municipality, the Government has, under the existing law, no such powers, and in the Bill as originally drafted that power would have been given to it But it was urged that there was no reason to suppose that the Calcutta Municipality would be likely to fail in its duty, or to neglect to make payments imposed upon it by law Now it seemed to the Committee that this was a reasonable contention to take up It is not the case that the Calcutta Municipality has ever failed to meet any pecuniary demand which has been made upon it by the Local Government, and I do not think that this Council is justified in assuming that there will be any similar default in future We were assured in Select Committee by the Hon'ble Member who represents the Municipality in this Council that there would be no risk whatever of such failure or neglect For my part I too am inclined to believe that such will never be the case, but if there be such failure or neglect, then the Government will know how to act, and it will become necessary to resort to legislation for the purpose I trust, therefore, that the Council will agree to the omission of this section from the Bill now laid before it The Select Committee considered the question very carefully, and with some hesitation it was agreed to omit it, but eventually our view on the subject was unanimous I need not trouble the Council with any further remarks in regard to this small measure I trust it will be accepted by this Council without demur and without objection, and that, as the measure is urgent, in the interests of this Municipality and in the interests of the public, it will be found possible to pass it at this meeting of the Council "

The Hon'ble MR COTTON moved that the Report of the Select Committee be taken into consideration by the Council, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee He said —

" I have so fully discussed these clauses in the speech which I have just made in laying the Report of the Select Committee on the table that I think it unnecessary to trouble the Council with any further observations "

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said —" I observe that there are no amendments on the List of Business proposed by any member with regard to any sections of the Bill Under the rules we can either discuss the Bill, clause by clause, or we can take the Bill as a whole If any hon'ble member wishes to discuss the clauses of the Bill separately or to discuss any clause in particular, I shall be prepared to meet his view, otherwise, I propose to put the motion that the Bill be passed at once. There being no desire for discussion, I put the motion that the Bill as amended by the Select Committee, be passed into law "

The Motion was put and agreed to.

BENGAL SANITARY DRAINAGE BILL

The Hon'ble MR LYALL moved that the Bill to facilitate the construction of drainage works for improving the sanitary condition of local areas be referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble MESSRS ALLEN and COLLIER, the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE, the Hon'ble MR GHOSE, the Hon'ble MAULVIS SERAJUL ISLAM and SYED FAZL IMAM, the Hon'ble MAHARAJA JAGADINDRA NATH ROY OF NATOR and the Mover

The Hon'ble MR GHOSE said —" I venture to think that this is a somewhat hasty and ill-considered measure, and that it should not be further proceeded with until ample opportunity has been given to the public to express their views on it It is a Bill which, if passed into law, would vitally affect the interests of all those who have anything to do with the land, from the zamindar down to the cultivating tenant It is proposed to throw the entire cost of these experiments upon land-holders and cultivating tenants, although it is obvious that if these drainage works be as satisfactory and beneficial as you expect them to be, their benefits will not be confined to the classes that have been singled out for taxation, but will be shared in by the general population Under these circumstances, I should have expected that some opportunity would have been given to the classes interested to submit their views to the Government before it undertook to legislate in this direction. But the only prelude of the Bill was, as we were told by the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill, the Conference known as the Belvedere Conference, which was composed certainly of gentlemen for whom I have the highest respect, but who, with the solitary exception of Rajah Peary Mohun Mookerjee, could not be said to represent the landed interest upon which the whole burden was sought to be cast It is, therefore, quite clear that the landed classes were conspicuous by their absence from that Conference, and that the only member of their body who was present dissented then and there from the conclusions which were arrived at I think that under these circumstances they are entitled justly to complain that great issues affecting their interests have been decided virtually behind their backs and without giving them a hearing

"But be that as it may, I desire to offer one or two observations in regard to the general character of the proposals made in this Bill It provides for the carrying out of drainage works whenever the Local Government may have reason to believe that the sanitary condition of any local area may be improved by drainage I certainly gratefully appreciate, if I may be permitted to say so, the humane and beneficent object which the Government has in view, but nevertheless I shall be compelled to oppose the Bill as it stands at present No one will deny for one moment that a very virulent type of malarial fever is prevalent over large areas in Lower Bengal, and that the sanitary condition of many of those districts demands the serious attention of the Government, but we are no longer on such firm ground when we come to consider the causes which have led to a state of things which we all deplore, and the remedial measures which it may be desirable or expedient to adopt For my part I freely admit that I am convinced, so far as I am competent to form an opinion on the subject, that defective drainage, or rather obstructions to the natural drainage system of the country, are greatly responsible for the origin of this epidemic fever Any measure, therefore, which has for its object the restoration of the natural drainage system of the country must command my cordial support But this Bill is entirely silent as regards the nature of the drainage works which are in contemp'ation Is it surface drainage of the villages only, in which case I entirely agree, or is it subsoil drainage of the maidans, paddy-fields, and bheels? Do you intend to act upon the lines indicated by the late Rajah Degambur Mitter, and to maintain unimpaired and unobstructed the natural drainage system of the Gangetic delta, from the villages to the arable lands, from paddy-fields to bheels, and from the bheels through khalls and water-courses to the navigable rivers which are their natural outfall That was the position of the late Rajah Degambur Mitter, his theory was at the time very strongly combated and opposed by professional experts, but it is the only theory which at the present time holds the field, and if the Government contemplate nothing further than that, then I venture to say not a single voice will be raised against the proposal But, as I have said, this Bill is very vague, it gives the Council no idea as to the nature of the schemes which may be carried out under it.

"There are other schemes of a less desirable character which may be covered by this Bill. Is it intended, for instance, to give effect to the recommendations of Mr. Adley in 1869, upon which the Government of the day placed considerable reliance when legislating on the subject in 1871 and in 1880, is it intended to follow up those recommendations and to embark upon such gigantic, costly, unpractical and mischievous enterprises as the subsoil drainage of maidans, paddy-fields and swamps, of which there are so many in every district in Bengal, which have existed ever since the formation of the Gangetic delta, and which throughout all these centuries have never produced the results which were attributed to them. No doubt there must be a certain amount of unhealthiness in certain seasons of the year in a country like Lower Bengal, hon'ble members are aware that almost he whole of Lower Bengal is more or less a swamp dotted and interspersed with villages lying upon comparatively higher ground, and that some unhealthiness should prevail in such a country immediately after the close of the rains is one of those normal climatic conditions from which there is absolutely no escape. The resources of science cannot succeed in altering the immutable laws of nature, nor can any amount of engineering skill succeed in transforming the climate of Bengal into anything like that of Europe. I am fully prepared to concede that the present Government has no such Quixotic scheme in view, but if this Bill is passed in its present form, what is there to prevent any future administration from giving effect to such recommendations? It is difficult to see, it is impossible to predict what the sanitary fad of the future may be You have tried many experiments in the past, and all those experiments have signally failed. For a number of years you waged a ceaseless war against jungle, shrubs, bamboo topes, aquatic plants, tanks and bheels, and what has been the result of all that misdirected energy? Total, dismal failure! While you succeeded in causing an indefinite amount of hardship and annoyance to the people, and serious mischief in some cases, such as the removal of aquatic plants from tanks and bheels, as has been t. rdily acknowledged by medical experts History has a tendency to repeat itself, and I am, therefore, reluctant to support a vague enactment of th s kind under which it may be open to any future administration to embark upon a series of costly enterprises fruitful not of benefit, but of mischief on the recommendation of some over-zealous district officer or some engineer burning to distinguish himself, more especially when I observe that it is proposed to throw the entire burden of the cost of the scheme upon the land-holders and raiyats who are to have no voice in the matter, while the Government do not propose to make any contribution towards the expense

"There is another point in connection with this matter to which I wish to draw attention. There is absolutely no provision in the Bill so far as I have been able to see, giving any voice or option whatever to the holders of estates or raiyats, or a majority of them Now I find that in the previous legislation on the subject, to which I have referred in another connection, namely, the first Drainage Act which was passed in the year 1871 (Act V), no action could be taken under the Act unless at least a moiety of proprietors concerned had signified their assent Again, in the year 1880, in Act VI of that year, it was expressly provided that the Drainage Commissioners were to obtain the assent in writing of one-half of the holders of estates before adopting any such scheme No such provision is made in this Bill All that it provides for is this, that the previous assent of the District Board is required That, I submit, most respectfully is a different thing altogether The District Board may consist wholly or largely of nominated members, and it may not represent the raiyats or land-holders of the area concerned On these grounds, I believe that the absence of any option to the whole area is a distinctly backward and retrograde step

"I shall say one word more, and that is in reference to the financial proposals contained in the Bill

"These proposals in regard to taxation seem to me, if I may say so respectfully, to be altogether unsound and indefensible Before proceeding further, I would ask your Honour's permission to read a short extract from the Appendix to the Report of the Epidemic Commission, which gives facts as to these obstructions.

"The Report says —

'The obstructions appear to have arisen chiefly from roads, and partly from embankments thrown up across khals for the purpose of fisheries In like manner, the Eastern Bengal Railway and its feeders, when the same have crossed the water-courses of the villages lying on the eastern bank of the river Hooghly, and of others more inland, but situated to the west of the lines, have obstructed the drainage of those places, the fall of the villages lying on the eastern bank of the Hooghly, as I have before observed, being towards the east, and consequently Chogdah, Kanchrapara, Halisohur, and many similarly situated have suffered I may here remark that the face of the country being perfectly flat, the drainage runs over the whole surface towards the direction of its slope, and consequently roads running transversely to it must of necessity intercept the drainage But the East Indian and Eastern

Bengal Railways are provided with capacious viaducts, wherever they have crossed, what appeared to the eye as water-courses; but these are in reality khals and other large streams which, as I have already observed, received the drainage in its flow from the villages over paddy-fields and bheels'

"If this statement correctly represents the facts, it does seem to me to be utterly unjust to throw the whole or even a large portion of the cost of restoring the natural drainage system of the country on those who are not responsible for these obstructions, and who have themselves been victims of virulent malarial fever, which has been caused by the action of other parties It seems to me indisputable that railway embankments, district roads, and railway feeders, so many of which have sprung up of recent years, are really responsible for these obstructions. It is also clear from this report that sometimes zamindars and raiyats are responsible for damming up khals and water-courses either for retaining water in the paddy-fields or for fishing purposes, and under these circumstances it seems that the only fair and equitable course is that the State should make a substantial contribution, that the Railway Companies who are so largely answerable for this state of things should also be made to contribute according to their responsibilities, and that private parties who have caused obstruction should come in for their fair share of the cost of removing the obstruction, and if after all this it is proposed to supplement the fund by levying a rate upon land-holders and raiyats, I believe they will be patriotic enough to assent to such taxation without much murmur But I venture to think that the Bill as it stands is open to very serious objections on the grounds I have briefly indicated, and which I feel bound to point out I invite the Council respectfully so to shape its legislation that you may be able to carry public opinion along with you, that your laws may command a willing obedience, and that they may be welcomed by those for whom you are legislating. With these observations, Sir, if I am not out of order, I beg to move that, with the view of giving an opportunity to the public to express their opinion on the subject, this Bill be referred to the Select Committee this day, three months."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA JAGADINDRA NATH ROY OF NATOR said —"I entirely agree with MR GHOSE in thinking that the Bill in its present form should not be referred to the Select Committee to-day I should like, however, to say one or two words with regard to the financial aspect of the question The Bill provides that the zamindars will in the first instance have to pay the whole cost of the drainage works, and also that year after year they will have to pay a certain amount for the drainage and repair of those works This seems to me to be rather inequitable, and it also seems to me to be to a certain extent an encroachment upon the permanent settlement, therefore it seems to me undesirable that this Bill in its present form should be referred to a Select Committee, and that it is desirable that sufficient time should be allowed to the public to express their opinion upon it."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said —"I rise not to stand in the way of the amendment moved by my hon'ble friend I think that in a matter of this kind public discussion is of the greatest possible importance At the same time, speaking for myself, it is impossible for me to approach this Bill without feeling grateful to the Government for the benevolent intentions by which it was actuated in framing and introducing into this Council a measure of this kind Opinions may differ with regard to the details of the measure. I myself have some objections in that direction. We may object to the financial clauses of the Bill, we may object to the proposal to levy a cess on the people, we may argue that in the present circumstances of the people, having regard to the heavy burden of taxation they have already to meet—a burden which is likely to be added to in the near future in view of the demands of the Imperial Government—it will savour almost of criminality to impose an additional cess on the people, even for so necessary a purpose as that of sanitation. Some of us may hold that the assent or the dissent of the District Board is no reflex of popular opinion, it may be possible to devise a better machinery for ascertaining public opinion than what is provided through the medium of the District Board With reference to these and other matters of detail opinions may differ, but I think all will agree that in this matter the Government has been animated by the purest and the loftiest motives, by the single-minded desire to secure to the rural population of Bengal, the inestimable blessing of health I am a believer in drainage If it is a fad, I am one of the faddists, but I am in excellent company, for I am supported by the experience of the highest medical authorities, whose opinions are entitled to the greatest weight. I presume it will be admitted that the Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal is the highest sanitary authority in a matter of this kind Time after time he repeats the same tale, time after time he repeats the terrible record of mortality from malarial fever, time after time he appeals to the Government to introduce some practical measure of drainage to relieve the people from this frightful mortality and the terrible sufferings which follow in the train of that mortality With Your Honour's permission I will read to the Council one or two extracts from the Report of the Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal. In the annual report for 1891 he says —

'An examination of the vital statistics of the Province will show that fever claims by far the largest number of victims, the death-rate from this cause being nearly three fourths of the entire death-rate of the Province in fact, the enormous and increasing mortality from fever calls for serious attention and inquiry

'During the year under report, 1,333,395 persons, representing a death-rate of 18 81 per 1,000 of the population, are reported to have succumbed to fever against 1,155,569, or 16 42 per 1,000 in the previous year'

"We find the same tale repeated in 1888 —

'The annual death-rate from fevers is nearly three-fourths of the entire death rate of the Province, or more than twice as much as the death-rate of all the other diseases put together, and when it is remembered that every death from fever probably represents twenty or more attacks, it may be imagined what a very large proportion of the population must have suffered during the year under review'

"Now, what are the reports regarding the mortality of Calcutta? It is within our recollection that Calcutta used to be the hot-bed of malarious fever, and people used to leave Calcutta for the Mufassal to recruit their health Under proper sanitary arrangements Calcutta has now become a sanitarium, people leave the Mufassal to come to Calcutta to regain their health The price of land in Calcutta has risen three-fold within the last few years Ten years ago a katta of land used to be sold for Rs 300, now you cannot buy a katta of land for less than Rs 1,000 And what is the reason of this extraordinary rise in the price of land? It means an extraordinary demand on the part of people living in the Mufassal for land in Calcutta Let me read a few facts in regard to the mortality of Calcutta, and compare it with the death-rate of the suburbs of Calcutta before the introduction of drainage and water-supply In 1884, the death-rate of the Suburbs was 45 2 per mille, in 1884, the death-rate of Calcutta was 29 2. In 1885, the death-rate of Calcutta was 29 3, in the Suburbs it was 44·8 In 1886, it was 26 4 in Calcutta, in the Suburbs it was 40 5. In 1887, it was 26 9 in Calcutta, in the Suburbs it was 42 1 In 1889, it was 26 9 in Calcutta, in the Suburbs it was 42 4 And then when the Suburbs were amalgamated with Calcutta, we find a decrease in the death-rate in consequence of the sanitary improvements which were introduced I have before me the figures of five years of the added area before the amalgamation, and of five years after the amalgamation We find that the normal annual death-rate for the five years preceding the amalgamation was never less than 40 per mille, and that since the amalgamation it has never been more than 36 7 Therefore, having these facts before us, it is impossible not to hold that defective drainage is the cause of malarial fever, and that the surest means of removing malarial fever is the introduction of an effective system of drainage

"But though I am prepared to accord my support to the principle of this Bill, I am not quite so sure about its financial clauses, and I would appeal to the Select Committee and the Council to reconsider those clauses by the light of the observations I desire to submit for their consideration And I do not consider them an essential part of the Bill, they are an adjunct to the Bill, and might be safely dispensed with, and yet the principle of the Bill may be saved If the Government is really anxious that the Bill should not be a dead-letter, that it should be a workable measure, and that it should be largely availed of by the local bodies, then the proposal to levy a cess for drainage purposes should be abandoned Let me remind the Council of the character of the Bill It is a measure of local option It is entirely optional with the District Boards to introduce it or not, just as they please Now I ask, whether any local body with the smallest pretensions to a popular character would, of its own free will or accord, ask for or submit to a measure which involves the imposition of a fresh cess upon the people? Where then is the money to come from? I say from the surplus balance of the provincial public works cess The Hon'ble MR BOURDILLON will, no doubt, tell me that there is no surplus balance, but notwithstanding the high authority of that gentleman, I am bound to hold that there is a considerable and an increasing surplus balance of the public works cess which ought to be devoted to the execution of such works as are contemplated under this Bill Let me remind the Council, I will not say of the pledge, but of the distinct declaration made by the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill, when it was proposed to introduce the public works cess in Bengal The Hon'ble MR REYNOLDS, when he introduced the Public Works Cess Bill, said that, in obedience to the mandate which had been received from the Government of India, the cess was to be imposed in order to meet the interest on the capital outlay on some extraordinary public works and in connection with works undertaken for the prevention of famine The hon'ble gentleman mentioned what those extraordinary public works were They are the three great irrigational canals on the Sone, in Orissa and in Midnapur, andthe State Railways of Nalhati, Tirhut, Mutla and North Bengal The calculations were made upon this basis It was estimated that the interest charge on these works would amount to 22 lakhs, and the working charges to Rs 1,50,000 Then it was calculated that 8 lakhs a year would be needed to meet the interest on the capital outlay on the railways, 3 lakhs would represent the receipts from railways, and therefore 5 lakhs had to be provided to meet the interest on railways, in all 27 lakhs a year would be needed for these extraordinary public works

"Then there were the famine works, and it was calculated that from 30 to 35 lakhs a year would be required to meet the charges of these extraordinary public works, and such works as might be needed for protection against famine The surplus balance of the Public Works cess is, however, devoted to Ordinary Provincial Works I maintain that it is not fair, it is not right, to go behind the declarations which were made in this Council, and to impose a tax which, in the words of JOHN STUART MILL, amounts to partial confiscation—a tax on the landed and agricultural interests for the sake of the public at large These works benefit the whole community, but who are taxed—the landed and the agricultural interests? To do so involves an utter violation of the principles of political economy and the ordinary considerations of justice Let us read the words of the Hon'ble MR REYNOLDS—words which he made use of in introducing the Public Works Cess Bill He said —

> 'It had been determined to render the Local Governments responsible for the cost and management of extraordinary public works, that was to say such public works as railways and works of irrigation which had been constructed with borrowed money and had not been paid for out of the revenues of the year'

"Then, again, MR REYNOLDS observed —

> 'The Government of Bengal would take over the works as they stood, and would be responsible for the payment of simple interest on the capital outlay up to date and for the provision necessary for future working expenses'

"I will make one other extract from MR. REYNOLDS' speech —

> 'It had been laid down by the Government of India that it was necessary to introduce a system of provincial and local responsibility for the provision of local relief in the event of famine'

"In this matter I claim to represent a large amount of public feeling. This question of sanitation was the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Bengal Provincial Conference, held in 1892, soon after the holding of the Belvedere Conference, and I hold in my hand an extract from a Resolution passed on that occasion. It was then resolved 'that this Conference, while deeply grateful to His Honour the Lieutenant Governor for his earnest attention to the improvement of sanitation, would appeal to His Honour to devote the surplus balance of the public works cess to this purpose.' I think this Bill ought to be recast by the light of the observations which I have ventured to submit for the consideration of this Council I wish to make one other observation before I conclude If t'e representative character of the District Board is objected to, as it has been objected to by my hon ble friend to my right (MR. GHOSE), why not adopt the procedure which we find in sections 12—14 of the Drainage Act of 1880? The Drainage Commissioners might write to the parties interested, inviting them within a certain time to submit, in writing, their views with reference to the project laid before them, and the matter should then be decided by a majority of the votes of those interested

"Subject to these remarks and the right to move amendments so far as the financial clauses of the Bill are concerned, I accord my cordial support to the principle of the Bill At the same time it seems to me desirable that facilities should be afforded for the public discussion of a measure which involves the imposition of a fresh cess"

The Hon'ble MR. ALLEN said —"Before dealing with the principle underlying this Bill, I wish to make a passing observation I am rather surprised at the inconsequence of the hon'ble member who has just sat down in objecting to the cost of improved sanitation being levied from the landed interest As a proof of the valuable results of sanitation, he has informed us that the value of land in Calcutta which formerly fetched no more than Rs 300 per katta has, in consequence of the diminution of fever, risen to Rs 1,000 per katta If the value of the whole of my land could be raised from Rs 300 per katta to Rs 1,000 per katta by proper drainage, I should not grudge the small taxation necessary to effect that result This, however, is a mere observation in passing.

"According to the rules of procedure in this Council, it is on the motion to go into Select Committee that any objections to the principle of the Bill are to be brought forward, and that any discussion on the principle can be held There are two assumptions underlying this Bill—first, that the fever which has proved so deadly in certain parts of Lower Bengal is due to impeded drainage, secondly, that it is possible to improve the drainage of those parts of the Province to such a degree as to put an end to the malaria which causes, or is supposed to cause, the fever in question There is no member of this Council, and there is probably no member in the service in Bengal, who has a larger acquaintance with the malarial fever, commonly called the Burdwan fever, than I possess. It was first noticed in the year 1862, and in 1863 I was placed in charge of the Baraset subdivision, which at that time was the very worst spot for sickness and death from fever of any part of Lower Bengal, not excepting Burdwan itself The people feared it, no one would live there During the time I was there, a Commission was appointed to investigate into the causes of the fever The Commissioner of the Presidency Division, Dr Mouat, the Inspector-General of Jails, and Babu Degambur Mitter came to Baraset while I was there They suggested certain causes for the fever, and it was then for the first time that Babu Degambur Mitter insisted upon impeded drainage as being the cause of malarial fever His notion was that the East Indian Railway running along one bank of the river and Eastern Bengal Railway running along the other bank intercepted the drainage of the country which otherwise would flow into the river Hooghly, and he originated the idea of intercepted drainage being the cause of malarial fever There appear, however, to be two objections to that theory—first, it has never been shown that the water lying on one side of the embankment permanently varies in level from that on the other side, secondly, the surface water does not drain naturally towards the Hooghly, but away from it I have personally discussed the matter many times, and have always had the greatest interest in the subject ever since As a matter of fact, in all alluvial tracts of country the drainage does not run towards the river, but from it, because of the banks of rivers passing through the alluvial delta being invariably higher than the more inland country, consequently the railways did not obstruct the natural drainage of the country It was then said—I believe Dr Mouat was the originator—that though there is no evidence of the level of the water on one side of an embankment being different from the level of the water on the other, yet a great mass of solid material such as a railway embankment being deposited on a semi-fluid soil, like that of Lower

Bengal, must compress the underlying strata so as to impede, if not the surface drainage, the sub-soil drainage of the country. That was 32 years ago But I have not yet seen any proof that a well sunk on one side of a line of railway reached water at a different level from a well sunk on the other side of the line, consequently if the level of the water in the sub soil is identical on each side of a line of railway, it is obvious that an embankment cannot impede the flow of the sub-soil water from one side to the other

"So the matter rested when I left Baraset, and for a time the discussion on the subject of malarial fever practically ceased Nearly ten years afterwards it was my fate to be in charge of the district of Birbhum, which runs northwards from the Adjai river along the side of the East Indian Railway up towards Rajmahal From the banks of that river northwards, the soil is composed of undulating laterite with deep gulleys between, and it would be impossible to conceive or imagine any country more perfectly drained than the whole of that tract Rain is absolutely incapable of lodging there, in the course of half an hour it disappears in flowing streams. Any person travelling by railway can satisfy himself, after crossing the river Adjai, how absurd the idea of impeded drainage must be when started with reference to any influences affecting the health of the people of that country In fact a large part of the railway has to pass through considerable cuttings Well, in 1871-72, I was in charge of the Birbhum district, and at the time malarial fever was raging with renewed intensity in the Burdwan district, and the whole subject came up for consideration and discussion anew The then Magistrate of Burdwan, summing up the matter, had nothing but a sneer to offer for all the theories which were propounded The fever crossed the Adjai river, it decimated Sonool and Bulpore and that neighbourhood, and moved gradually up to the village of Purumderpore, six miles from the town of Sooree I subsequently heard that it passed on and visited with equal fatality the town of Sooree and other places which had never known such fever. The then Commissioner, Mr Buckland, naturally devoted considerable attention to discover the cause of the fever My own attention was constantly fixed on the subject The malarial theory, the obstructed drainage theory, was brought out again, but to attempt to account for fever in the Birbhum district on any such theory was absurd The only conclusion Mr. Buckland could arrive at, as the result of his own examination into the subject, was that it was like a large fire which, wherever it found combustible material, burnt it up and then passed on One of the most remarkable things was that the higher castes of the people invariably suffered—the Brahmins, the Kyasths and the Rajpoot caste—they were the victims, while the Bouries, Haris, Bagdees and other low castes escaped with impunity

"For these reasons, after having had my constant attention directed to the subject, and being naturally anxious to ascertain some cause, I have been utterly unable to satisfy myself that this fever is in any special way connected with drainage or malaria My conclusion was that it is mainly due to constitutional conditions, but I will not now detain the Council to enlarge on this theory It is sufficient for me simply to draw attention to the uncertainty which hangs over the main assumption of this Bill, namely, that by improving the drainage of a tract of country we necessarily improve the health of the people It may be so, but my own experience in Calcutta does not lead me to think so After having run the gauntlet of the most malarial districts of Bengal, I gained experience in my own person of fever for the first time in the town of Calcutta, and this I will say that the fever of Calcutta is of a much more vicious and persistent type than any fever in the Mufassal. In fact improved drainage appears to give a typhoid character to the most trifling fever Therefore I think the passage of this Bill through the Council should not be hurried, and the suggestion that ample time should be given for discussion and consideration is reasonable in view of the doubts which exist as to the malarial theory being the correct one.

"But admitting that malaria is the cause of all this deadly fever, what is the remedy? Is it possible to improve the drainage of Bengal? I observe that there is no section in the Bill prohibiting the cultivation of rice in any area subjected to drainage and being improved If rice cultivation is still to go on in a drained area, it is perfectly certain that the drainage must be practically inoperative Is it contemplated that rice cultivation should cease? If so, the last stage of the people may be worse than the first, and it may prove a measure for starving men in order to save them from fever. The actual condition of things in Bengal renders anything like effective drainage absolutely impossible. When once the highlands of Western Bengal are left behind, the whole country from the Bhagirathi at Murshidabad to the hills of Tippera is covered with water varying from 5 to 15 feet for four months in the year. How can it be possible with that level of water over the whole country that any drainage worthy of the name can be effected? It is a curious fact also, but still well known, that the healthiest period of the year in these tracts is precisely when the drainage of the country is entirely blocked by this mass of water, and only after this water has run off that the effects of malaria are experienced.

"I offer these observations not in any way as final or as tying my opinion to any conclusion, but these are the opinions which have been floating in my mind for a long time with reference to this subject, and I think it necessary—at least there can be no harm in it—to lay them before the Council when the Bill is at its present stage, as this will be the only opportunity when these considerations can be placed before the Council."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABDUL JUBBAR said:—"I beg to make one or two observations with reference to this motion. The fever which is said to be due to malaria and obstructed drainage has brought on misery and wretchedness in some of the districts of Bengal, which thirty years back were regarded as sanitaria, and I am unfortunately an inhabitant of one of those districts. There in the place of strong and nourishing food quinine and sago are the principal articles of daily consumption. The fact was stubborn that the unhealthiness of these districts began shortly after the construction of railways in those places, and it is the general opinion that the railways have obstructed the drainage of the country. The object of this Bill is admitted by all to be a beneficial one, but at the same time I think it necessary that it should be ascertained whether the people are prepared to accept it in its present form. Therefore, I think that before referring the Bill to a Select Committee, a certain time should be allowed to the public for the consideration of its provisions."

The Hon'ble BABU GONESH CHUNDER CHUNDER said:—"It seems to me that there is no necessity for the proposed legislation. I admit, notwithstanding what has fallen from the Hon'ble MR ALLEN, that the time has come when for the preservation of the lives and the health of the people of this Province an effective system of drainage is necessary by means of legislation. But the question is, have we not in our Statute Book a law now existing for that purpose, and has it been shown that the working of that Act has not attained the purpose for which it was enacted? If you refer to the Bill which has been circulated, you will find that almost all the provisions of this Bill have been taken bodily from Act VI of 1880. There are of course some objectionable provisions in it upon which I shall make some comments hereafter. The hon'ble member in charge of the Bill in introducing it did not even allude to Act VI of 1880, nor did he say anything to show that any attempt to put that Act into force has proved unsuccessful, or that its provisions did not answer the purpose for which the law was passed. Why cannot that Act be amended as the exigencies of the case may require? Why should we undertake new legislation on a subject on which we have already an exhaustive Act. I think it will be seen that this Bill incorporates the main features of the former Act with the exception of some of the important provisions which have already been alluded to by the hon'ble member on my left (MR GHOSE). But it excludes the provision for ascertaining the views of those most interested in the proposed drainage system, namely, the owners of the properties in which drainage works are to be constructed. Under the existing law it is necessary for the Drainage Commissioners to obtain the assent in writing of one-half of the holders of the land which is to be drained, but this Bill entirely does away with their consent. It restricts the principle of local self-government, which exists in that Act, and in place of the consent of the owners of the lands to be drained, this Bill gives the right of assent to the District Board. I am not sure that owners of lands in the country are prepared to delegate their authority in matters concerning their own pecuniary interests to the District Board. Under these circumstances it certainly seems to me that the present Bill is not an improvement on the existing law. There are no doubt objections on financial grounds against the provisions of Act VI of 1880, some of which have already been adverted to by hon'ble members who have already spoken. For these reasons I submit that, instead of proposing to pass a new law, steps should be taken to amend Act VI of 1880"

The Hon'ble MR LYALL said —"The substantive amendment before the Council is that of the Hon'ble MR GHOSE, who proposes that the Select Committee shall not be appointed for three months to come. There is scarcely a word in the very able speech made by my hon'ble friend, in which I do not agree more or less, chiefly more, and if I thought any advantage would be gained by putting off the appointment of the Select Committee for three months, I would at once agree to it But I think the provisions made in the Rules of the Council fully meet the wishes of the hon'ble member The Rules provide that all communications made to the Government in connection with any Bill before the Council should be laid before the Select Committee appointed to consider the Bill, they also provide that a longer or a shorter time than the usual period of one month may be allowed for the consideration of a Bill by the Select Committee, and I very much doubt whether the object of the hon'ble member will be in any way forwarded by the adoption of his amendment I think it is far more likely that public bodies, and people generally will submit their opinions on a Bill which is actually before the Council, than upon one which was practically shelved for three months. I am as anxious as the hon'ble member himself for a full public discussion of the provisions of this Bill In introducing the Bill I said that it had been put together by the Legislative Department as the result of the Belvedere Conference, and that it does not pretend to fix the exact wording of the law that is left to the Select Committee and afterwards to this Council to determine. I feel sure that every point put forward by my hon'ble friend will be dealt with by the Select Committee and I have no doubt successfully Among other objections the hon'ble member objected to the District Board being made the arbiter of the people That point was decided by the majority of the Belvedere Conference, but I feel bound to say that I agreed with the minority, and should the Select Committee not accept it, they will be at liberty to reject it The question of finance is another matter with which the Select Committee will deal.

"The Hon'ble BABU GONESH CHUNDER CHUNDER has contended that, instead of the Bill now before the Council, an amendment of the existing Drainage Act, VI of 1880, should be introduced, but that will have very much the same effect as the present Bill inasmuch as this Bill has been drafted almost entirely upon the model of that law, there being no other enactment on the subject That Act, however, deals with small local areas which it was proposed to drain for the benefit of the zamindars and raiyats It has nothing to do with the health of the people, and it does not deal with large areas, and I do not think anything will be gained by simply amending that Act.

"Then, with regard to the remarks which fell from the Hon'ble MR ALLEN, I am personally at one with him in those remarks I have seen malarial fever in tracts where there have been no roads or lines of railway to obstruct the natural drainage of the country My own view is that the gradual upheaval of the country has naturally interfered with the old drainage channels. But that is a mere theory Everybody agrees that malarial fever does require to be dealt with, and the great majority of medical opinion is that it is largely caused by the want of drainage I hope that in view of these remarks the amendment which has been moved will not be pressed"

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said —"The Hon'ble MR GHOSE asks leave to move an amendment of which notice has not been given, and under the Rules I permit the amendment to be laid before the Council. From one point of view I regret that the amendment has been moved in this form, because it creates the impression of disagreement where it is evident from what has fallen from all the hon'ble members who have spoken that no real disagreement exists We are all anxious to give full opportunity for the expression of public opinion, we are all anxious that the provisions of the Bill should be examined with the utmost care and deliberation The only point for decision is, which is the best step to take in order to secure the result we all desire? Are we likely to get the best consideration of the Bill by the public, and are we likely to get their views sent up in the fullest and completest form and in the shortest time, if the Bill is referred to a Select Committee at once, or if the reference to a Committee is postponed? I am inclined to agree with the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill that if it is actually before a Select Committee and is no longer a sleeping Bill, it will stimulate the submission of opinions, both of official and non official members, and that their views and criticisms will be sent in sooner than would otherwise be the case I say this on the simple ground that people are more inclined to give their mind to a subject when they feel that the time is limited than when they know the time is unlimited, and that it will make no difference whether they send in their representations to-day or three months hence Therefore, on the whole, it seems to me desirable that a Select Committee should be appointed now, but that they should be instructed not to proceed with any haste, but to give sufficient time and to give all local and public bodies notice that an expression of their views was desired, and that their views on the subject of the Bill would be carefully considered It should be understood that there will be no hurry, but that it is desired that the Bill should not be looked upon as a sleeping Bill, but that the Bill which is now in embryo should be brought to life within a reasonable time."

The Hon'ble MR GHOSE said —"After the observations which have fallen from the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill, I will ask permission to withdraw my amendment"

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said —"I am glad to allow the amendment to be withdrawn, because any appearance of disagreement on the subject will now be removed"

The Motion was then put and agreed to

CALCUTTA TRAMWAYS AGREEMENT BILL

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE introduced the Bill to give effect to an agreement made between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited, and moved that it be read in Council He said —

"This is an amending Bill, consisting of only three sections The object of the Bill is to legalise an agreement arrived at between the Corporation and the Tramways Company The Corporation is advised that the existing agreement being embodied in the schedule to an Act of the Legislature, it will be impossible to legalise any fresh agreement or alteration of the existing agreement except by legislative enactment That is the raison d'être of this Bill, and these are the reasons for asking leave to introduce it"

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Council adjourned to Saturday, the 10th March, 1894.

RESOLUTION ON THE RESETTLEMENT OF THE WEST TISTA KHAS MAHALS IN THE DISTRICT OF DARJEELING

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE

READ—

Letter No 845Rot, dated the 27th September 1893, from the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division, submitting the completion report of the resettlement of the West Tista khas mahals in the district of Darjeeling

The West Tista khas mahals in the district of Darjeeling are fourteen in number, and cover a hilly tract of country lying to the west of the river Tista, inhabited by a mixed population of Nepalis, Bhutias and Lepchas, the number of Nepalis being nearly double that of the Bhutia and Lepcha raiyats together The total population of the tract is 3,592 males and 3,455 females The mahals (the names of which are given on the margin) are the property of Government, having been acquired with the tract taken from Sikhim after 1850 The current settlement of the first eleven mahals, which was concluded in each case with the mandal and raiyats on what is known as the joint raiyatwari system, will expire on the 31st March 1894, of the three remaining mahals, Tukda (Pemchada's was first settled with Pemchada Bhutia for a term of ten years which expired on the 30th September 1887. The fresh lease which was then granted jointly to his son and the raiyats of the mahal will expire on the 31st March 1894. The Dhajia khas mahal, which originally formed a part of the lands granted to Dr Greenhill for a farm, was settled in 1890 with the mandal and the raiyats jointly for ten years with retrospective effect from 1887 The current settlement of this mahal will not therefore expire, and the new rates will not come into force till 1897, the present settlement of the Mirik khas mahal will similarly expire on the 31st March 1896, and the new rates will come into force on the 1st April of that year

2 The proposal of the local officers to commence resettlement operations in the cold weather of 1892-93 was sanctioned by Government in June 1892 Measurement work was commenced in the last week of November 1892, and was completed by the end of January 1893, the final report of the operations was submitted by the Deputy Commissioner in August 1893

3 Under the joint raiyatwari system, the raiyats have nominally the right to hold their lands, but as a fact they are entirely at the mercy of the mandal who assumes the power to oust them at pleasure The new settlement has therefore been made with each raiyat individually on the system adopted in the Kalimpong Government estate lying to the east of the river Tista. The mandal will now have to collect the revenue from the raiyats according to the rent-roll, and to remit it to the Government Tahsildar who manages the mahals For this and other minor duties to be performed in accordance with the terms of his sanad, the mandal will receive 10 per cent commission on the total collections made by him He will no longer have the right to settle waste lands for his own benefit, and this should be made clear in the sanads to be issued to the mandals

4. The total area of the 14 mahals, according to the recent measurement, is 15,033 acres against 14,694 acres according to the measurement made in 1882 83, the difference being due mainly to the recovery of lands which had been wrongly included in the adjoining tea gardens. The area comprised may be classified as follows —

		Acres.
Cultivated and assessed	Cardamum lands ...	132
	Other cultivated „ ...	10,041
	Total cultivated and assessed .	10,173	=11,078
Culturable ..	Uncultivated lands recently settled ...	905
	Similar lands remaining to be taken up	776
	Area set apart for grazing	1,382
	Ditto as fuel reserves	511
	Total culturable	3,577
Unculturable	Covered by roads	62
	Lands otherwise incapable of cultivation	1,221
	Total unculturable	1,283
	GRAND TOTAL ..	15,033

5. For purposes of assessment the mahals have been divided into three classes according to the quality of the predominating soil The soil classed as first class is loose black earth which is fit for almost all crops and especially for Indian-corn, while soil of the second class is black earth mixed with red, and that of the third class is red earth which is said to be suitable for marwa and potato. For the settlement still current, three rates of rent were originally sanctioned, viz, twelve annas an acre for first class, nine annas for second class, and six annas for third class lands. But when these rates came to be applied, they were found to yield a disproportionately large increase in the revenue, and orders were passed reducing the assessment by making allowance for fallow lands in each mahal to the extent of one fourth of the total cultivated area in the first class mahals, one-third in the second class mahals, and one-half in the third class mahals. The rates were thus virtually reduced to nine, six and three annas an acre respectively for the three classes of mahals. For the new settlement the rates originally sanctioned have been adopted without allowance being made for fallows Cardamum land yields no crop for the first three years of cultivation, and has therefore to pay no rent for that time In these mahals there are 132 acres of such land, and the rate sanctioned is Rs. 10 per acre from the fourth year of cultivation as in Kalimpong. The total rent on the 11,078 acres assessed was Rs 7,693-12. But two of the mahals, viz. Hoomlingding and Mangwa, with a total jama of Rs 2,270-5, are to be settled at half rates with Raja Tenduk Palgar of Kurmi from the 1st April 1894. Adding Rs 127, the income to be derived from three plots of thatching grass, the total assessment under the new settlement will amount to Rs 7,820 12 against Rs. 4,213 under the existing settlement The net revenue payable to Government will be Rs 6,079-5 6 as shown in the margin.

	Rs	A	P
	7,820	12	0
Deduct column 17 of Appendix III	1,135	2	6
	6,685	9	6
Deduct—
(1) Mandal's commission (column 3, Appendix VIII)	549	3	0
(2) Concessions to certain mandals (column 16, Appendix III) .	57	1	0
	6,079	5	6

6. The expenditure incurred in completing the operations amounts to Rs. 6,812-3-8, divided as follows:—

	Rs	A	P
On measurement	3,532	7	3
On settlement	3,279	12	5
	6,812	3	8

The total area measured being 15,033 acres, the total cost per acre amounts to seven annas and three pies.

7. The total number of holdings is 2,486, comprising a total area of 11,078 acres, which includes 132 acres of cardamum land and 965 acres of uncultivated land recently settled. The average area of each holding is therefore about 5 acres, but, as the total number of households is 1,211, the average area held by each household is about 9 acres. With the exception of the lands, amounting to 123 acres, to be held rent-free by certain mandals for whom the ordinary commission would not be sufficient, there are no rent-free holdings in these mahals.

8. The Assistant Settlement Officer gives the following areas as approximately representing the areas under different crops:—

Crops	Area in acres
Bhutta or Indian-corn	6,859 85
Wheat	815 7
Mustard	302 16
Phaphar or buckwheat (Fagopyrum esculentum)	537 02
Marwa (Eleusine corocana)	1,372 31
Paddy	93 63
Potato	43 06
Tea	8 51
Peas	7 14
Orange trees	56
Cardamum	132 2
	10,132 14

The total area under cultivation has thus increased by nearly 36 per cent. since the time of the last settlement, when only 7,508 acres were cultivated.

The estimated average outturn and net profit per acre of some of the crops grown are as follows:—

Outturn				Profit per acre.
Bhutta (Indian-corn)	from	3 to 8	maunds	From	Rs	2	to	Rs	12
Marwa (Eleusine corocana)	,,	2 to 4	,,	,,	,,	Nil	to	,,	5
Phaphar or buckwheat	,,	2½ to 3½	,,	,,	,,	2-4	to	,,	4-4
Wheat	,,	1½ to 2½	,,	,,	,,	1 8	to	,,	6-8
Mustard	,,	1 to 1½	,,	,,	Annas	6	to	,,	2-6
Paddy	,,	4 to 6	,,	,,	Rs	1-8	to	,,	5-8

The greater part of the land is under Indian corn which yields the highest profit. The condition of the raiyats is described as fair. Those who have large holdings are well off, while those with smaller holdings supplement their income by working as coolies on the adjoining tea gardens. The Bhutia tenants deal in pigs and make a little by trading at spare times. There can be no room for doubt that the raiyats of these khas mahals are well able to pay the moderate rents assessed.

9. The existing leases provide for the payment of rent in two instalments in June and December, but bhutta (Indian-corn) which is the staple product is harvested in August, and marwa, the next most important crop, in December, and in practice the raiyats generally pay in December. The Lieutenant-Governor approves therefore of the proposal of the Assistant Settlement Officer that, as sanctioned for Kalimpong, the 15th December should be fixed as the date by which the raiyats should pay in their rents, and the 15th January as the date on which the mandals should pay the Government revenue to the Tahsildar.

10. As regards the term of the settlement, the Commissioner is of opinion that on account of the considerable increase in the assessment, the settlement should be concluded for twenty years. Having regard to orders recently received from the Government of India, the Lieutenant-Governor is unable to accept this recommendation. His Honour is of opinion that the terms of the leases in the different mahals should be so fixed that they may all fall in on the 31st March 1906 A.D.

11. As regards the maintenance of the settlement records, the Settlement Officer proposes that, as in the Kalimpong Government estate, the Deputy Commissioner himself should correct the entries in the record on tour in November each year. As regards the Kalimpong estate, this system was sanctioned as a temporary measure, and has since been modified. The Lieutenant Governor will await a further report embodying the views of the present Deputy Commissioner of Darjeeling and the recommendations of the Commissioner as to the most suitable system for adoption in the West Tista khas mahals

12. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are due to Mr. R M. Waller, Settlement Officer, and Babu Bijoy Krishna Bose, Assistant Settlement Officer, who have effected this settlement in a thorough and satisfactory manner.

ORDER —Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Gazette, and that a copy of it be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division

† Sir D Brandis is not on the staff of the College

[The arrangements hereinafter described are subject to revision under the orders of the Secretary of State for India]

1 The Royal Indian Engineering College is primarily maintained, under the orders of the Secretary of State for India in Council, for the education of candidates for the service of Government in the India Public Works, Telegraph, and Forest Departments, but it is open, to the extent of the accommodation available, to all persons desirous of following the course of study pursued in it

India Forest Department Appointments

2 The Examination usually takes place in June of each year.

3 The number of candidates to be selected annually varies according to the requirements of the Forest Service in India, the figures as regards each particular year will be advertised from time to time *In 1894 there will be six * appointments offered for competition*

4 Candidates for the Indian Forest Department are selected under the following arrangements —

(a) An applicant must be a natural-born British subject, and must be above 17 and under 20 years of age on the 1st June of the year in which he competes for an appointment He must be unmarried and if he marries before reaching India he will forfeit his appointment

(b) An applicant must send † to the Revenue Department of the India Office, on or before the 1st day of May of the year in which he proposes to compete,—

(1) His name and parentage, a certificate or other satisfactory evidence of the date of his birth, and the written consent of parent or guardian that his name should be recorded as a candidate

(2) A statement of the places of education at which he may have been, accompanied by testimonials of good conduct, during the last four years

(c) Applicants will have to appear before a Medical Board ‡ at the India Office, particular stress being laid upon good vision and hearing A physical test will also be imposed, so as to ensure the selection of persons of active habits and powers of endurance.

(d) The applicants who have successfully passed the medical axamination and the physical test will be required to undergo an examination before the Civil Service Commissioners § in the following subjects ‖ (Classes I to III), marks being assigned as follows —

CLASS I —OBLIGATORY SUBJECTS ¶	Marks
1 Mathematics (lower), viz, Algebra up to and including the Binomial Theorem, the theory and the use of logarithms, Euclid, Books I to IV and VI, Plane Trigonometry up to and including the solution of Triangles and Mensuration	2,500	In each of these subjects a candidate must obtain not less than one third of full marks in order to qualify
2 English composition	1,000
3 German (400 for colloquial)	2,000

* Probably the number of appointments will not exceed six annually, for some years to come

† There is no form of application, the documents specified in clauses (1) and (2) should be enclosed in a covering letter addressed to the Secretary, Revenue Department, India Office, London

‡ With a view to prevent parents and guardians from incurring the inconvenience and expense of preparing candidates who may be physically unfit for the Forest Service, it is suggested that before any such preparation is begun, candidates be submitted to examination by the medical adviser of the family, or any other qualified medical practitioner, with regard to the following points —

1 A week constitution
2 Defective vision
3 Impaired hearing
4 The existence of any congenital defect

It is to be understood that this private examination is merely suggested to lessen the chances of disappointment, and that it is by no means intended to take the place of, or to influence in any way, the official examination

On the subject of the standard of eyesight required for the Indian services a pamphlet has been published, under the authority of the Secretary of State in Council, by Messrs Churchill and Sons, 11 New Burlington Street

§ A fee of 4*l* is required which can be paid by means of a stamp of that amount Instructions on this point will be issued to candidates the day before the examination

‖ Reprints of the papers set at previous examinations, together with tables of the marks assigned to the candidates, are published by the Civil Service Commissioners, and can be obtained through any bookseller The price of each reprint is one shilling

¶ Attention is invited to the appended Syllabus, giving further details regarding the extent and character of the examination

CLASS II.—OPTIONAL SUBJECTS.*

No.	Subject	Marks
4	Mathematics (higher), including Analytical Geometry, Conic Sections, Statics and Dynamics	2,000	A candidate may take any two but not more than two, of the optional subjects. Under "Optional Subjects" Nos. 9, 10, 11 and 12, the examination will be partly practical.
5	French (400 for colloquial)	2,000
6	Latin	2,000
7	Greek	2,000
8	English History. There will be set one general paper, one paper limited to a fixed period, which will be from the year 1727 to the year 1783 for the examination of 1894	2,000
9	Botany, viz., the elementary parts of vegetable morphology, histology and physiology, and the principles of a natural system of classification as illustrated by the more important British natural orders. Candidates will be required to describe plants in technical language. Questions will not be set on vegetable palæontology or on the geographical distribution of plants	2,000
10	Chemistry, viz., the elements of Inorganic Chemistry	2,000
11	Physics. Elementary properties of Electricity, Magnetism, Heat, Light, and Sound	2,000
12	Physical Geography and Geology, chiefly economic, including the recognition of the more familiar minerals and rocks, and their properties and uses	2,000

CLASS III.—ADDITIONAL SUBJECTS.

No.	Subject	Marks
13	Freehand Drawing	500	Either or both of these subjects may be taken in addition to the obligatory and the two optional subjects.
14	Geometrical Drawing	300

(e) From the competitors who attain the above-mentioned minima of marks in obligatory subjects, and satisfy the requisite conditions in other respects, the Secretary of State will select candidates, in order of merit, as probationers to enter the College, where they will be further trained for the Forest Service of India.

(f) If the full number of competent probationers required in any year cannot be obtained from the persons so examined, the Secretary of State reserves a discretion to fill up the deficiency by selecting any other person or persons who may satisfy the authorities of the College that he or they are properly qualified to become probationers for the Forest Service.

5. The course of study for candidates for the India Forest Service extends over about three years divided into nine terms. During eight terms the candidates will prosecute their studies mainly at the College, and during one term (the sixth), which may last for four or five months, they will visit, under suitable supervision, such Continental forests as may be selected for the purpose. Excursions will also be made for purposes of instruction, both during term time and during part of the vacations. The cost of all such tours or excursions is borne by the Secretary of State (see paragraph 9).

6. Each annual session begins in September and is divided into three terms, with vacations of about four weeks at Christmas, two weeks at Easter, and eight weeks in the summer, except at the end of the visit to the Continent when the vacation will be shorter.

7. A charge of 61*l.* is made for each term except the sixth; for that term the charge is 90*l.* for each student, the duration of the term being longer and the cost of students in the Continental forests being higher than for any other term. The amounts must be paid terminally in advance to the Bank of England. Receivable orders, with full directions as to the mode of payment, will be forwarded from the India Office to the parents or guardians shortly before the fees fall due. A student will not be allowed to come into residence until his fee has been paid.

8. A deposit of 5*l.* is required to be paid by each student on admission to the College, as caution money, to cover charges incurred by him for damage to books, instruments, etc., or any College bills outstanding on leaving the College. Any balance over and above such charges will be repaid. This deposit is to be paid with the fee for the first term, making the total payment on that occasion 66*l.*

9. The foregoing payments cover all charges for tuition, board according to the College tariff, lodging, with washing up to a cost of 2*s.* a week, and ordinary medical attendance while in residence at the College. When students are on tour and during the course of practical instruction, whether in Great Britain or on the Continent, the Secretary of State will defray the expenses of (1) board, lodging and washing (the maximum expenditure on such account being 10*s.* per diem), (2) travelling expenses, and (3) fees to local Forest officers, etc.

Students are required to provide their own class books and drawing instruments. Drawing paper, drawing boards, and surveying instruments are provided by the College.

* Attention is invited to the appended Syllabus, giving further details regarding the extent and character of the examination.

10 The prescribed course of study at present comprises the following subjects —

I —Auxiliary Subjects

1 Geometrical Drawing	8 Physics
2 Freehand Drawing	9 Chemistry
3 Surveying	10 Geology and Mineralogy
4 Forest Engineering	11 Entomology
5 Accounts	12 Botany
6 German	13 Drill and Gymnastics
7 Mechanics

II —Forestry, Theoretical and practical, in all its branches

11 Every student is required to conform to the College rules, to exhibit due diligence in his studies throughout the course, and to give evidence of satisfactory progress in such manner as may be required, failing which, or in the event of serious misconduct, he will be liable to be removed from the College, or to be sent back from the forest tour which may entail the loss of his appointment

12 During the course of study, the proficiency of the students will be tested by periodical examinations, and on the termination of their studies there will be a final examination Each student may also, at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India, be required to appear before the Medical Board at the expiration of the first year of residence at the College, and should the result be unsatisfactory he cannot claim to be allowed to complete the course

13 The subjects enumerated in paragraph 10 are grouped in certain main branches of study,* and a fixed minimum of qualification is required in each branch and in the subjects taught during the forest tours, as well as a certain minimum for all branches taken together. Students who obtain these minima will receive the College diploma in forestry.

14 Candidates who have obtained this diploma and are found to be of sound constitution and free from physical defects which would render them unsuitable for employment in the Forest Department (the final decision on which points will rest with the Secretary of State for India), will be appointed Assistant Conservators in the Forest Department of India in the order of their standing at the end of the final examination They will be allowed before leaving the College to state their preference in respect to the Provinces to which they desire to be allotted, but the distribution will be made at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India, after consulting the President of the College and the Principal Professor of Forestry, to the several Provinces according to the needs of the public service The distribution will be made on the understanding that officers are at all times liable to be transferred from one province to another at the pleasure of the Government of India

15 Within a month of his nomination as Assistant Conservator, each nominee must sign articles of agreement describing the terms and conditions of his appointment, he must embark for India when required to do so by the Secretary of State, and will be provided with a free passage Failure to embark at the stated time will, in the absence of satisfactory explanation, lead to forfeiture of appointment

16 The pay of an Assistant Conservator of Forests will begin from the date of arrival in India Probationers who acquit themselves creditably during their course at Cooper s Hill College will begin on a salary of R300 a month It will, however, rest with the President of the College, in consultation with the Principal Professor of Forestry, to decide whether any of the probationers, though they have obtained the College diploma in Forestry, have failed to deserve that rate of initial salary Such probationers, if any, will begin on a salary of R250 a month, and this difference of salary will continue until the first departmental examination is passed in India

17 Promotion, leave, and pension will be regulated by the rules of the service for the time being The more favourable pension rules have recently been extended to Forest officers appointed from England, who are thus placed on an equality with Public Works officers appointed from Cooper's Hill College. Any Forest officer, who has rendered not less than three years' approved service at head of his department, has also been made eligible for an extra pension of R1,000 per annum A copy of the Regulations relative to these matters can be seen on application either at the Library or the Record Department of the India Office, the principal rules however are contained in the Abstract of the Civil Service Regulations, as given in the "India Office List," or the "India List," published respectively by Messrs Harrison and Sons, 59 Pall Mall, and Messrs W H Allen and Co, 13, Waterloo Place, S W, either of which can be procured through any bookseller.

* For details see Royal Indian Engineering College Calendar

18 Every candidate, before proceeding to India, will be required to furnish to the President of the College satisfactory evidence of his competency in riding

General Rules

19 Chemical, physical, and botanical laboratories, a forestry museum, a forest nursery, a library, and gymnasium are attached to the College Means are also provided for the practice of photography Students making use of the laboratories are supplied with the needful apparatus

20 The responsibility for the discipline and management of the College and for the superintendence of the studies is vested in the President, under the control of the Secretary of State for India

21 The students are distributed in divisions, under personal charge of one of the Professors or Instructors selected by the President, such tutor being responsible for exercising the proper degree of personal supervision over each student in his division, and for conducting necessary correspondence with the student s parents or guardians

22 Each student residing in the College is provided with a separate room, and with fuel and light, also with the necessary attendance Furniture and bedding are supplied by the College, but students are required to provide their own towels and bed linen Meals are taken in hall Wine and beer are not included in the ordinary fare, but can be obtained from the College cellar at fixed prices

23 A chapel is attached to the College, which the students residing in the College are expected to attend, unless specially exempted

24 Every student will be required to go through a course of gymnastics and also of military exercises, including the use of the rifle

25 Students are required to wear academical dress, under such regulations as may be prescribed from time to time

Students not nominated for the Indian Forest Service, but desirous of obtaining a Diploma in Forestry from Cooper s Hill College

26 Students not nominated for the Indian Forest Service may be received into the College, as far as the available accommodation permits Such students may pass through the course of instruction prescribed for the nominees of the Indian Forest Service, as detailed above, or they may be permitted to participate in the instruction given in certain subjects only On attaining the prescribed minima of marks in the several branches of study and in totals as laid down above, they will receive, as the case may require, either the College diploma in Forestry or special certificates showing in what subjects they have followed the instruction, and with what result

27 Candidates who desire to be admitted under paragraph 26 may submit the necessary application at any time, but not later than the 15th day of June of the year named for admission, except with the special permission of the President The application must be made on the prescribed forms, which can be obtained from the Secretary of the College

28 Candidates whose applications are found satisfactory as to character and in other respects will be required to undergo an examination, to be held at the College, about the last week in June of the year for admission The object of the examination will be to ascertain whether the candidate is qualified to follow the course of instruction with advantage (or certain parts of it, as the case may be) Candidates who do not come up to the required standard will not be admitted to the College

The President may dispense with the whole or any portion of this examination in the case of a candidate who produces an University diploma, or other similar certificate granted by a recognized examining body

29 Candidates admitted to the College under paragraph 26, who propose to pass through the full prescribed course of study, will be required to pay the same fees in every respect as those paid by the nominees for the Indian Forest Service Candidates who do not become resident, and are admitted only to certain subjects of study, will be required to pay the fees which may be fixed in each special case in consideration of the extent of their studies The candidates of both classes will be required to abide by the general rules of the College

SYLLABUS

Showing the extent and character of the Forest Examination.

In a letter addressed to the Civil Service Commissioners on the subject of the examinations for admission into the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich, and the Royal

Military College, Sandhurst, the Director General of Military Education observes —"The main object to be borne in mind with reference to the Entrance Examination is to secure a youth who has had a thoroughly well-grounded liberal education as an English gentleman Any curriculum which renders those who are unsuccessful unfit for other professions is greatly to be deprecated" The Regulations for the Forest Examination, which follow the lines of the Sandhurst Examination, are intended to provide a test that the candidates have received such an education as is indicated in these words By these Regulations certain of the subjects specified are prescribed as obligatory for all competors, while, in the choice of the subjects described as optional, allowance is made for varieties of taste and inclination in each candidate In view of the influence which the Regulations must necessarily exercise on the education of candidates for admission to the public service the Civil Service Commissioners deem it expedient to specify, with more fulness than in the Regulations themselves the character of the examination which the candidates will be called upon to undorgo

(OBLIGATORY SUBJECTS)

Mathematics—The extent of the examination will be as defined in the Regulations

English Composition—An Essay to be written on one of several subjects specified by the Civil Service Commissioners on their Examination Paper

German—There will be translations of unseen passages from German into English, and from English into German, the knowledge of pronunciation will be tested by dictation and the vivâ voce examination The passages for translation will be taken mainly from standard authors (Schiller, Lessing, Alexander v Humboldt, Ranke, etc), and a few simple questions may be asked on the passages set, as to the structure and character of the language, and allusions of obvious and general interest

CLASS II

(OPTIONAL SUBJECTS)

Higher Mathematics—The extent of the examination will be as defined in the Regulations

Latin—Passages will be set for translation into English selected from the authors usually read in schools Passages from English authors will be given for translation into Latin prose and verse, but candidates will be allowed, in the place of verse composition, to answer questions of a simple character, which will test whether they possess a fundamental knowledge of the grammar of the language, and such an elementary acquaintance with Roman History as is required for the intelligent study of the books they have read

Greek—Passages will set for translation into English from the authors usually read in schools, and in other respects the examination will proceed on the same lines as in Latin

French—The passages for translation will be taken from standard authors (Corneille, Madame de Sévigné, Guizot, Taine, etc), and in other respects the examination will proceed on the same lines as in German

English History—The General Paper in this subject will test whether the candidates are accurately acquainted with the facts of English History, and also possess an intelligent knowledge of the meaning of the facts The paper on the fixed period will, of course, require from the candidates more minute knowledge than the General Paper

Botany, Chemistry, Physics, Physical Geography, and Geology—The standard of examination in these subjects will be such as may be reasonably expected from the education given at schools possessing appliances for practical instruction such as a laboratory etc A considerable portion of the marks will be allotted for the proficiency shown in the practical part of the examination

Handwriting—In estimating the papers of candidates, a limited number of marks, namely, 100 out of the maximum allotted to each subject, is assigned for handwriting.

SILK EXPERIMENTS AT ALIPORE

The following correspondence is published for general information

C E BUCKLAND,

Secretary to the Govt of Bengal

No 1156Agri, dated Calcutta, the 5th March 1894

To—R A LYALL, Esq, on behalf of the Silk Committee

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No 468, dated the 26th February 1894, with enclosure, stating that Rao Jogendra Narayan Roy of Lalgola, in the district of Murshidabad, has contributed Rs 1,200 in addition to a similar donation which he made last year in aid of the silk experiments which are now being carried on at Alipore in the 24-Parganas, and suggesting that his liberality should be acknowledged by Government in a suitable way

2 In reply, I am to request the Silk Committee to be so good as to convey to Rao Jogendra Narayan Roy the thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor for his liberal contributions for the encouragement of the silk industry I am to add that the correspondence on the subject will be published in the next issue of the Calcutta Gazette

From—R A LYALL, Esq, on behalf of the Silk Committee,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal Revenue Department

WITH reference to the Silk Committee's letter to you, dated 5th June 1893, No 1634 (copy of which I enclose for convenience of reference), I have been requested by the Committee to inform you that Rao Jogendra Narayan Roy of Lalgola, Murshidabad, has again forwarded to them a donation of Rs 1,200 towards the silk experiments now being carried on at Alipore

This further instance of liberality on the part of the Rao may, the Committee venture to hope, be considered worthy of some notice on the part of Government, the more so, that his action is entirely voluntary The Committee did not even know the name of the Rao when his first donation was forwarded

From—The Members of the Silk Committee,
To— The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department

ON behalf of the Silk Committee, we beg to bring to the notice of Government the very liberal action of Rao Jogendra Narayan Ray of Lalgola, Murshidabad.

This gentleman having, we presume, heard of the efforts of the Silk Committee to improve the breed of cocoons in Bengal, voluntarily presented the Committee with Rs 1,200 last year, and has promised a similar donation in the current year

It is very encouraging to find that the great importance of the possible results of the Silk Committee's work is realised by the abovenamed gentleman We believe that few do realise what an incalculable benefit to the population of the silk districts, and to the silk trade of Bengal, the result of the experiments now being made would be, if brought to a successful issue, and the Committee therefore think it right to bring to the notice of Government this instance of intelligent liberality on the part of Rao Jogendra Narayan Roy

(a) Mean of 6 days | (b) Mean of 5 days

Explanation —Summary—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the ... The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being represented by 100 A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10 The ... are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional stations for the period in question ... stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations A rainy day is one of which at least a tenth of an inch fell for the week ending Saturday, the 3rd of March 1894.

Explanation — — indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are missing, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days the definition of a rainy day is when at least 1/10 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 6th March 1894.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 3RD OF MARCH 1894

Abnormal meteorological conditions obtained over the province at the close of the previous week, and rather numerous local storms with rain were reported in many districts on the morning of the 24th of February, or the last day of the previous week On the 25th pressure fell considerably over parts of Central Bengal, Bihar and Chota Nagpur, and a decided depression was formed over that area where pressure was below the normal by nearly a tenth of an inch Hence winds became southerly over a large part of the province, and high temperature and humidity prevailed Rather disturbed weather existed in and near the hills of North Bengal, in East Bengal, and in Assam, and fairly heavy rain fell over these areas during local storms On the 26th the low pressure area had advanced in an easterly direction and stretched between Saugor Island and Purnea Weather on this day in Bengal was rather less disturbed than it had been and only a few light show rs were reported, principally in North Bengal and Assam In other respects conditions were unchanged On the 27th the low pressure area still existed over Bengal, weather became rather more generally disturbed, and local storms with rain were rather numerous On the 28th these conditions remained practically unchanged, pressure being decidedly low, and southerly winds blowing over the province, giving decidedly disturbed weather and numerous local storms with rain On the 1st of March pressure had given way rapidly in Bengal the fall equalling in some cases about a seventh of an inch, and a very influential barometric depression was formed over the western half of the province, while the differences of pressure over the Bay became considerable Local storms with rain were therefore again numerous, and rather strong southerly winds were blowing at the head of the Bay On the 2nd of March a further fall of pressure took place over the greater part of Bengal, and the depression moved somewhat in an easterly direction, and at some stations pressure was a fifth of an inch below the normal Again local storms with rain were numerous, and in some cases they were severe, and Barisal reported 3 55 inches during a thunderstorm with hail Madaripur in the Faridpur district also registered 4 70 inches of rain, Gournadi (Backergunge district) 3 48 inches, Ramganj (Noakhali district) 4 65 inches, Mirsarai (Chittagong district) 5 82 inches, and Rangamati 3 72 inches On the 3rd March a rather brisk fall of pressure had again occurred in Bengal, and pressure became in defect by amounts ranging up to 0 285 inch at Malda Disturbed conditions therefore continued, and several heavy falls of rain accompanying local storms were reported, Rangamatia receiving the very heavy fall of 7 52 inches With this pressure distribution also strong southerly winds were blowing over the province from the Bay, bringing up much moisture, while temperature was also generally in excess by about 3°

Practically, therefore, throughout the week conditions have been disturbed and unsettled, and rather numerous local storms with rain have occurred in all districts, the falls being decidedly heavy in East Bengal

Pressure—Has been extremely low practically throughout the week, and the general defect has equalled from 0 11 inch to about 0 14 inch, and this defect has been fairly equally distributed in all districts

Temperature—The mean temperature of the whole province for the past week has been 1 1° above the normal but this excess has been unequally distributed, and excess amounts of two to two and a half degrees have been registered in South-West Bengal and Orissa, and very small excess amounts only in East and North Bengal

The actual temperatures registered during the week, and their variations from the normal temperature for the present season, are most clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in the Province are compared with the normal values for the same period The day or maximum readings for the week have indeed shown a slightly lower temperature than usual, and the defect at the nine stations in the maximum or day temperature has equalled 1 6°, while in the night or minimum temperature the excess has averaged 1 4° only

Rainfall —The heavy average rainfall of 2 95 inches has been registered in East Bengal during the week, which is six times the usual amount for the period North Bengal has also received 0 34 inch, or nearly three times as much as usual On the other hand, in South-West Bengal Bihar and Orissa the falls have only averaged a tenth of an inch, and in Chota Nagpur the fall has been only 0 04 inch

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 3rd of March 1894 —

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory) The barometer is about 8 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore 003 lower The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 2 1 lower, and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0 6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

Depôts of provision and clothing for castaways

THE following Notice to Mariners No 1, dated 5th January 1894, issued by the Government of New Zealand is republished for general information —

Eleven of the crew of the barque Spirit of the Dawn which was wrecked on the Antipodes Island on the 4th September last having remained on the island for eighty-eight days without becoming aware of the existence of the depot of provisions and clothing for castaways which is established there, it is thought advisable to draw the attention of mariners to the fact that such depôts are maintained by the New Zealand Government on that island and on the Auckland, Campbell, Bounty, and Kermadec Islands, and that it is proposed to establish one on the Snares

The following are the positions of the depots —

Auckland Islands—A depot is placed on the south side of Erebus Cove, Port Ross, and another in Camp Cove, Carnley Harbour. A third will be placed at the head of Norman

Inlet the next time the Government steamer visits the islands One boat is placed on the north-west end of Adams Island, another on Enderby Island, and one will be placed on Rose Island

Campbell Island —A depot is erected in Tucker Cove, Perseverance Harbour, and a boat will be placed at the head of that harbour

Antipodes Islands —A depot is placed abreast the anchorage on the north-east side of the principal island

Bounty Islands —There is a depôt on the principal island

Snares Island —A depot will be established on this island the next time the Hinemoa visits the place

Kermadec Islands —A depot is established on Macaulay Island near Lava Cascade, on the north-east end of the Island, and another on Curtis Island, at the head of Macdonald Cove, on the north-western end of the island

Finger-pôsts to indicate the direction of the depots will be erected on the islands

The Government steamer visits the Auckland, Campbell, Antipodes, Bounty, and Snares Islands twice a year, and the Kermadec Islands once a year

AUSTRALIA, ENDEAVOUR STRAIT—THE BOAT CHANNEL AND NORMANBY SOUND

Masters of vessels, Pearl-shellers, and others navigating these channels cautioned

THE Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice, dated 3rd January 1894, that Masters of vessels, pearl-shellers, and others navigating Endeavour strait, the Boat Channel between Prince of Wales and Horn islands, and Normanby Sound, are cautioned against anchoring their vessels near the route of the Submarine Telegraph Cable connecting Thursday island with the Mainland of Queensland, which is as follows —

From Paterson in a north-westerly direction, passing about half a-mile south of Dayman and Little Woody islands to the southern entrance of the Boat Channel between Horn and Prince of Wales islands, thence through that channel in a west-north-westerly direction, passing about midway between the western edge of Madge Reef and Heath Point, and thence in a northerly direction to Thursday island

The route of the cable across Normanby sound is north and south, and is indicated by a triangular black beacon (on a hill at Vivien point) in line with the cable house painted red near the Government Residency, and a white square beacon on Prince of Wales island

Special attention to this notice is requested, as telegraphic communication with Thursday island is of great public importance, the cable referred to having been recently repaired at considerable expense

Sections 121 and 124 of "The Post and Telegraph Act, 1891", are hereby quoted for general information —

Any person who—

(1) Unlawfully or maliciously cuts, breaks, throws down, injures or removes any battery, machinery, wire, cable, post, or other matter or thing whatsoever, being part of any apparatus used or employed in or about any telegraph, or in the working thereof, or

(2) Unlawfully or maliciously prevents or obstructs in any manner whatsoever the sending, conveyance, or delivery of any communication by telegraph, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour, and shall be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding three years

Provided that if it appears to a justice, on the examination of a person charged with an offence against this section, that it is not expedient to the ends of justice that the same should be prosecuted as an indictable offence, one justice may proceed summarily to hear and determine the same, and the offender may, on conviction, be imprisoned for any term not exceeding three months, or be ordered to pay a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds

Any person who negligently breaks or injures any post, wire, or material, belonging to or used in connection with any telegraph, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds

GENERAL DEPARTMENT

NOTIFICATION No 784

The 28th February 1894 —The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased to make the following rules in exercise of the powers conferred upon him by Sections 143 and 144 of the Assam Labour and Emigration Act (I of 1882)

C E BUCKLAND,
Secy to the Govt of Bengal

RULES, FORMS AND SCHEDULES UNDER THE ASSAM LABOUR AND EMIGRATION ACT

CHAPTER I

GENERAL RULES

Inclusion of schedules and forms in the rules

1 The schedules and forms attached to these rules are prescribed for the several purposes specified in the heading of each, and shall be taken as part of the rules

Fees payable under the Act.

2 The following shall be the amount of the several fees payable under the provisions of the Act —

(1) Under Section 13 the fee for a contractor's license (form No 1) shall be Rs 100, and that for a sub-contractor's license (form No 2) Rs 50

(2) Under Section 24 the fee for a recruiter's license shall be Rs 16

(3) Under Section 30 the fee payable to a medical officer for each labourer or dependent placed before him for examination under certificate (form No 8) shall be two annas from the Inland Labour Transport Fund

(4) Under Sections 35 and 68 the fee for each person produced before a registering officer for the purpose of being registered as a labourer (forms Nos 9 and 26 respectively) shall be one rupee

(5) Under Sections 42 (B) and 71 the fee payable to a medical officer for each labourer examined by him shall be eight annas

(6) Under Section 90 the fee payable on a license for a vessel to carry passengers for not more than one voyage shall be Rs 16, provided that the fee shall not exceed four annas per head of the total number of passengers which the vessel is capable of carrying, and that for the license of a vessel to carry passengers for any term not exceeding one year shall be Rs 50

Treatment, &c., of dependents of labourers

3 The same provision in every respect shall be made for the dependents of labourers as for the labourers themselves, and all rules regulating the treatment and transport of labourers shall be applicable to their dependents also

Subordination of emigration officers

4 Every Superintendent of Emigration, Embarkation Agent, and Medical Inspector appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under Section 8 of the Act shall act under general instructions received through the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, and all reports and returns shall be made through such Superintendent

Annual reports of emigration officers.

5. Every Superintendent of Emigration, Embarkation Agent, and Medical Inspector (appointed by the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal), shall forward, as early as possible, and not later than two months after the close of every calendar year, an annual report reviewing all the operations of that year connected with the recruitment, accommodation in depôt, and transport of emigrants within the local limits of his jurisdiction to the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, and such Superintendent shall, not later than two months thereafter, submit to the Government of Bengal his annual report for the same period Such report shall be based on the information available in his own office, and on that furnished by the aforesaid officers in their respective reports, and shall treat of the following points, viz, the management and condition of the depôts licensed under the Act, the conduct of recruitment, the sickness and mortality in depôt, the number of emigrants despatched to the tea districts, the results of the passage thereto with special reference to mortality, and such other subjects as may be prescribed by the Government of Bengal

CHAPTER II

CONTRACTORS' SYSTEM OF RECRUITMENT

PART I —Licenses

Contractor's application for recruiter's license

6 Every contractor or sub-contractor desiring to obtain a license (form No 5) for any intending recruiter shall submit an application on his behalf to the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, and shall forward therewith a certificate of good character in the prescribed form (No 3), obtained from the Magistrate of the district of which such intending recruiter is a resident If the renewal of a recruiting license, the term of which has expired, be desired, he shall forward with his application a certificate of identity of the recruiter concerned in the prescribed form (No 4) similarly obtained, or shall direct such recruiter to attend at the office of the Superintendent for identification, when application for renewal of his license is submitted The certificate to be given by a contractor to a recruiter under Section 26 of the Act shall be in form No 6

PART II —Depots

Sites of depots

7 The site of every depot shall be cleared, levelled, and drained, and all exposed wells and tanks shall be properly fenced in and protected from surface drainage, which, if necessary, may be required to be effected by the construction of masonry drains

Depot sleeping sheds.

8 Sleeping sheds shall be distinct from cooking sheds, and shall be provided with raised platforms or machans, high enough to admit of the ground below being readily cleaned, and mats shall be supplied in all cases where such platforms or machans are not boarded

Sleeping shed accommodation according to depot license

9 In each sleeping shed the number of emigrants to be accommodated shall be calculated at the uniform rate of not less than fourteen superficial feet of space to each person, and shall never exceed that specified in the depot license (form No 7) granted by the Superintendent of Emigration, a copy of which shall be posted in a conspicuous place for the information of visiting officers

Ventilation of depot sleeping sheds

10 Air and light shall be admitted freely into sleeping sheds through large openings for doors and windows, and through open spaces sheltered by the eaves, and movable jhamps shall be fitted to all openings intended for doors and windows

Depôt cooking sheds

11 Cooking sheds, with fire-places or chulas arranged in a row, shall have mud-plastered walls, and, wherever possible, tiled roofs, and a proper receptacle for rice-water and other kitchen refuse shall be provided

Depot water supply

12 A plentiful supply of the purest water obtainable shall be always provided for drinking, cooking, and washing in clean iron tanks to be approved by the Medical Inspector Each tank shall be fitted with a padlocked cover, and with two or more large strong taps of simple construction, and in all cases where any doubt exists in the opinion of the Medical Inspector as to the uniform purity of the water supplied, each such tank shall be fitted also with a suitable and sufficient filtering apparatus

Depot latrines

13 Latrines shall be separately provided for males and females, properly roofed, thoroughly well ventilated and lighted, and placed in an accessible position The plan of the latrines, and the system adopted for the daily removal of night-soil and other refuse matter, shall be subjected to the approval of the Medical Inspector

Depot hospital

14 A hospital for ordinary cases with separate wards for male and female patients, shall be provided The ward shall be dry, well raised, thoroughly ventilated, well lighted, and furnished with a separate platform or machan for each patient, which, when not boarded, shall be covered with matting

Depôt dispensary

15 A dispensary, with accommodation for the resident medical officer of the depot, shall be placed in a convenient situation, and provided with such fittings and furniture as the Medical Inspector may deem necessary

---

PART III —Places of accommodation

Places of accommodation in recruiting districts.

16 The establishment in the several districts of recruitment of places for the temporary accommodation of emigrants, previous to their despatch to the depots of contractors, shall be regulated generally by the rules relating to such depôts, subject to such modification as the Magistrate of the district may, with reference to the temporary nature of such accommodation, consider necessary

Inspection of places of accommodation by district officers

17 The Magistrate of every district of recruitment shall, in respect of all places for the accommodation of emigrants within such district, exercise the powers vested in the Superintendent for the supervision of depots All such places shall be regularly inspected by the Magistrate and by the officers authorized in that behalf by such Magistrate under the Act

Responsibility of persons in charge of places of accommodation

18 The sub-contractors, or recruiters in charge of places for the accommodation of emigrants, shall be responsible for any irregularities that may be committed in connection with the management of such places, and they shall keep such registers and submit such reports and returns to the Magistrate having jurisdiction as he may require.

PART IV.—Depôt management

Supervision of depôts by Superintendent.

19. The Superintendent, or his assistant, shall regularly visit every depôt when accommodating emigrants, and shall see that the provisions of the Act are fully carried out in the case of all labourers and their dependents arriving at such depôt, and that the terms of their engagement to work in the labour districts are thoroughly understood by them.

Supervision of depôts by Medical Inspector.

20. The sanitary state of the depôts shall be the special care of the Medical Inspector. He shall visit the depots regularly, and see that all necessary precautions are taken against communicable disease; that the hospital and other medical arrangements at the depots are sufficient; that all emigrants unprotected against small-pox are properly vaccinated, and that the depot arrangements generally for the keep and health of emigrants are satisfactory from a medical point of view. At the close of every month he shall submit a report of his inspections in the prescribed form (No. 10) to the Superintendent.

Visitors' book for inspecting officers.

21. At each depot there shall be kept a visitors' book, in which the Superintendent and the Medical Inspector shall enter their orders or remarks, and the dates of their visits. During such visits the contractor or his agent shall, without fail, place the depôt and hospital registers before the Superintendent and the Medical Inspector respectively for inspection, and shall on no account alter or correct any entries made therein without their knowledge and sanction.

Facilities for inspection of depôts.

22. Depot gates shall be in charge of a darwan, and shall be open from 6 A.M. to 6 P.M. Every facility shall be given by the contractor and his employés to the inspecting officers when visiting the depot at any time.

Compliance with orders of emigration officers.

23. All orders of the Superintendent and the Medical Inspector shall be carried out by the contractors and their employes on pain of cancellation of license, or loss of appointment respectively. Should a contractor consider that any order given to him by the Superintendent or Medical Inspector is unreasonable, he shall be at liberty to appeal against such order, if passed by the Superintendent and Medical Inspector at Goalundo or Kushtia, to the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, or if passed by the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, to the Government of Bengal. Until, however, the order shall have been reversed by a higher authority it must be carried out.

Appointment of depôt agent.

24. If the contractor does not himself live in his depot premises, he shall appoint, subject to the approval of the Superintendent, a proper person as his agent, who shall reside there constantly, and conduct the business on the contractor's responsibility. Every such agent shall be registered in the Superintendent's office.

Infringement of rules by contractor's agent.

25. Every contractor shall be responsible for any offence against the rules committed by his agent at any place in the same manner and to the same extent as though he himself had committed such offence.

Depôt registers and returns.

26. The contractor, or his agent, shall keep depot registers in the prescribed forms (Nos. 11, 14, and 21 respectively), and shall punctually and accurately make the required entries therein. Monthly returns of accommodation and of sickness in depot shall likewise be prepared in the prescribed forms (Nos. 12 and 13 respectively), and punctually forwarded to the office of the Superintendent by the 15th of the month following that for which they become due. Any default in these respects, or in the submission of prescribed returns generally when due, shall render the agent liable to loss of his appointment, and the contractor failing to adopt promptly the necessary remedial measures to cancellation of his license.

Appointment of depôt medical officer.

27. A resident medical officer to be licensed by the Medical Inspector shall be appointed by each contractor to his depot, and his name shall be registered in the Superintendent's office. He shall be paid by the contractor, but shall be directly responsible to the Medical Inspector, who shall give him written instructions for his guidance. He shall not be dismissed without the consent of the Medical Inspector. He shall keep a hospital register in the prescribed form (No. 14), and shall, besides his other duties, assist in making out the monthly returns of sickness and mortality.

Responsibility of contractors in caring for emigrants.

28. The contractor, either directly or through his agent, shall be responsible for the good treatment and care of the emigrants, none of whom shall be discharged from the depot without the permission of the Superintendent. He shall, moreover, be responsible to the Medical Inspector specially for the sanitary state of the depot, and for the feeding, clothing and medical treatment of all the emigrants accommodated therein.

Quality of clothing according to approved sample.

29. The clothing and blankets to be supplied to emigrants shall be according to scale, and of a quality equal to samples to be approved by the Superintendent and retained in his office.

35 Emigrants shall wash their clothes at least twice a week when possible and shall bathe daily A liberal supply of soap shall be provided for the purpose

Appliances for ablution purposes

36 Emigrants shall not be permitted to wash their clothes and persons in the depot tanks, but approved appliances for ablution purposes shall be specially provided on a suitable site so drained as to prevent the waste water from returning into the tank or other sources of water supply The water for all purposes shall be frequently examined by the Medical Inspector, and the contractor or his agent shall be held responsible for any failure in providing good, wholesome water

Airing of emigrants clothing

37 Emigrants shall be compelled to dust out and air their clothes and blankets daily, and shall not be allowed to remain in damp clothes

Cooking and feeding arrangements

38 Regular hours shall be set apart for cooking and feeding, and no cooking shall be allowed at any other time except for invalids, nor in any place except the cooking sheds, where alone emigrants shall feed and smoke

Daily inspection of meals by depôt medical officer

39 The rations issued daily to each labourer and dependent in depot shall be according to the scale laid down in Schedule B, and the meals and drinking-water shall invariably be examined by the resident medical officer before being served out When necessary, food suitable for infants and invalids (fresh milk, soup, sago, &c) shall be freshly prepared and regularly supplied throughout the twenty-four hours Any neglect of infants or invalids on the part of the contractor, his agent, or resident medical officer, shall render such contractor liable to cancellation of license, or such agent or medical officer to the loss of appointment

Cleaning of cooking utensils

40 After meals the resident medical officer shall see that the cooking sheds are carefully swept out, that all cooking utensils are thoroughly cleaned, and that no stale food is secreted either by the cooks or emigrants

Employment of emigrants

41 Excepting the hospital, latrines, drains, and receptacles for kitchen and other filth, which shall be kept constantly cleaned by the sweepers, the garden, sheds, and every part of the depot shall be kept clean and in good order by the emigrants The emigrants, if they consent to work, shall be regularly employed, but without fatigue, and kept as much as possible in the open air

Cleanliness of depôt premises

42 The peons on duty shall be constantly about the depot, and shall preserve order and cleanliness everywhere, especially during cooking and feeding and inspections They shall see that no jungle or rubbish is permitted to accumulate in the depôt compound, that the spaces under and around the sleeping and other sheds are kept clean, and that the sweepers do their work regularly

Prevention of other use of sleeping sheds

43 No cooking, feeding, or smoking shall be permitted in the sleeping sheds, which shall be kept thoroughly clean, well ventilated, and water-tight

Prevention of overcrowding in sleeping sheds

44 The emigrants shall be properly distributed at night in their sleeping sheds, according to the number each shed is licensed to accommodate, and shall be prevented from crowding together

Extinguishing of lights at night

45. Excepting locked lanterns hung in the dispensary, hospital, and at the entrance of every sleeping shed, and a light in the durwan's room, all lights and fires shall be put out by 9 o'clock at night.

Disposal of excreta.

46 Excreta from the hospital or latrines, and filth of any description, shall not be buried within at least one thousand feet of any source of drinking-water, nor be thrown into stagnant pools and nalas, which may happen to be near the depôts

47 The contractor or his agent shall, under such arrangements as may be authorized, provide for the vaccination of every emigrant unprotected from small-pox as soon as possible after admission into the depot

Vaccination of emigrants

48 Sick emigrants, excepting those suffering from cholera or other dangerously communicable disease, and otherwise provided for, shall not be sent to any other than the depot hospital, nor be removed thence, nor from the depot, without the written permission of the Medical Inspector

Treatment of sick emigrants

49 In the event of cholera or small-pox or other dangerously communicable disease appearing in the depot, every labourer or dependent attacked shall immediately be sent to the authorized hospital for treatment, and the relatives of the affected persons, it any, not accompanying the patient, shall at the same time be placed in the segregation shed situated in an isolated part of the depôt compound, and shall not be removed thence without the written permission of the Medical Inspector A report of the case shall then be submitted to the Medical Inspector, and within twenty four hours the Superintendent shall be furnished with a descriptive statement, in the prescribed form (No 17), of every emigrant sent to the authorized hospital, together with the reason for such removal In the event of any emigrant sent to hospital dying or being permitted to return to the depot the death or re-admission of such emigrant shall be similarly reported to the Superintendent in form No 18

Procedure on outbreak of serious communicable disease

50. Clothing, blankets, and mats that have been in contact with persons suffering from dangerously communicable disease (e g, small-pox or cholera), hospital dressings, foul rags, and all combustible filth, shall be regularly and thoroughly burnt in a safe and suitable place, and in the presence of the resident medical officer The segregation shed, immediately it ceases to be occupied, shall be carefully cleaned out and disinfected by fumigation or other efficient means

Destruction of infected clothing

51 On the death of any intending emigrant, the contractor, or agent, or medical officer shall immediately make an inventory of the property of such emigrant in a register in the prescribed form (No 21), to be kept for the purpose, and shall forward such property as early as practicable to the office of the Superintendent for disposal The claims made by relatives in depot, if any, shall duly be communicated to the Superintendent, who shall, after making enquiry as to the heirs, dispose of the estate as circumstances may render necessary

Disposal of property of deceased emigrants

52 Every emigrant, whose labour contract is cancelled under the orders of Government in consequence of any irregularity that may have occurred in connection with his recruitment, shall, in the event of such contract being cancelled before the emigrant reaches the labour district, be returned to his native district together with his dependents, if any, at the expense of the contractor on whose behalf such emigrant was recruited The expense of providing an escort or of making any other arrangements that may be found necessary for ensuring the conveyance of any emigrant to his native district shall also be borne by the contractor concerned in the recruitment of such emigrant

Disposal of irregularly recruited emigrants

In case of failure by the contractor concerned to pay the expenses ordered, they will be paid by the officer ordering the same and recovered with interest thereon at the rate of 12 per centum from the date of payment

53 Emigrants who are not engaged within thirty days of their arrival at any depot shall be returned through the Superintendent's office to the districts where registered at the expense of the contractor, except when such emigrants elect to continue in such depot in the hope of being ultimately engaged, or desire to be transferred to the depot of some other contractor, or prefer to be discharged from the depot, in which last case they shall, previous to discharge, be paid such compensation as may be ordered by the Superintendent At the close of every month the contractor or his agent shall forward to the Superintendent's office a statement in the prescribed form (No 22) of all the emigrants remaining in depot over thirty days without execution of contract

Procedure on contractors failing to provide contract

54 All emigrants that are declared by the Medical Inspector to be unfit to emigrate, and are finally rejected by the contractor or his agent, shall be returned through the Superintendent's office to the districts of registration at the expense of the contractor, unless they of their own accord insist on being discharged on the spot, when they shall be treated, save in respect of compensation, in the same manner as emigrants for whom contractors fail to find employment

Disposal of rejected emigrants

55 All rejected emigrants shall be examined by the Medical Inspector on the day that they are to be returned to their districts, and only those that are certified by him to be able to travel shall be forwarded to the Superintendent's office for disposal, while the rest shall be detained in depot under treatment until the Medical Inspector certifies to their being in a fit state to undertake the journey

Medical examination of rejected emigrants

56 When the employer or his agent has selected in any depot the labourers required by him, a written application for the placing of such labourers on contract shall be sent by the contractor concerned or his agent to the Superintendent of Emigration at least one day before the date fixed upon for execution of contract

Application for execution of labour contracts.

57 Labourers intending to execute contracts, when placed before the Superintendent, shall have their copies of registration in their hands, and their blankets, clothing, and utensils, according to the scale prescribed in Schedule A, arranged beside them for inspection

Arrangements for examination of labourers.

58 The Superintendent, when placing labourers on contract, shall invariably satisfy himself that the employer or his agent has affixed his signature to all the contract papers, and that the labourers thoroughly understand and accept the terms and conditions of the contract they are executing An abstract of every such contract shall be entered in a register to be kept by the Superintendent in the prescribed form (No 19)

Knowledge and acceptance of terms by labourers.

59 Labourers who have executed contracts shall be inspected by the Medical Inspector before despatch from the depot with reference to their fitness to travel, and to that end a written application for such final inspection shall be forwarded by the contractor concerned or his agent to the Medical Inspector at least one day previous to the date of the intended despatch of such labourers to the districts for which engaged

Medical inspection of contract labourers

PART V - Despatches

60 Every contractor preparing to despatch emigrants to Assam, Cachar, or Sylhet, shall ascertain whether other contractors purpose despatching at the same time, and shall in communication with them, and subject to the Superintendent's approval, fix the date of despatch and arrange accordingly, allowing ample time for the discharge of all duties connected with the transport of emigrants under the Act

Despatch of emigrants to labour districts

61 The Superintendent or his assistant, and the contractor or his agent shall be present at every despatch of emigrants by train, steamer, or boat, and the contractor or his agent shall give timely notice to the Superintendent or to his assistant of every such intended despatch

Supervision of despatch of emigrants

62 The contractor shall be responsible for the making of all necessary provision to ensure the health, safety, and comfort of emigrants during transit to the place of embarkation, or to their final landing-place when despatched in country-boats He shall supply the clothing according to scale in all cases, but in the case of boat-despatches he shall also supply the provisions, medical stores, medical officer, and attendants as prescribed in the schedules annexed to the rules

Provision for emigrants on the journey

63 Every batch, prior to despatch from depot, shall be provided with a way-bill in the prescribed form (No 20), and the contractor or his agent shall caution the person in charge to take care of the document, to make it over to the Embarkation Agent concerned on arrival at the place of embarkation, and if returned to him by that officer, to observe strictly the instructions therein laid down for his guidance

Provision of way bill for journey

64 The daily despatch of emigrants shall be previously arranged for by the contractor or forwarding agent with the Railway authorities concerned, so as to prevent overcrowding by the securing of sufficient carriage accommodation for the whole number of emigrants intending to travel

Arrangements for railway journey

65 The contractor or garden-sardar shall provide for emigrants started on a railway journey after 9 A M a cooked meal, and for those started at or before that hour, if a cooked meal cannot be provided, a dry meal instead, consisting of bread or biscuit and sugar in the proportion of one pound of bread or two large biscuits and one ounce of sugar to each emigrant of and above ten years of age, and half the above quantities to each emigrant under the age of ten years Also, if the journey between two halting stations is likely to occupy more than six hours, bread or biscuit and sugar in the same proportions shall be given by the contractor or garden-sardar for distribution to the emigrants for consumption during the journey

Provision of food for railway journey

66 In the case of boat despatches, provisions and the establishment of cooks and topasses shall either precede or accompany the emigrants on their way to the place of embarkation

Attendance of establishment.

67 If the journey be by train, the emigrants, accompanied by the contractor or agent concerned, shall be at the railway station fully half an hour earlier than the time fixed for departure, and shall be seated in their carriages at least five minutes before the train starts Every batch shall be accompanied by the peon or other person in charge as appointed by the contractor or his agent

Early arrival of emigrants at railway station.

68 Any emigrants suddenly taken ill at the railway station shall be sent immediately to the depot or other authorized hospital accompanied by his relatives and dependents

Return to hospital of sick emigrants

69 When a medical officer has been appointed by Government to examine emigrants, no emigrants shall be put into the train without being inspected and passed as fit to undertake the journey by such officer

Medical examination of emigrants

70 When despatching emigrants by train, the purest drinking-water obtainable shall be supplied by contractors or forwarding agents in a sufficient number of suitable vessels conveniently placed with the emigrants in the carriages In the absence of latrine arrangements, emigrants shall be afforded opportunities for leaving their carriages at three selected watering stations between Sara and Parbatipur, one-third of the carriages at a time being emptied to admit of the station latrines being used and of additional supplies of drinking-water being obtained

Supply of water for railway journey.

71 Emigrants about to travel by train shall be accommodated in third-class carriages specially reserved for them, or in suitably constructed goods waggons, and the number in each carriage or goods waggon shall in no case exceed the regulation number When a goods train is used for carrying emigrants, the speed shall not be less than 15 miles an hour on the broad gauge and 12 miles an hour on the metre gauge, exclusive of halts for the convenience of emigrants, but not of other halts

Reserved accommodation for emigrants.

72 The train journey of emigrants under conveyance from recruiting districts direct to Dhubri or to Goalundo shall be performed by the Manihari Ghât or Hooghly-Naihati route

Route to be taken for train journey

73 The agent shall arrange with the railway guard in charge to inform emigrants of the opportunities, as they occur on the journey, of leaving their carriage for a time, and to warn them as to the time by which they should return to their carriages.

Alighting at railway station en route.

74 The contractor or his agent, when despatching emigrants by train, shall, immediately on arriving at the railway station, send a telegram to the contractor's agent at the place of embarkation, intimating the intended despatch and ordering a cooked meal to be prepared against the arrival of the batch

Telegram advising despatch of emigrants.

75 The contractor's agent at the place of embarkation shall immediately on receipt of the telegram notifying despatch forward it for information to the Embarkation Agent

Communication of telegram to Embarkation Agent.

CHAPTER III

GARDEN SARDARS' SYSTEM OF RECRUITMENT

76 Every employer of labour, in charge of any estate in a labour district, desiring to obtain, under section 59 of the Act, a license (form No 24) for any person to be a local agent for the purpose of representing him in the recruiting districts, and supervising the collection of labourers by his garden sardars, shall apply to the Superintendent of Emigration authorized to grant such license, either directly or through his agent

Application for local agent's license

77 If any employer applies for a special license under section 62 (form No 25) on behalf of any local agent, in order to enable him to engage labourers without the intervention of a garden-sardar, and such local agent is at the time representing other employers by virtue of a license under section 59, the written consent of all such other employers to the grant of such special license shall invariably be obtained and furnished with the application

Application for local agent's special license

78 Every local agent shall be held responsible for the proper conduct of recruitment by garden-sardars working under his supervision; and shall see that their recruiting operations are in all respects distinct and apart from those of contractors and their employés

Responsibility of local agent

79 In every case in which the physical fitness for labour of intending emigrants is required by any employer in his sardar's certificate (form No 23) to be determined previous to registration, the local agent, if any, or the sardar of such employer, shall ensure the necessary medical examination in form No 27, and be otherwise directly responsible for the class of labourers engaged to proceed to the labour district

Medical examination of labourers as to physical fitness.

80 It shall be the duty of the District Magistrate to see that every place approved for the accommodation of intending emigrants recruited by garden-sardars is regularly and thoroughly inspected by the officers charged with that duty

Inspection of places of accommodation for sardari labourers

81 Every emigrant, whose labour contract is cancelled under the orders of Government in consequence of any irregularity that may have occurred in connection with his recruitment shall, in the event of such contract being cancelled before the emigrant reaches the labour district, be returned to his native district together with his dependents, if any, at the expense of the employer on whose behalf such emigrant was recruited The expense of providing an escort or of making any other arrangements that may be found necessary for ensuring the conveyance of any emigrant to his native district shall also be borne by the employer concerned in the recruitment of such emigrant

Disposal of irregularly recruited emigrants.

In case of failure by the garden-sardar concerned to pay the expenses ordered, they will be paid by the officer ordering the same and recovered with interest thereon from the employer or his local agent at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the date of payment

82 The way-bill (form No 28) required by section 76 to be provided for the journey shall be carefully and correctly filled in with all the necessary particulars regarding the labourers forming the batch by the sardar or other person appointed to accompany them to their destination, and local agents, if any, shall be held responsible for the garden-sardar's fulfilment of this duty.

Provision of way bill for journey

83 On the arrival of a batch of labourers at its destination, or port of disembarkation, as the case may be, the sardar or other person in charge shall make over the way-bill of the batch to the employer of such labourers, who, after endorsing thereon his remarks, shall forward it to the district or subdivisional magisterial officer for information and transmission to the Embarkation Agent or the Superintendent of Emigration concerned in the despatch of the labourers

Return of way bills for employers

CHAPTER IV

TRANSPORT

PART I —General Rules

84 The Medical Inspector at every place of embarkation shall see that the embarkation depots are kept in proper order, and shall exercise the same powers in respect of them as are exercised in respect of depôts by Medical Inspectors, reporting for the information of the Superintendent concerned any failure of contractors or their employés to attend to his orders Water and conservancy arrangements shall receive special attention

Supervision of embarkation depots

85 Exclusive of hospital, gangways, ventilating hatches, and space for crew and attendants, and in respect of boats for rowing and baling out, properly sheltered deck space shall be provided on board steamers, flats or boats at the rate of ten superficial feet to each emigrant, computed with reference to section 92 of the Act, during the months of November, December, and January, and of twelve superficial feet for the remaining months of the year In steamers of the daily mail service, besides suitable and available space on main deck fore and after cabins also may be measured for the accommodation of emigrants, at an increased rate per emigrant of twelve and fourteen superficial feet respectively

Measurement of deck space

86 Hospital space shall be provided for five per cent of the total number of emigrants to be carried, computed with reference to section 92 of the Act, but such space shall be allotted at double the rate allowed for healthy adults, viz, twenty or twenty four superficial feet to each statute adult, according to season, making reasonable allowance for space occupied by other requirements

Measurement of hospital space

PART II —Fittings of Steamers and Flats

87 It shall be ascertained that the term for which the Shipwright's and Engineer-surveyor's certificates were granted to the vessels has not expired, or will not expire during the passage

Shipwright's and Engineer surveyor's certificates

88 All fittings shall be provided entirely on board that vessel which is to convey the emigrants to their destination, but, if necessary and with the Medical Inspector's consent, the hospital may be provided on an upper deck of the adjoining flat or steamer, if it accompany for the entire journey

Situation of fittings of emigrant vessels

89 The roof of every vessel shall be strong, water-tight, and not less than five feet in height at its junction with the stanchions on either side If of corrugated-iron, the roof must not only be lined or thatched with matting, &c, as a protection against heat, but, on steamers, must also be fitted either with skylights or ridge-ventilators, which shall have a ventilating area of not less than ten superficial feet to every hundred emigrants, computed as in section 92 of the Act, accommodated on board, and shall be so constructed as to exclude rain and allow the free escape of heated air In steamers of the daily mail service, the ventilating area may be reduced to not less than six superficial feet to every hundred emigrants

Roofs of emigrant vessels

90 The space measured off for emigrants shall be fitted along the sides of the vessel, with a boarding three feet high, rising from the plankshear of the vessel, and with thick and sound canvas curtains hanging from roof to deck, with ventilating space under the eaves, and fastening closely to the deck below But from the months of October to March, both inclusive, the three feet boarding shall completely enclose the emigrants's deck space, and besides the side curtains, there shall be similar curtains hung, one at each end of the deck, so as to convert the entire space allotted to emigrants into a thoroughly sheltered compartment, with ventilating spaces near the roof for the exit of heated and unwholesome air This large compartment shall, moreover, be subdivided into three smaller compartments by a couple of intermediate curtains stretched right across the deck space, from one side of the vessel to the other, but these two curtains, instead of extending almost up to the roof, as those at the sides and ends must do, shall be raised to a height of six feet only, measuring from the deck upwards, the space above being left clear and open for the purposes of free ventilation In steamers of the daily mail service, the height of the boarding may be reduced to not less than two feet nine inches, and such boarding may not be continued round the stern of the vessel, but a suitable removable curtain following the iron rail may be substituted therefor.

Enclosure of deck space for emigrants

91 The space for emigrants shall be protected also against spray from the paddle-wheels, otherwise the space opposite the paddleboxes on both sides of steamer, and on one side of a flat, if it is to be lashed alongside during the voyage, shall not be measured for the accommodation of emigrant passengers

Protection of emigrants deck space against wet

92 In order to prevent the heat of the funnel from raising the temperature of the emigrants' deck, in all steamers, in which the space immediately over the engines is neither excluded and railed off, nor ventilated above by skylights or other means, that portion of the funnel between such passengers' deck and the roof shall be enclosed, at a distance of at least eighteen inches all round, by a strong wooden air-shaft or casing, which shall be carried through the deck at the lower end, and through the roof at the upper, so as to afford free exit above the roof for the body of warm air immediately surrounding the funnel In steamers of the daily mail service, such wooden casing may be dispensed with, if the iron casing provided for exit of warm air is found to be sufficiently protective but not otherwise

Casing of funnel

93 The space intended for hospital purposes shall be provided on the upper deck of the steamer or flat, and a canvas screen shall divide it off from the rest of the deck space

Situation of hospital

94 A suitable compartment, approved by the Medical Inspector, shall be set apart for a dispensary, and bamboos shall be fastened, fore and aft, along the central stanchions within the emigrants' deck space, in order to enable the emigrants to hang up their bundles and blankets for the day

Compartment for dispensary

95 All dangerously exposed places near hatches ladders, bathing places, latrines, communication and landing stages, shall be securely railed in against accidents

Railing in of unprotected openings

96 Embarkation, landing, and all communicating stages likely to be used by emigrants shall be at least three feet wide, well fastened, and provided with hand-rails—a requirement that shall be strictly complied with whenever emigrants are to be embarked or landed In steamers of the daily mail service, the width of the stages may not be less than two feet

Embarkation and landing stages

97 One or two fire-proof cabooses, fitted inside with brick and plaster, and sufficiently large to accommodate the full number of boilers, according to scale, shall be firmly secured in the after part of the vessel, and so placed as to prevent any risk of contamination from the hospital

Cabooses for emigrants

98 Four iron water-tanks, each capable of containing four hundred gallons of water, shall be provided on board, and each such tank shall be fitted with at least three moderate-sized taps, of simple construction, capable of being secured against use when desirable, and with a padlocked iron cover, besides a canvas over-all to exclude dust, &c A ship's force-pump, with hose complete, shall also be provided for the exclusive purpose of supplying water to the tanks, and shall on no ground whatever, excepting an outbreak of fire on board, be otherwise used These tanks shall be conveniently placed, and filled before the arrival of the steamer at the place of embarkation, with the best water available, for the exclusive use of the emigrants The water of two of the tanks only shall be in use at the same time, the remaining two tanks being reserved as settling tanks In steamers of the daily mail service, the tanks may be reduced to two, each capable of containing 200 gallons of water, and be placed below, with a pump arrangement on deck, for the supply of water for drinking and cooking purposes through three moderate-sized taps

Iron tanks for drinking water

99 Every vessel licensed to carry emigrants shall be provided with a covered trough, fitted with at least six large and simple taps, placed at such distances apart as to admit of six persons abreast washing their clothes at the same time, and connected with a fixed pump for the constant supply of water therein Two such troughs shall be provided when the number of emigrants to be carried exceeds three hundred, computed with reference to section 92 of the Act

Troughs for washing purposes

100 A sufficiently large and well protected space for bathing shall be set apart for the use of the emigrants, and shall be fitted with a suitable shower bath of simple construction, and capable of distributing the shower over a large area, with a moveable canvas screen, to be invariably used when women are bathing, and with a suitable pump for supplying water thereto, which may be utilized also for filling the trough

Arrangements for bathing of emigrants

101 Latrines with doors in front shall be securely fitted as far aft as possible, and at some distance from the deck space for emigrants, from their drinking water and from the cooking places, &c, and in every compartment a metal vessel, secured by a chain, shall be provided for drawing river water for washing purposes The inside of every compartment, as well as the metal vessel and chain, shall be painted with coal-tar—a process that shall be repeated at the close of every trip after the compartment has been thoroughly cleaned In steamers of the daily mail service, three latrines may be provided in one of the sponson-deck houses, to be set apart exclusively for the purpose

Latrines for emigrants.

102 There shall be two separate sets of latrines for males and females respectively placed, if possible, on opposite sides of the deck, and each set shall consist of at least four compartments for the use of any number up to two hundred emigrants, and of one additional compartment for every hundred

Size and number of latrines

in excess of the first two hundred, reference in counting numbers being had to section 92 of the Act In steamers of the daily mail service, the deck house set apart for the latrines shall have at least three compartments for males and three compartments for females

Lanterns

103 Lanterns shall be hung up in their places ready for use

Boats and life buoys

104 Two life-buoys shall hang over or near the stern of every vessel, and the boats shall be in good working order, and fitted with requisites for immediate use, when necessary In steamers of the daily mail service, the number of buckets may be reduced to ten

Provision of fire engine and appliances

105 All emigrant passenger vessels shall have on board a fire engine, with a sufficiently long flexible hose, that would be capable of discharging water over every part of the vessel, fire-buckets, and all other appliances needful in case of fire The fire-buckets shall be twenty in number, and they, as well as all other fittings, shall always be kept in a proper place, in good order, and be ready for use on the shortest notice

PART III.—Embarkation Agent

Notice of readiness to embark emigrants

106 Emigrants shall not be embarked unless everything is perfectly ready, and the vessel is prepared to start, of which timely notice shall be sent to the Embarkation Agent

Presence of emigration officers at embarkation

107 The Embarkation Agent, the Medical Inspector, the contractor concerned or his agent, the medical officer, and the peon or other person in charge of labourers, shall be present at every embarkation of emigrants If the number to be embarked be small, a competent assistant may be deputed by the Embarkation Agent and the Medical Inspector to supervise the embarkation

Stoppage of traffic during embarkation

108 During embarkation, all traffic, unless carried on by means of a separate stage and gangway, and every kind of work interfering with embarkation, shall be stopped

Tally of emigrants at embarkation

109 Two men shall be stationed at the gangway, one to count and the other to keep a careful tally of the number of emigrants as they come on board, one by one, in answer to their names

Examination of emigrants on board in bad weather

110 The emigrants shall be mustered and examined under shelter on board, if the weather at the time of embarkation be unfavourable

Identification of emigrants with their way bills

111 The emigrants divided into batches under their peons and sardars, shall be called on board by name, one at a time, and identified with those on the way-bills of the batches to be embarked

Detention of sick emigrant

112 Any emigrant taken ill and unfit to go shall be detained and sent to the hospital depot, and such of his relatives and dependents, if any, as desire to remain or whom it is, for sufficient reason, deemed proper to retain, shall be detained

Mustering of establishment on board

113 When all are on board, the embarkation stage shall be removed, and the establishment of peons, sardars, and topasses shall be mustered in order to see that they are present according to scale Then all embarkation papers shall be carefully corrected signed, and delivered, after which the vessel shall leave as speedily as possible, the Embarkation Agent or his assistant remaining at the ghat till she starts

Despatch of copies of way bills to officers concerned

114 As soon as possible after a vessel leaves, the Embarkation Agent shall forward, duly completed up to date of embarkation, the copies of the way bills of the despatched batches to the labour district officer and to the Superintendent of Emigration respectively for information

PART IV.—Masters of vessels

Provision of fittings in licensed vessel

115 The master of any vessel intending to apply for a license to carry more than twenty emigrant passengers shall provide the permanent fittings as prescribed in the rules 84 to 105, and shall thereafter apply in writing to the Superintendent of Emigration, or other officer duly empowered by the local Government for an inspection of such fittings, and of the legal capacity of the deck space for the accommodation of such passengers

Superintendent's certificate of approval of fittings

116 The Superintendent or other officer shall thereupon examine the fittings, and, after satisfying himself that the requirements of the rules have been complied with, shall grant a certificate of approval in form No 29, specifying the number of emigrant passengers that the vessel may carry

Provision by master against carrying labourers

117 The master of any vessel intending to carry labourers as emigrant passengers under his license shall provide the following —

(a) Stores, medicines, medical comforts, and cooking utensils in accordance with the requirements of Schedules B, C and D

(b) A medical officer licensed by the Medical Inspector or other officer so empowered

(c) The establishment of attendants as prescribed in Schedule E

Master's application for license

118 On arrival at Goalundo, the master desiring a license shall make a written application to the Embarkation Agent, or other officer duly empowered by the local Government, and shall in such application state the following particulars —

(a) Whether the terms for which the shipwright's and engineer surveyor's certificates were granted have expired, or will expire during the passage

(b) Whether any accident to the vessel for which license is desired, or epidemic among the passengers, occurred during the previous trip

(c) Whether the permanent fittings prescribed by the rules governing transport have been provided, and the requisite certificate of their approval obtained from the officer so authorized

(d) Whether it is intended to carry labourers, and if so, whether the medical officer, the establishment of attendants, and the stores as prescribed in the rules and schedules have been provided

(e) Whether the deck space intended for the accommodation of native passengers has been cleared of cargo, and the stores for labourers, if any, conveniently arranged for survey

He shall at the same time be prepared for survey by clearing the whole or such portion of the deck space as may be intended for the accommodation of emigrant passengers, and, if labourers are to be carried, by having the prescribed provisions and other stores arranged conveniently for examination

Survey of vessel's fittings and stores

119 The Embarkation Agent or other officer as aforesaid, on receipt of the application for license, shall, in consultation with the Medical Inspector, hold the survey of the vessel's fittings and available space, and, if labourers are to be carried, of the requisite stores, at which both master and medical officer are to be present The certificate of approval granted under Rule 116 shall be produced by the master at such survey, and the Embarkation Agent or other officer as aforesaid shall accept the permanent fittings as therein described on satisfying himself that they have not since been altered or damaged He shall also, in the event of the entire deck space being reserved for emigrant passengers accept and enter in the prescribed form of license (form No 30 or 31), which he may in his discretion grant to the master, the number such space is stated in the certificate to be capable of accommodating, but if only a part of such space be reserved, he shall, after ascertaining the number that may be accommodated therein, specify in the license such number only

Special examination of unhealthy vessels

120 A special examination shall invariably be made by the Medical Inspector of any vessel in which much sickness has occurred on the voyage immediately preceding, and the license applied for by the master shall not be granted unless the master carries out such measures of cleaning, disinfecting, deck-caulking, &c, as the Medical Inspector may think necessary If a vessel is found to be recurringly unhealthy for emigrants after material alterations and improvements have been made in her accommodation, a license shall be refused her

Grant of licenses on approval of arrangements

121 After everything has been examined and approved, the master and the medical officer shall sign the prescribed provision and medical store lists and final landing statements (forms Nos 32 33 and 34 respectively) and when the Embarkation Agent is satisfied that all is correct, and that the master of the steamer has a copy of the Act and Rules, he shall license the vessel

Location of all passengers on the same deck

122 Free emigrants and passengers other than labourers may be accommodated on board the same vessel with labourers and on the same deck, provided that the total number under conveyance does not exceed the maximum number specified in the license, but such passengers shall on no consideration be permitted to locate themselves within the spaces specially allotted for the use of emigrant passengers proceeding under the Act

Exclusion of animals from the emigrants deck

123 Horses, pigs, and other animals shall not be allowed on the same deck with the emigrants Vicious animals shall not be allowed on the same vessel with the emigrants

Freedom of emigrants deck from cargo

124 Masters shall see that the deck space for emigrants is kept clear of cargo, &c, so long as emigrants are under conveyance, and that ladders, stages, &c, are safely secured and railed with a double railing

Joint responsibilities of master and medical officer

125 The master of an emigrant vessel and the medical officer in charge, whose professional training and capacity must be equal to that of an apothecary or Assistant Surgeon, shall conjointly be responsible for the care and good treatment of the emigrants during the passage The medical officer shall strictly carry out the special instructions contained in the form (No 35) delivered to him by the Embarkation Agent for his guidance

126 The medical officer shall insist upon the establishment specially entertained for attendance on the emigrants discharging their duties punctually and properly, and the master shall render all the assistance in his power to the medical officer, in order that he may maintain discipline on board, and conform strictly with all the requirements of the rules regulating transport

Assistance of master to medical officer

127 Peons, garden-sardars, or other persons in charge of emigrants shall obey the instructions of the master and the medical officer, and shall immediately report to them any neglect of duty or occurrence of disease, or accidents or disagreements affecting the emigrants The master and the medical officer shall thoroughly investigate the matter under report as soon as possible thereafter

Duties of establishment for emigrants

128 Peons and sardars shall have their day and night duties fairly divided and clearly defined When there are sick emigrants in hospital, peons, sardars and topasses shall be deputed to hospital duty, so that the sick may constantly be cared for, and the attendants on duty shall be regularly relieved by others in rotation Careful night nursing of the sick by the attendants shall be strictly insisted on, and looked to by the medical officer

Appointment of watchers for hospital

129 As soon after the embarkation as possible, the emigrants shall be comfortably berthed, and their bundles searched for any indigestible food, grain, or old rags they may have contrived to take with them, all of which shall be thrown overboard This precaution shall receive repeated attention throughout the passage

Destruction of objectionable articles found with emigrants

130 The emigrants' deck space shall not be encroached upon in any way by either crew or passengers other than emigrants, nor shall they be permitted to interfere with the emigrants The topasses shall sweep the decks morning and evening and after every meal, and shall keep them always clean and dry

Protection of emigrants against interference by crew

131 The decks shall be cleaned by the emigrants daily, but shall be washed only when weather, time, and other circumstances permit, the emigrants being landed or accommodated on another deck till their deck is thoroughly dry

Cleaning of emigrants deck

132 The latrines shall be constantly cleaned and disinfected, and occasionally fumigated Attention shall also be paid to the cleanliness and disinfection of the bed-pans when in use

Disinfection of latrines

133 Whenever the weather permits, the side curtains shall be raised to admit of free ventilation of air, and under all circumstances thorough ventilation shall be promoted by every available means

Promotion of ventilation of emigrants deck

134 The emigrants on rising in the morning shall, after well shaking them, fold and sling their blankets out of the way

Disposal of emigrants blanket

135 The emigrants shall be mustered every morning, and examined by the medical officer Those who are well shall, weather permitting, bathe daily, and wash their clothes at least twice a week

Daily mustering of emigrants

136 Emigrants' clothes, mats, and blankets shall be aired and put in the sun as often as possible, especially after damp weather

Airing of emigrants clothing

137 Rations shall be issued daily by the medical officer according to the scale prescribed in schedule B and sufficiently early to admit of the food being prepared for distribution punctually at 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 4 o'clock in the afternoon , and all such issues, as well as those of medical comforts shall immediately thereafter be entered by such officer in the prescribed provision and other lists, and certified by him and the master concerned Boiling rice in bad water shall not be permitted , and when the food is ready, the medical officer shall invariably satisfy himself as to its being properly cooked, and shall see that it is fairly distributed Stale food shall not be kept by either cooks or emigrants , and all utensils shall be cleaned out and shewn to the medical officer after each meal Motherless infants and invalids shall have suitable and freshly prepared food (milk, soup, sago, &c) ordered for them every three or four hours

Attention to emigrants food by medical officer

138 In the event of any pilfering of stores being detected immediate enquiry shall be made by the medical officer and master, and the offender prosecuted at the first convenient station arrived at thereafter

Prosecution for theft of stores

139 A constant supply of good drinking water shall be kept up in the tanks These shall be used alternately, the water in each being allowed to settle after the addition of alum in the proportion of six grains to the gallon , and every effort shall be made to prevent emigrants from drinking the river water fresh drawn from the side of the vessel The water shall be pumped directly into the tanks from the river in mid-stream, and clear from all possible risk of pollution from the latrine, &c

Drinking water for emigrants

140 Emigrants on board steamers and flats shall not be allowed to draw water from the river over the sides of the vessels, and thereby to incur the risk of accidents

Protection against emigrants drawing river water

Prevention of passengers from crossing over to another vessel

141 The Master of every steamer towing a flat and the Medical Officer in charge shall strictly prohibit all emigrants or other native passengers from crossing over from one vessel to another, and, with this object in view, shall not permit communicating stages between the vessels to be placed where they favour ready intercourse Any communicating stages that may be absolutely necessary for the use of the officers and crew shall be constantly watched, in order to prevent accidents and the spread of of case

Engagement of labourers in work

142 Emigrant passengers as a rule shall not be required to labour during the passage, but in exceptional cases of urgent necessity only such of them as are considered by the Medical Officer to be well fitted for work may be employed, provided that such work is free from extraordinary risk to life, and that the Master supplies those so employed with extra rations at the rate of two and-a-half chittaks of rice and half a chitak of dal for each man per diem The emigrants should always be encouraged to occupy their time with reasonable amusements

Distribution of emigrants at night.

143 They shall be properly arranged at night, and prevented from crowding together and padlocked lanterns shall burn all night in the dispensary and near latrines and gangways

Intimation of vessel's arrival at each station to Magistrate

144 The Master of every licensed vessel on arrival at every place where a Magistrate is stationed shall report to such Magistrate the number of passengers and crew on board, the general state of their health, and the number of deaths that occurred on the passage, and omission to do so shall entail prosecution or refusal of licence to carry emigrants thereafter

Remarks in vessel's way bill by inspecting officers

145 The Master or the Medical Officer shall place the way bill (form No 38) of the vessel received from any Embarkation Agent before the inspecting officers at each station, in order that they may enter their remarks on the several points indicated in such way bill

Facilities for inspection of vessels

146 The Master and the Medical Officer shall furnish to inspecting officers all necessary information, and shall afford them every facility for the satisfactory discharge of their duties under the provisions of the Act and rules

Disposal of vessel's way bill after last inspection

147 After the last official inspection at the place of final debarkation, the Master or Medical Officer shall forward the vessel's way-bill, in original, together with the medical diary, cholera register and issue lists of provisions and medical comforts relating to the emigrants embarked at Goalundo to the Emigration Agent at that place for his remarks, and for transmission to the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, for submission of the way-bill with his remarks to the Local Government as may be required

Landing of emigrants as per vessel's way bill

148 Emigrants shall not be permitted by the Master to land finally at any place excepting that named in the vessel's way bill as their destination, save under circumstances of necessity provided for in the Act and rules

Report of mortality by Masters

149 The Master of a licensed vessel at the close of every trip shall forward to the Embarkation Agent at Dhubri for information and transmission to the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta a mortality return in the prescribed form (No 39), showing the deaths that occurred during the trip among the crew and passengers other than emigrants under the Act

PART V —Medical Officers

Keeping of medical diary and ordinary journal by Medical Officer

150 Every Medical Officer proceeding in charge of emigrants shall keep a medical diary in the prescribed form (No 37), as well as a journal of the principal events of the passage, and shall write them up daily and carefully He shall, moreover on arrival at every inspection station, place the above documents before the inspecting officers for their initials against the into t entry Every death shall be reported immediately to the master of the steamer, who, if there be no relatives on board entitled thereto, shall take over charge of any property or money left by the deceased, and shall deliver the same to the Magistrate at the next station, or at the last place of debarkation for disposal to heirs

Liability of Medical Officers to dismissal

151 Every Medical Officer proceeding in charge of emigrants shall, in case of misconduct or neglect of his duties, or of the requirements of the rules regulating transport, be liable to dismissal on the requisition of any Medical Inspector or other officer so empowered

Regulation of change of diet by Medical Officer

152 All extra food and any change in diet shall be regulated by the Medical Officer only on his own responsibility

Utilization of deck of flat in case of epidemic

153 In the event of an epidemic of dangerously communicable disease occurring on the passage, the Master, required by the Medical Officer, shall give up the upper deck of an available flat for the better distribution of the emigrant passengers

Treatment of sick emigrants

154 Emigrants suffering from slight illness may be attended in their berths, but all serious cases shall be treated in hospital Patients attacked by cholera or small-pox, or other dangerously communicable disease, with all that belongs to them, shall be instantly and thoroughly isolated from the healthy, and the family or batch in which such disease occurred shall be kept on another deck, or as far apart as possible from the rest of the emigrants without exciting alarm

155 Places originally occupied by emigrants removed on account of communicable disease shall be instantly cleaned, and the deck shall be thoroughly scraped and scrubbed with hot sand and disinfecting powder, and, if circumstances admit, fumigation with burning sulphur shall also be carried out

Measures of disinfection of deck

156 Besides the immediate isolation and treatment of the first case of dangerously communicable disease, every precaution shall be taken to prevent an epidemic, strict attention being paid to premonitory symptoms, general and personal cleanliness, careful disinfection and disposal of excreta, disinfection and destruction of infected articles, free ventilation, and care of the healthy On the occurrence of cholera a register of the cases shall be kept in the prescribed form (No 30)

Measures for prevention of an epidemic

157 All clothes, blankets, mats &c that have been in any way in contact with those suffering from serious communicable disease, or have been soiled, or are suspected of infection or impurity, shall be burnt on shore in the presence of the Medical Officer, who should take special care to have them burnt invariably to leeward, or thrown overboard, whenever burning is impracticable

PART VI — Country boats

158 When emigrants are to be conveyed to any labour district in boats, an intelligent head manjhi shall be selected by common consent of the others, and appointed by the Embarkation Agent to exercise general control over them in keeping the boats together, preserving order, and assisting the Medical Officer or other persons in charge during the passage The appointment of a head manjhi, however, shall not lessen the responsibility of each individual manjhi Under the law each one shall be personally liable for every offence or neglect of duty

Appointment of head manjhi

159 If the number under conveyance in a fleet of boats exceeds fifty emigrants, the despatchers of such emigrants shall conjointly provide a Medical Officer - duly licensed by the Medical Inspector or other officer so empowered—to take charge of the boats, and to supply the medicines that may be required for the treatment of the sick during the passage

Appointment of Medical Officer when emigrants exceed fifty souls.

160 A Medical Officer or other person proceeding in charge of emigrants in boats shall be guided by the rules relating to steamers so far as they are applicable to boats

Observance of rules for steamers when applicable to boats.

161 In the case of boat despatches, the contractor or his agent shall place samples of the stores intended for the emigrants before the Embarkation Agent in time to admit of his examining and approving of them prior to holding the final survey of stores on board

Samples of emigrants stores for examination.

162. After everything required under the Act and Rules has been approved, the manjhi and the Medical Officer or other person in charge shall sign the provision lists, and when the Embarkation Agent is satisfied that every requirement has been met, and that the head manjhi in charge of the flotilla has a copy of the Act and Rules, he shall license the boats

Grant of license after approval of arrangements.

163 Boats for the conveyance of emigrants shall be of uniformly moderate size, and strong and water-tight, and shall be provided with side windows having movable jhamps The machan or plank decks masts, sails, oars, rudders, and all other requisites for the efficient management of boats shall be in thoroughly serviceable order, and all bamboo machan decks shall be matted

Description of boats for emigrants.

164 No temporary addition to the size of the roof shall be allowed as a plea for carrying more persons than the boat was originally intended to accommodate, unless there be ample space, and the additional accommodation is in every respect satisfactory

Increase of roof for additional accommodation not ordinarily allowable.

165 A moderate-sized boat shall be selected for a hospital, but if it be insufficient to provide the prescribed hospital space, two or more similar sized boats according to requirement shall be selected in preference to a large one for facility of movement They shall be particularly well ventilated, fitted with plank decks, and subject to the same general conditions as the rest of the boats Emigrants' stores of whatever kind shall on no account be placed in any hospital boat, which shall be distinguished from the passenger boats by a red flag prominently placed

Hospital boat.

166 A small and swift boat shall be provided for the Medical Officer in charge and medical stores The Medical Officer shall always be near the hospital boat, and a call for him from any passenger boat shall be signalled by the waving of a white cloth The Embarkation Agent shall see that simple means of rapid communication are understood by all before they start

Medical Officer's boat.

167 The strongest and driest boats, lined with dunnage, shall be selected for the conveyance of the stores for emigrants, and the manjhis of the boats shall be held responsible for the proper care of such stores.

Boats for emigrant's stores.

Marking of boats passed for emigrants

168 All boats approved for the transport of emigrants to the labour districts shall be marked and numbered (stencilled in paint) thus — T L D on the bow, stern, or other prominent part, and the mark and number shall invariably be entered in each boat's license

Lanterns

Report of accidents to boats to nearest Magistrate.

170 In the event of any of the boats being disabled by accident the Medical Officer or other person in charge shall report such accident, or any other untoward circumstance, to the Magistrate at the nearest civil station, so that remedial measures may be taken and assistance rendered as soon as possible

Control of boats by Medical Officer

171 The Medical Officer shall endeavour to keep the boats forming the flotilla together, and shall keep the hospital boat following the fleet He shall take care that the boats are not changed, and that the hospital boat is used only for the purpose intended

Measures on outbreak of dangerously communicable disease

172 In the event of seriously communicable disease occurring on the passage, the sick shall be removed to the hospital boat, and the healthy shall be landed and made to bathe and wash their clothes, while the boat including its bilge is being thoroughly cleaned and disinfected The emigrants shall not be allowed to re enter their boat till everything is clean and dry about them

General supervision by Medical Officer

173 Besides constant attention to the sick, the Medical Officer shall see that the boats and their bilges are kept clean, that the emigrants are generally clean and well cared for, that foul or infected villages or places are avoided, and that at night the boats are not fastened to any defiled or unwholesome bank

Disposal of surplus stores

174 The surplus of emigrants' stores on board of boats shall, at the end of the passage, or after the emigrants for whom they were shipped have been landed, be made over under certificates of delivery to the agents appointed by the contractors to dispose of such surplus But this shall be done only after such stores have been examined by the inspecting officers, and checked by means of the provision issue statement filled in by the Medical Officer or other person in charge on the passage, and certificates to this effect shall be signed by the Medical Officer or other person in charge and the Debarkation Officer The Medical Officer, or other person in charge, shall not take part in the sale of surplus stores, nor have any interest whatever in the proceeds of such sales, or in the transmission of such proceeds to the contractors concerned Any infringement of this rule by the Medical Officer, or other person in charge, shall render him liable to dismissal and non-employment thereafter

Breach of rules.

175 Whoever commits a breach of any of the following rules under the Act shall be punishable with fine, which may extend to Rs. 500 — Rules 18, 36, 48 to 51, 62 to 70, 74, 75, 83, 117, 122 to 124, 169 and 170

INSTRUCTIONS

1 Dhubri and Goalundo route to Assam—(a) When emigrants are to proceed viâ Dhubri, the person in charge must place them for inspection, together with their way-bill, before the Embarkation Agent at Dhubri, who will endorse his remarks on the way-bill, and then either make it over to the master of the steamer should the batch proceed to destination by water, or return it to the person in charge should the batch proceed to destination by land In the former case, the master must be careful, when emigrants are being finally landed, to make over the way-bill to the Debarkation or final Inspecting Officer concerned for its return with his remarks endorsed thereon to the person in charge of the batch for delivery to the employer After perusal and entry of casualties on the journey to garden, the employer must forward the way-bill to the Magistrate of the district or subdivision, who in turn should forward it to the Embarkation Agent at Dhubri for information and transmission to the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta In the latter case, the person in charge must, on arrival in the district or subdivision in which the garden where the labourers are to work is situate, place the emigrants with their way-bill, before the Magistrate, who will, after endorsing his remarks on the way bill and filling in abstract, return it to the person in charge of the batch for delivery to the employer After perusal and entry of casualties on the journey to garden, the employer must return the way-bill to the Magistrate of the district or subdivision, who in turn should forward it to the Embarkation Agent at Dhubri for information and transmission to the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta

(b) When emigrants are to proceed viâ Goalundo the person in charge must place them for inspection, together with their way-bill, before the Embarkation Agent, or, in his absence, the Magistrate at Goalundo, who will endorse his remarks on the way-bill, and then make it over to the master of the steamer in which the batch is embarked The master, on the steamer's arrival at Dhubri, must place the way-bill before the Embarkation Agent at Dhubri for his endorsement after inspection of the emigrants, and on the completion of the voyage, or when any batch is about to be landed at its destination, make over the document to the Debarkation or final Inspecting Officer concerned for its return with his remarks endorsed thereon to the person in charge of the batch for delivery to the employer After perusal and entry of casualties on the journey to garden, the employer must forward the way-bill to the Magistrate of the district or subdivision, who in turn should forward it to the Embarkation Agent at Goalundo for information and transmission to the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta

2 Goalundo route to Cachar or Sylhet—(a) When emigrants are to proceed by steamer, the person in charge must place them for inspection, together with their way-bill, before the Embarkation Agent, or, in his absence, the Magistrate at Goalundo, who will endorse his remarks on the way-bill, and then make it over to the master of the steamer in which the batch is embarked The master, on the completion of the voyage, or when any batch is about to be landed at its destination, must make over the way-bill to the Debarkation or final Inspecting Officer concerned for its return with his remarks endorsed thereon to the person in charge of the batch for delivery to the employer After perusal and entry of casualties on the journey to garden, the employer must forward the way-bill to the Magistrate of the district or subdivision, who in turn should forward it to the Embarkation Agent at Goalundo for information and transmission to the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta

(b) When emigrants are to proceed by country boat, the person in charge must place them for inspection, together with their way-bill, before the Embarkation Agent, or, in his absence, the Magistrate at Goalundo, the officer in charge of the depot at the port of debarkation, or if there be no debarkation depot, at the place of final landing, and the Magistrate of the district or subdivision in which the garden where the labourers are to work is situate, who will, after endorsing his remarks on the way-bill and filling in abstract, return it to the person in charge of the batch for delivery to the employer After perusal and entry of casualties on the journey to garden, the employer must return the way-bill to the Magistrate of the district or subdivision, who in turn should forward it to the Embarkation Agent or Magistrate concerned in the embarkation for information and transmission to the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta

3 Treatment of emigrants on the journey—The person in charge must take every care of the emigrants during the journey He must give them a cooked meal before they start, and if the journey is likely to occupy more than six hours, he must distribute biscuits and sugar in the proportion of two biscuits and one ounce of sugar to each emigrant of and above ten years of age, and one biscuit and half an ounce of sugar to each emigrant under the age of ten years, and if more than eight hours, dry provision must be supplied such as choora, suttoo, and the like, in such quantity as may be determined by the Superintendent of Emigration or other authorised officer It must be seen that the clothing provided is worn by the emigrants whenever the weather renders such a precaution necessary At the close of every day's march, or of a train journey, the emigrants must be properly housed and provided with a cooked meal and wholesome supply of water for drinking and ablution purposes

4 Any special instructions

5 Obedience to instructions—The instructions on the way-bill must be strictly complied with, and any failure to do so, or ill-treatment of any emigrant, will render the person in charge of the batch liable to punishment under the provisions of section 148 of Act I of 1882, or in case he is a licensed person, to cancellation and refusal of license thereafter

2 Goalundo route to Cachar or Sylhet —(a)—When emigrants are to proceed by steamer, the sardar or person in charge must place them for inspection, together with their way-bill, before the Embarkation Agent, or, in his absence, the Magistrate at Goalundo, who will endorse his remarks on the way-bill, and then make it over to the master of the steamer in which the batch is embarked The master, on the completion of the voyage, or when any batch is about to be landed at its destination, must make over the way-bill to the Debarkation or final Inspecting Officer concerned, for its return with his remarks endorsed thereon to the sardar or person in charge of the batch for delivery to the employer After perusal and entry of casualties on the journey to garden, the employer must forward the way-bill to the Magistrate of the district or subdivision, who in turn should forward it to the Embarkation Agent at Goalundo for information and transmission to the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta

(b)—When emigrants are to proceed by country boat, the sardar or person in charge must place them for inspection, together with their way-bill, before the Embarkation Agent, or, in his absence, the Magistrate at Goalundo, and the Magistrate of the district or subdivision in which the garden where the labourers are to work is situate, who will, after endorsing his remarks on the way-bill and filling in abstract, return it to the sardar or person in charge of the batch for delivery to the employer After perusal and entry of casualties on the journey to garden, the employer must return the way-bill to the Magistrate of the district or subdivision, who in turn should forward it to the Embarkation Agent or Magistrate concerned in the embarkation for information and transmission to the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta

3 Treatment of emigrants on the journey —The sardar or person in charge must take every care of the emigrants during the journey He must give them a cooked meal before they start, and if the journey is likely to occupy more than six hours, he must distribute biscuits and sugar in the proportion of two biscuits and one ounce of sugar to each emigrant of and above ten years of age, and one biscuit and half an ounce of sugar to each emigrant under the age of ten years, and if more than eight hours, dry provision must be supplied, such as choora, suttoo, and the like, in such quantity as may be determined by the Superintendent of Emigration or other authorized officer It must be seen that the clothing provided is worn by the emigrants whenever the weather renders such a precaution necessary At the close of every day's march, or of a train journey, the emigrants must be properly housed, and provided with a cooked meal and wholesome supply of water for drinking and ablution purposes

5 Obedience to instructions —The instructions on the way-bill must be strictly complied with, and any failure to do so, or ill-treatment of any emigrant, will render the sardar

or person in charge of the batch liable to punishment under the provisions of section 153 of Act 1 of 1882, or, in case he is a sardar, to refusal of recruiting certificate thereafter

INSTRUCTIONS

The memorandum on the reverse should be accurately filled in for the information of the Emigration Department

2 All the noteworthy events, occurrences, and incidents of the voyage should be duly reported to the officers who may visit the vessel for the purposes of inspection

3 A journal recording accurately and briefly the daily occurrences of the voyage should be duly written up, and the initials of the Master obtained at the close of each day, and those of the inspecting officers on the dates of their inspections Such journal, together with the special cholera report, if any, a complete way-bill of the Goalundo and Dhubri shipments and any other papers relating to the passage should be posted under cover of a forwarding letter to the Embarkation Agent last concerned in the embarkation of the emigrants under conveyance for endorsement of any remarks he may desire to offer, and for transmission, through any other Embarkation Agent concerned, to the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta

4 The emigrants during the winter months should be made to wear their warm clothing, whenever the conditions of the weather render such a precaution necessary

5 The effects of the emigrants under conveyance to the labour-districts should be searchingly examined under personal supervision after embarkation and at intervals during the voyage, and all improper articles of food and dirty rags found amongst them should be at once removed and destroyed

6 Every care should be taken to secure the serving out of properly cooked food to the emigrants and special and continuous attention should be paid to the regular and proper feeding of infants and children and the sick with milk and other suitable and nourishing diet Strict attention should also be paid to the maintaining of a constant supply of good drinking-water, as well as to the carrying out of the arrangements for the supply of water for bathing and washing purposes

7 At the close of the voyage the disembarkation officer should be requested to examine the quality of the stores supplied on the passage, and to countersign the provision and medical stores lists, if satisfied that the stores have been issued according to scale

8 On the landing of emigrants at their destinations, the Medical Officers hould see that disembarkations are not effected at any but authorized landing-places, and should also carefully fill in health certificates and the abstract on the way-bill of each batch

9 When cholera or any other disease in an epidemic form breaks out, a special report should be prepared showing, if possible, the probable cause of such an occurrence The prescribed register of cholera cases should be carefully filled in, and the medical diary should show the details of treatment of each case from day to day Every precaution should be taken to prevent the spread of the disease, and its occurrence should be reported to the Magistrate of the first station arrived at thereafter

10 Any emigrant attacked by small pox on the passage should be landed at the first opportunity, unless there are strong reasons to the contrary

WATER RATE RULES FOR THE EDEN CANAL

The 12th February 1894

No 51 —Notification —With reference to Notification No 447, dated the 27th December 1881, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 28th December 1881, at page 1122, and in accordance with the provisions of section 99 of Act III (B C) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to pass the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Eden Canal —

1 A map showing the area commanded, i e, the area from which applications will be accepted, will be kept in the Collectors' offices Copies separately for Hooghly and Burdwan will be sold to the public at Re 1-8 a copy

2 Existing lease-holders may, provided the land covered by the lease is situated within the area commanded, exchange their leases for leases under new conditions if beyond the area commanded, they may have their leases cancelled if they so wish, but no fresh lease will be granted In either case the change will take effect from the 1st of April 1894, and a formal application in writing, signed by all the persons who have signed the original lease, must be presented to the Canal Officer before the 1st June 1894

3 The area under long lease will be limited to 50,000 acres, of which 32,000 acres will be in the Burdwan and 18,000 acres in the Hooghly district Long leases will, in all cases, commence from the 1st June in any year, and extend for seven years

4 Leases for one season will be granted for any lands within the area commanded but long lease-holders will have a prior right to the water and season lease-holders will not be supplied until the area under long lease has first been watered

5 No leases will be accepted for lands situated beyond the area commanded, but if water is available, single waterings may be granted

6 The rates to be charged will be as follows —

	Per bigha. Rs	A	P
I —Long leases entered into before the 1st October 1895, per season ..	0	4	0
II —Long leases entered into after the 1st January 1896, per season	0	5	0
III —Extra charge for long leases entered into during the irrigation season, i e, between the 1st June and 1st October in any year in addition to the rates mentioned in I and II, for the first year only ...	0	2	0
IV —Season leases, kharif, per season	0	8	0
V —Single waterings outside the area commanded in each watering	0	4	0
VI —Season leases, rabi, sugarcane, and potatoes, and other crops, per season	1	0	0
Boro rice, per season ..	0	8	0
VII —Unauthorised irrigation—
Kharif season	1	0	0	or such lower rate as may be fixed by the Canal Officer
Rabi season ..	2	0	0

7 The water-rates will become due, and payment must be made, on the dates mentioned below —

Leases under rule 6—I and II	The 31st of January
Sums due under rule 6—III	When the lease is executed
Leases under rule 6—IV	The 31st of January
Ditto 6—V	When the lease is executed
Ditto 6—VI	Ditto ditto
Charges under rule 6—VII	When the order authorizing the assessment is passed

8 The areas to be charged will, as far as practicable, be determined when the lease is executed, but lands irrigated beyond the boundaries of the lease will be measured and charged at the rates mentioned in the lease The application must be for such an area as will probably be irrigated with existing appliances, and no lease will be accepted where it may be reasonably anticipated that lands beyond the boundaries specified will necessarily or probably be irrigated Ordinarily the measurements taken in the year in which the lease is executed will be accepted for the remainder of the term, but in special cases the Divisional Canal Officer may by a written order authorize a re-measurement

9 The Divisional Canal Officer may, under special circumstances for the convenience of the canal administration, sanction a long lease for a term of five instead of seven years

10 In the case of long or season leases, the minimum area chargeable will be that specified in the lease independently of water being or not being required and utilized

11 Leases under rule 6, I, II, III, IV and V, will only be entered into with (I) the zamindar or subordinate proprietor of the village, or (II) with a body of cultivators not exceeding six in number, who will agree to represent the cultivators, and who will be jointly and severally responsible for the payment of the water-rates due under the lease The persons who sign the lease will be entitled to a deduction of 12½ per cent on all payments made within one month of the water-rates becoming due If the lessee is not the zamindar or talukdar, a moiety of the amount due for the first year will be payable in advance Leases under rule 6, VI, will be entered into with representatives of the actual cultivators

12 No cross dams other than those the erection of which has been sanctioned as a permanent arrangement will be allowed without the written order of the Divisional Canal Officer issued with the written approval of the Collector Every cross dam must be provided with a suitable and efficient escape, so that the flow of the water in the channel may not be interfered with

13 The Canal Officer will not interfere with the fishery rights hitherto exercised by the proprietors of the river beds Nets not fixed to stakes which do not stop or interfere with the flow of the water may be used at the discretion of the persons interested, but cross dams will only be allowed under the provisions of rule 12

Revised water-rate rules for the Saran Canals

The 13th February 1894

No 57 Notification—It is hereby notified that, in exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 78, 79 80, 81 and 99 of Act III (B C) of 1876, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal proposes to pass the following rules in supersession of those at present in force for carrying out the provisions of the said Act with respect to the Saran Canals

1 In Notification No 179, dated the 18th August 1879, under the provisions of Part II of Act III of 1876, Government has reserved to itself the rights of property in the water of the following canals and river beds forming part of the Saran Irrigation scheme —

I —The Roopan Chap Sota
II —The Head cut
III —The Daha River and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it
IV —The Gandaki river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it
V —The Dhanai River and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it
VI —The Gangri River and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it

2 The revenue administration of the Saran Canals is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Sone Circle The Executive Engineer of the Gandak is, as canal officer under the Irrigation Act [Act III (B C) of 1876, charged with the proper maintenance and management of the canals, and with the control of the supply of water on them All orders passed by him or by the Subdivisional Canal Officer are under the terms of that Act subject to correction on appeal to the Collector of Saran

3 Any person who constructs bunds in the canals, who interferes with the supply of water in them, or who takes water from them without the written permission of a duly authorised person will render himself liable to the penalties defined in the Irrigation Act

4 Water will be admitted to any one of the four canals Nos III, IV, V and VI at any time during the year, when it may be possible to admit it as soon as possible after a lease has been granted under the following rules The canal officer will regulate the water passing into and along any canal to the best of his ability to suit the requirements of the lessee But the volume which can be admitted to any of the canals depends on the season of the year, the level of the River Gandak, the construction of certain bunds, and on the length of notice of his requirements which may be given by the lessee No guarantee can be given either as to the volume or duration of the supply, or of the delivery of any quantity of water at any particular point of any canal

5 At least three weeks' notice must be given by a lessee if water is required at any time between November and June The lessee must give notice to the Subdivisional Canal Officer in writing whenever he requires water to be admitted to, or any increase or decrease in the supply of, the canal of which he has the lease

6 Leases will be granted for the year 1894-95 for any one of the four canals to any person, approved by the Canal Officer, who has a beneficial interest in the use of the water The charge for the use, during the whole year, or any part of it, of each of the canals will be—

	Rs
No III —The Daha river	9,000
„ IV —The Gandaki „	5,000
„ V —The Dhanai „	6,000
„ VI —The Gangri „	7,000
Total	27,000

The water-rate must, in each case, be paid in full into the Government Treasury, either at Gopalganj or Chapra before a lease will be granted, or before water will be admitted into a canal An application for a lease for the year 1894 95 must be made in the form of Appendix I

7 Leases will be granted for a period of three years ending on the 31st March 1897 to any person approved by the Canal Officer, who has a beneficial interest in the use of the water

The charge for the use, during the period of three years of each of the canals will be—

Canal	Payment to be made
	Before water is admitted in 1894-95	Before the 15th April 1895	Before the 15th April 1896
	Rs	Rs	Rs
No III —The Daha river	9,000	8,000	7 000
„ IV —The Gandaki „	5,000	4,500	4,000
„ V —The Dhanai „	6,000	5,500	5,000
„ VI —The Gangri „	7,000	6,000	5,000
Total	27,000	24,000	21,000

Water will not be admitted into any canal during any particular year until the water-rate of that year has been paid in full into the Government Treasury, either at Gopalganj or Chapra An application for a lease for a term of three years must be made in the form of Appendix II

8 The lessee of a canal will be entitled during the currency of his lease—

(i) To the exclusive use, either for irrigation or for the manufacture of indigo, or for any other purpose of the entire supply of water which may be passed into the canal

(ii) To sell to any indigo concern all or any portion of the supply in the canal for the purpose of the manufacture of indigo at a rate not exceeding Rs 4 per factory maund of indigo manufactured

(iii) To sell water to any person who may desire to have it for the purpose of irrigating lands at any rate not exceeding that defined in the schedule of rates attached to these rules

(iv) To construct any temporary dam in the bed of the channel of which he is lessee after he has obtained the approval in writing of the Subdivisional Canal Officer to its erection

9 The lessee of any canal shall grant a written permit to any person to whom he may have sold water under Rule 8 (ii) or (iii), and shall send a copy of the permit to the Subdivisional Canal Officer The Canal Officer will endeavour to stop the unauthorized use of water by persons who do not hold these permits as far as it may be possible to do so when the lessee applies to him in writing to do so

10 The lessee must conclude his own agreements with persons to whom he may sell water either for manufacture of indigo or irrigation, and must himself enforce those agreements

In cases where lands have been irrigated without application and water-rates hvae been imposed by the Canal Officer under section 79 of Act III (B C) of 1876, the water-rates may, at the request of the Canal Officer, be recovered by the Collector under the Public Demands Recovery Act

11 If two or more persons desire to be joint lessees of the same canal, they may submit a joint application in the form of Appendix No II, and shall appoint one of their number to be the chief lessee, he shall communicate with the Canal Officer on all points connected with the supply of water and with its distribution among the other lessees

12 If two or more of the four channels are leased at the same time, and there is any difficulty in supplying the full quantity of water required by the lessees, the Canal Officer will endeavour to divide the available supply as fairly as possible between the lessees in proportion to the sums paid by them for the leases of the respective channels

NOTIFICATION—No 1784A, the 10th March 1894

RULES FOR ADMISSION INTO THE JUDICIAL BRANCH OF THE PROVINCIAL CIVIL SERVICE

DEFINITION —"The Judicial Branch of the Provincial Civil Service" includes Small Cause Court Judgeships outside the Presidency town, Sub Judgeships, Munsifships, and any other appointments which the Lieutenant Governor may from time to time specially declare to be included therein

1 In accordance with section 7 of Act XII of 1887, nominations to Munsifships will be made by the High Court under the following rules, which have been framed by the Lieutenant-Governor in consultation with the High Court, and sanctioned by the Governor-General in Council

2 A candidate shall present an application in writing to the Registrar of the High Court, Appellate Side This shall ordinarily be accompanied by the following certificates, viz —

(1) that the candidate's age does not exceed 27 years,

(2) that he has obtained the degree of B L, or has passed the Senior Pleadership or some analogous examination, or is a Barrister-at-Law, or Member of the Faculty of Advocates in Scotland, or is an Attorney on the rolls of the High Court,

(3) that he is of good moral character and has received a liberal education,

(4) that he has practised as a Pleader or Barrister or Member of the Faculty of Advocates in Scotland, or Attorney for not less than three years the High Court may for special reasons dispense with a portion (not exceeding two years) of this period,

(5) that he is in good health and is physically fit for service The certificate of health must be signed by a Presidency Surgeon or a Civil Surgeon

3 It shall be within the discretion of the High Court to require any such additional proof on any of the above points as it may think fit

4 If the qualifications of the candidate are satisfactory to the Court, his name shall be entered in a register as eligible for admission to the Subordinate Judicial Service, but priority of entry in the register shall confer no right of priority of appointment A candidate's name shall be removed from the register in the event of failing to obtain a gazetted appointment under section 7 of Act XII of 1887 before attaining the age of 29 years

5 At the time a registered candidate is appointed permanently to the service, he shall ordinarily be required to submit a fresh health certificate signed by a Presidency Surgeon or a Civil Surgeon

APPENDIX

The following rules, which the Government of India and the Secretary of State have determined shall be applied in all branches of the Provincial Civil Service, are published for the information of candidates for admission to the Judicial Branch —

1 Europeans who do not satisfy the definition of Native of India contained in section 6, Statute 33, Victoria, Chapter 3, are not eligible for appointment to the Provincial Service without the previous sanction in each case of the Government of India With such sanction they may be appointed if they are qualified under the conditions mentioned in Rule 2 of the above rules

2 The subjects of Native Princes in alliance with Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India are eligible for appointment to the Provincial Service if they are qualified under the conditions mentioned in Rule 2 of the above rules

3 All candidates for admission to the Judicial Branch must furnish satisfactory evidence of a thorough knowledge of at least one of the vernacular languages of the Province The High Court will require all candidates who have not already furnished such evidence at some recognized examination, to pass a special examination in either Bengali, Hindi, Urdu, or Urya before appointment. The object of the examination will be to test the candidate's knowledge of the language and ability to write and read the written character with facility The examination will include—

(1) Translation into English of proceedings, petitions, reports, &c, written in manuscript

(2) Translation from English into the vernacular selected

4 Every person appointed to the Judicial Branch shall be subject to a period of probation or training, during which time his appointment will be probationary only, unless in special cases the High Court declares such probation or training to be unnecessary

5 Promotion to grades below that on Rs 600 a month will ordinarily be given according to seniority, subject to fitness and approved conduct But the Lieutenant-Governor reserves to himself the right to make promotion to the senior grades of the Provincial Service by special selection for merit without regard to seniority, and hereby declares that seniority alone shall not give a claim to appointment to the grade on Rs 600 or higher grades

6 No member of the Judicial Branch shall be dismissed otherwise than on the result of a judicial or formal departmental enquiry

WATER RATE RULES FOR THE EDEN CANAL

The 12th February 1894

No 51 —Notification —With reference to Notification No 417, dated the 27th December 1881, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 28th December 1881, at page 1122, and in accordance with the provisions of section 99 of Act III (B C) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to pass the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Eden Canal —

1 A map showing the area commanded, i e, the area from which applications will be accepted, will be kept in the Collectors' offices Copies separately for Hooghly and Burdwan will be sold to the public at Re 1-8 a copy

2 Existing lease-holders may, provided the land covered by the lease is situated within the area commanded, exchange their leases for leases under new conditions : if beyond the area commanded, they may have their leases cancelled if they so wish, but no fresh lease will be granted In either case the change will take effect from the 1st of April 1894, and a formal application in writing, signed by all the persons who have signed the original lease, must be presented to the Canal Officer before the 1st June 1894

3 The area under long lease will be limited to 50,000 acres, of which 32,000 acres will be in the Burdwan and 18,000 acres in the Hooghly district Long leases will, in all cases, commence from the 1st June in any year, and extend for seven years

4 Leases for one season will be granted for any lands within the area commanded but long lease-holders will have a prior right to the water and season lease-holders will not be supplied until the area under long lease has first been watered

5 No leases will be accepted for lands situated beyond the area commanded, but if water is available, single waterings may be granted

6. The rates to be charged will be as follows —

	Per bigha. Rs.	A	P
I —Long leases entered into before the 1st October 1895, per season	0	4	0
II —Long leases entered into after the 1st January 1896, per season	0	5	0
III —Extra charge for long leases entered into during the irrigation season, i e, between the 1st June and 1st October in any year in addition to the rates mentioned in I and II, for the first year only ...	0	2	0
IV —Season leases, kharif, per season	0	8	0
V —Single waterings outside the area commanded in each watering	0	4	0
VI —Season leases, rabi, sugarcane, and potatoes, and other crops, per season	1	0	0
Boro rice, per season ...	0	8	0
VII —Unauthorised irrigation— Kharif season	1	0	0 } or such lower rate as may be fixed by the Canal Officer.
Rabi season ..	2	0	0

7 The water-rates will become due, and payment must be made, on the dates mentioned below —

Leases under rule 6—I and II	The 31st of January
Sums due under rule 6—III	When the lease is executed
Leases under rule 6—IV	The 31st of January
Ditto 6—V	When the lease is executed
Ditto 6—VI	Ditto ditto
Charges under rule 6—VII	When the order authorizing the assessment is passed

8 The areas to be charged will, as far as practicable, be determined when the lease is executed, but lands irrigated beyond the boundaries of the lease will be measured and charged at the rates mentioned in the lease The application must be for such an area as will probably be irrigated with existing appliances, and no lease will be accepted where it may be reasonably anticipated that lands beyond the boundaries specified will necessarily or probably be irrigated Ordinarily the measurements taken in the year in which the lease is executed will be accepted for the remainder of the term, but in special cases the Divisional Canal Officer may by a written order authorize a re-measurement

9 The Divisional Canal Officer may, under special circumstances for the convenience of the canal administration, sanction a long lease for a term of five instead of seven years

10 In the case of long or season leases, the minimum area chargeable will be that specified in the lease independently of water being or not being required and utilized

11 Leases under rule 6, I, II, III, IV and V, will only be entered into with (I) the zamindar or subordinate proprietor of the village, or (II) with a body of cultivators not exceeding six in number, who will agree to represent the cultivators, and who will be jointly and severally responsible for the payment of the water rates due under the lease The persons who sign the lease will be entitled to a deduction of 12½ per cent on all payments made within one month of the water-rates becoming due If the lessee is not the zamindar or talukdar, a moiety of the amount due for the first year will be payable in advance. Leases under rule 6, VI, will be entered into with representatives of the actual cultivators

12 No cross dams other than those the erection of which has been sanctioned as a permanent arrangement will be allowed without the written order of the Divisional Canal Officer issued with the written approval of the Collector Every cross dam must be provided with a suitable and efficient escape, so that the flow of the water in the channel may not be interfered with

13 The Canal Officer will not interfere with the fishery rights hitherto exercised by the proprietors of the river beds Nets not fixed to stakes which do not stop or interfere with the flow of the water may be used at the discretion of the persons interested, but cross dams will only be allowed under the provisions of rule 12

Revised water-rate rules for the Saran Canals.

The 13th February 1894

No 57 Notification —It is hereby notified that, in exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 78, 79 80, 81 and 99 of Act III (B C) of 1876, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal proposes to pass the following rules in supersession of those at present in force for carrying out the provisions of the said Act with respect to the Saran Canals

1 In Notification No 110 of the 9th August 1880, issued under the provisions of Act III of 1876, Government reserved to itself the rights of property in the water of the river channels known as the Daha, the Dhanai, the Gandaki and the Gangri and their appendant tributaries

2 The revenue administration of the Saran Canals is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Sone Circle The Executive Engineer of the Gandak is, as canal officer under the Irrigation Act [Act III (B C) of 1876, charged with the proper maintenance and management of the canals, and with the control of the supply of water on them All orders passed by him or by the Subdivisional Canal Officer are under the terms of that Act subject to correction on appeal to the Collector of Saran

3 Any person who constructs bunds in the canals, who interferes with the supply of water in them, or who takes water from them without the written permission of a duly authorised person will render himself liable to the penalties defined in the Irrigation Act

4 Water will be admitted to any one of the four canals Nos III, IV, V and VI at any time during the year, when it may be possible to admit it as soon as possible after a lease has been granted under the following rules The canal officer will regulate the water passing into and along any canal to the best of his ability to suit the requirements of the lessee But the volume which can be admitted to any of the canals depends on the season of the year, the level of the River Gandak, the construction of certain bunds, and on the length of notice of his requirements which may be given by the lessee No guarantee can be given either as to the volume or duration of the supply, or of the delivery of any quantity of water at any particular point of any canal

5 At least three weeks' notice must be given by a lessee if water is required at any time between November and June The lessee must give notice to the Subdivisional Canal Officer in writing whenever he requires water to be admitted to, or any increase or decrease in the supply of, the canal of which he has the lease

6 Leases will be granted for the year 1894-95 for any one of the four canals to any person, approved by the Canal Officer, who has a beneficial interest in the use of the water The charge for the use, during the whole year, or any part of it, of each of th canals will be —

	Rs
No III —The Daha river	9,000
„ IV —The Gandaki „	5,000
„ V —The Dhanai „	6,000
„ VI —The Gangri „	7,000
Total	27,000

The water-rate must, in each case, be paid in full into the Government Treasury, either at Gopalganj or Chapra before a lease will be granted, or before water will be admitted into a canal An application for a lease for the year 1894-95 must be made in the form of Appendix I

7 Leases will be granted for a period of three years ending on the 31st March 1897 to any person approved by the Canal Officer, who has a beneficial interest in the use of the water

The charge for the use during the period of three years of each of the canals will be—

CANAL	PAYMENT TO BE MADE
	Before water is admitted in 1894-95	Before the 15th April 1895	Before the 15th April 1896
	Rs	Rs	Rs
No III —The Daha river	9,000	8,000	7,000
„ IV —The Gandaki „	5,000	4,500	4,000
„ V —The Dhanai „	6,000	5,500	5,000
„ VI —The Gangri „	7,000	6,000	5,000
Total	27,000	24,000	21,000

Water will not be admitted into any canal during any particular year until the water-rate of that year has been paid in full into the Government Treasury, either at Gopalganj or Chapra An application for a lease for a term of three years must be made in the form of Appendix II

8 The lessee of a canal will be entitled during the currency of his lease—

(i) To the exclusive use, either for irrigation or for the manufacture of indigo, or for any other purpose of the entire supply of water which may be passed into the canal.

(ii) To sell to any indigo concern all or any portion of the supply in the canal for the purpose of the manufacture of indigo at a rate not exceeding Rs 4 per factory maund of indigo manufactured

(iii) To sell water to any person who may desire to have it for the purpose of irrigating lands at any rate not exceeding that defined in the schedule of rates attached to these rules

(iv) To construct any temporary dam in the bed of the channel of which he is lessee after he has obtained the approval in writing of the Subdivisional Canal Officer to its erection

9 The lessee of any canal shall grant a written permit to any person to whom he may have sold water under Rule 8 (ii) or (iii), and shall send a copy of the permit to the Subdivisional Canal Officer The Canal Officer will endeavour to stop the unauthorized use of water by persons who do not hold these permits as far as it may be possible to do so when the lessee applies to him in writing to do so

10 The lessee must conclude his own agreements with persons to whom he may sell water either for manufacture of indigo or irrigation, and must himself enforce those agreements

In cases where lands have been irrigated without application and water-rates hvae been imposed by the Canal Officer under section 79 of Act III (B C) of 1876, the water-rates may, at the request of the Canal Officer, be recovered by the Collector under the Public Demands Recovery Act

11 If two or more persons desire to be joint lessees of the same canal, they may submit a joint application in the form of Appendix No II, and shall appoint one of their number to be the chief lessee, he shall communicate with the Canal Officer on all points connected with the supply of water and with its distribution among the other lessees

12 If two or more of the four channels are leased at the same time, and there is any difficulty in supplying the full quantity of water required by the lessees, the Canal Officer will endeavour to divide the available supply as fairly as possible between the lessees in proportion to the sums paid by them for the leases of the respective channels

The Indian Law Reports

Published under Authority

THE Indian Law Reports published under the authority of the Governor General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements on and from the 1st January 1889 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the Reports from 1876 —

Acts of the Governor General's Council assented to by the Governor General.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 8th March, 1894, and is hereby promulgated for general information —

ACT NO VI OF 1894

An Act to amend the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, with respect to Policies of Sea and Fire Insurance and Sale Certificates

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, with respect to policies of sea and fire insurance and sale certificates, It is hereby enacted as follows —

Policies of Sea and Fire Insurance

Addition to definition of "policy of insurance" in section 3, clause (15) respecting sea insurance

1 To clause (15) of section 3 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, as amended by section 1 of Act I of 1888, the following shall be added, namely —

"It includes also a policy of sea-insurance, such a policy (a) meaning any insurance made upon any ship or vessel, or upon the machinery tackle or furniture of any ship or vessel, or upon any goods, merchandise or property of any description whatever on board of any ship or vessel, or upon the freight of, or any other interest which may be lawfully insured in or relating to, any ship or vessel, and (b) including any insurance of goods merchandise or property for any transit which includes not only a sea risk but also any other risk incidental to the transit insured from the commencement of the transit to the ultimate destination covered by the insurance

"and where any person, in consideration of any sum of money paid or to be paid for additional freight or otherwise, agrees to take upon himself any risk attending goods, merchandise or property of any description whatever while on board of any ship or vessel, or engages to indemnify the owner of any such goods, merchandise or property from any risk, loss or damage, such agreement or engagement shall be deemed to be a contract for sea-insurance"

Insertion of new section between sections 7 and 8 respecting sea insurance

2 Between section 7 and section 8 of the said Act the following section shall be inserted, namely —

Policies of sea insurance

"7A (1) No contract for sea-insurance (other than such insurance as is referred to in section 55 of the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862) shall be valid unless the same is expressed in a policy of sea-insurance

"(2) No policy of sea-insurance made for time shall be made for any time exceeding twelve months

"(3) No policy of sea-insurance shall be valid unless it specifies the particular risk or adventure, or the time, for which it is made, the names of the subscribers or underwriters, and the amount or amounts insured

"(4) Where any sea insurance is made for or upon a voyage and also for time, or to extend to or cover any time beyond thirty days after the ship shall have arrived at her destination and been there moored at anchor, the policy shall be charged with duty as a policy for or upon a voyage, and also with duty as a policy for time.'

3 For division (a) of article 49 of Schedule I of the said Act, as amended by section 2 of Act I of 1888, relating to sea-insurance, the following shall be substituted, namely —

Amendment of Schedule I, respecting sea insurance

	Description of Instrument	Proper Stamp duty
		Rs A P
49 POLICY OF INSURANCE	(a) In the case of sea insurance—
	(1) for or upon any voyage—

	(ii) in any other case, in respect of every full sum of one thousand rupees and also any fractional part of one thousand rupees insured by the policy	0 2 0
	(2) for time—
	(iii) in respect of every full sum of one thousand rupees and also any fractional part of one thousand rupees insured by the policy—where the insurance shall be made for any time not exceeding six months	0 2 0
	where the insurance shall be made for any time exceeding six months and not exceeding twelve months	0 4 0

4 (1) In division (c) of article 49 of Schedule I of the said Act, as amended by section 2 of Act I of 1888, the following shall be added after the words "In the case of any other insurance," namely, "except such a re-assurance as is described in division (d) of this article—"

Amendment of and addition to, article 49 Schedule I respecting sea and fire re-insurances

(2) After division (c) of article 49 of Schedule I of the said Act, amended as aforesaid, the following division shall be added, namely —

	Description of Instrument	Proper Stamp duty
		Rs A P
49 POLICY OF INSURANCE—concld	(d) In the case of a re-insurance, by an Insurance Company which has granted a policy of sea insurance or a policy of insurance against loss by fire with another Company by way of indemnity or guarantee against the payment on the original insurance of a certain part of the sum insured thereby	1 0 0

Sale-Certificates

5 Section 24 of the said Act shall be held not to apply and never to have applied to any such certificate of sale as is mentioned in article 16 of Schedule I of that Act

Inapplicability of section 24 to sale certificates

Provided that nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect any decree or order made by any Court or Revenue-officer before the commencement of this Act

6 In the third column of Schedule I of the said Act, after the words "the purchase-money" against article 16, the word 'only' shall be added

Amendment of Schedule I, respecting sale-certificates

Secretary to the Government of India

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 8th March, 1894, and is hereby promulgated for general information —

ACT NO VII OF 1894.

An Act to amend the Prisoners Act, 1871

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Prisoners Act, 1871, It is hereby enacted as follows —

Addition to section 1, Act V, 1871

1 To section 1 of the said Act the following shall be added, namely —

"Any reference in Part III or Part V of this Act to a prison or jail, or to imprisonment or confinement, may be read as referring to a reformatory or reformatory school or to confinement therein"

Repeal of section 9, Act V, 1871

2 Section 9 of the said Act is hereby repealed

Amendment of section 14 Act V, 1871

3 In section 14 of the said Act, for the words "or in pursuance of a warrant of any Court established in Calcutta, Madras or Bombay under the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882," the following shall be substituted, namely —

"or in pursuance of a warrant of any Civil Court established in Calcutta, Madras or Bombay under any law for the time being in force"

Amendment of, and addition to, section 16, Act V, 1871

4 (1) In section 16 of the said Act, for the words "acting under the authority" the words "acting, whether within or without British India, under the general or special authority" shall be substituted

(2) To the same section the following shall be added, namely —

"or, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council in each case, to any sentence or order or warrant for the detention of any person passed or issued by any Court or tribunal of any Native Prince or State under the suzerainty of Her Majesty

"Where a Court or tribunal of such a Native Prince or State has passed a sentence which cannot be executed without the concurrence of an officer of the British Government, and such sentence has been judicially considered on the merits and confirmed by any such officer specially authorised by name or by office in that behalf, such sentence, and any order or warrant issued in pursuance thereof, shall be deemed to be the sentence, order or warrant of a Court or tribunal acting under the authority of the Governor General in Council"

Amendment of, and addition to, section 19, Act V, 1871

5 (1) For the first fifty-one words of section 19 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely —

"The Governor General in Council or the Local Government may authorise the reception, detention or imprisonment in any place in British India, or in any place under such Government, as the case may be, for the period specified in their respective sentences, of persons sentenced within the territories of any Native Prince or State under the suzerainty of Her Majesty to imprisonment or transportation for any of the following offences"

(2) In the same section, after the words "theft of cattle" the following shall be inserted, namely —

"or for any other act (referred to in this section as an offence) which would, if done in British India, have constituted an offence against any of the sections of the Indian Penal Code mentioned in the schedule to the Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition Act, 1879,"

(3) For the proviso to the same section the following shall be substituted, namely —

"Provided that such sentences have been pronounced after trial before a tribunal of which the presiding Judge, or, if the Court consisted of more than one Judge, at least one of such Judges, was an officer of the British Government authorised to act as such Judge by the Native Prince or State or by the Governor General in Council"

Substitution of new section for section 30, Act V, 1871

6 For section 30 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely —

Removal from one jail to another in territories under same Local Government

"30 When any person is, or has been, sentenced to imprisonment or transportation by any Court, or, in default of giving security for keeping the peace or maintaining good behaviour, has been committed to, or is detained in, prison under section 123 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, the Local Government, or (subject to its orders and under its control) the Inspector General of Prisons may order his removal during the period for which he has been sentenced to imprisonment or transportation or the security has been ordered to be given as the case may be, from the jail or place in which he is confined to any other jail or place of confinement within the territories subject to the same Local Government"

Substitution of new section for section 32, Act V, 1871

7 For section 32 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely —

Removal of prisoners from territories under one Local Government to territories under another

"32 When any person is, or has been, sentenced to imprisonment or transportation by any Court, or, in default of giving security for maintaining good behaviour, has been committed to, or is detained in, prison under section 123 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, the Governor General in Council may order his removal during the period for which he has been sentenced to imprisonment or transportation or the security has been ordered to be given, as the case may be, from the jail or place in which he is confined to any other jail or place of confinement in British India"

An Act to amend the law relating to Customs-duties, and for other purposes

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to the duties of customs on goods imported and exported by sea, and to provide for the levy of duties on goods crossing the frontier of certain Foreign European Settlements in India and of the territories of certain Native Chiefs, It is hereby enacted as follows —

Title, extent and commencement

1 (1) This Act may be called the Indian Tariff Act, 1894

(2) It extends to the whole of British India except Aden and Perim, and

(3) It shall come into force at once

Repeal

2 (1) The Acts mentioned in the first schedule are repealed to the extent specified therein

(2) But all notifications published, and rules and orders made, under any of those Acts, and in force immediately before the commencement of this Act, shall, so far as they are consistent herewith, be deemed to have been respectively published and made under this Act and

(3) All references made to the Indian Tariff Act 1875, and the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, in Acts or Regulations passed before the commencement of this Act, shall be deemed to be made to this Act

(4) Nothing in this Act shall authorize the levy of duties of customs on any article carried from one customs-port in British India to another such port, except salt, opium and spirit.

3 There shall be levied and collected, in every port to which this Act applies, the duties specified in the second, third, fourth and fifth schedules

Duties specified in schedules to be levied

4 On all pepper exported by sea from the port of Cochin there shall be levied such duty not exceeding nine rupees per khandi as the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council may determine, and at the close of each year, or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, the Customs-Collector at the said port shall, after deducting the expenses of collection, pay the duty collected under this section to the Governments of Travancore and Cochin in such proportion and in such manner as the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council may direct

Export of pepper from Cochin

5 (1) Duties of customs shall be levied at the rates respectively prescribed in the second, third and fourth schedules on goods passing by land out of, and in the fifth schedule on goods passing by land into,—

Duties on goods crossing certain frontiers

(a) Foreign European Settlements in India,

(b) any territory declared, under the power hereinafter in this section conferred, to be foreign territory

(2) Subject to the control of the Governor General in Council, the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council and the Governor of Bombay in Council may, by notification in the local official Gazette, respectively, declare that the territory of any Native Chief situate within, or bordering on, the territories respectively administered by such Governors, but not subject to the jurisdiction of the Courts and Civil authorities of such territories, shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to be foreign territory

(3) The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare that the territory of any other Native Chief shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to be foreign territory

6 In Act No XVI of 1863, section 1, for the words "calculated at ten" the words "not exceeding five" shall be substituted

Amendment of Act XVI, 1863, section 1.

7 (1) Salt, opium and spirit imported from any port in British India, and protected by the certificate of an officer empowered in that behalf by the Governor General in Council or the Local Government, are chargeable with only the amount, if any, by which the duty leviable thereon under the third schedule exceeds the duty shown by such certificate to have been already paid in respect thereof

Duty on salt, opium and spirit, when protected by a certificate

(2) The amount, if any, paid to the Government as the price of such salt or opium is not duty within the meaning of this section.

(3) Nothing in this section applies to spirit which is exported under bond for excise-duty from one customs-port to another customs-port under the provisions of Chapter XIV of the Sea Customs Act, 1878

8 So far as regards the Presidency of Fort Saint George, the unrepealed provisions of Act No VI of 1844, and, so far as regards the Presidency of Bombay, the unrepealed provisions of Act No XXIX of 1857, relating to the levy of duties and to dutiable goods, shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to duties levied and goods liable to duty under or by virtue of section 5, sub section (1), clause (b)

Application of certain provisions as to duties and goods

9 All notifications published under this Act may be cancelled by the authority publishing the same

Power to cancel notifications

10 In the event of any duty of customs or excise on any article being imposed, increased, decreased or remitted after the making of any contract for the sale of such article without stipulation as to the payment of duty where duty was not chargeable at the time of the making of the contract, or for the sale of such article duty-paid where duty was chargeable at that time,—

When contracts have been entered into amount of increased or decreased duty to be added or deducted

(a) if such imposition or increase so takes effect that the duty or increased duty, as the case may be, is paid, the seller may add so much to the contract price as will be equivalent to the duty or increase of duty, and he shall be entitled to be paid and to sue for and recover such addition, and

(b) if such decrease or remission so takes effect that the decreased duty only or no duty, as the case may be, is paid, the purchaser may deduct so much from the contract price as will be equivalent to the decrease of duty or remitted duty, and he shall not be liable to pay or be sued for or in respect of such deduction

11 In the second paragraph of section 23 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, the words "with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council" shall be inserted after the word 'may"

Amendment of Act VIII of 1878, section 23

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the law relating to Customs duties, and for other purposes, was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 10th March, 1894 —

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to amend the law relating to Customs-duties, and for other purposes, was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill, as amended by us, annexed thereto

From Honorary Secretaries, Bombay Presidency Association, dated 3rd March, 1894 and enclosure [Papers No 1]
From Messrs Birkmyre Brothers, dated 6th March, 1894 [Paper No 2]
Telegrams from Chamber of Commerce, Madras, dated 6th March, 1894 from Bombay Trades Association, dated 6th March, 1894, from Millowners' Association, Bombay, dated 6th March, 1894, from Madras Trades Association, dated 6th March, 1894, from Chamber of Commerce Bombay, dated 6th March, 1894, from Chamber of Commerce, Karachi, dated 6th March, 1894, from Chamber of Commerce, Rangoon, dated 6th March, 1894, from Poona Sarvajanik Sabha, dated 7th March, 1894 [Papers No 3]
From Messrs W H Harton & Co, dated 7th March, 1894 [Paper No 4]
From Secretary Calcutta Trades Association, dated 7th March, 1894, and enclosure [Papers No 5]
From the Manager, New Egerton Woollen Mills Company, Ld, dated 6th March, 1894 [Paper No 6]
Telegram from Messrs Best & Co, Madras, dated 7th March, 1894 [Paper No 7]

2 In the eleven sections of the Bill we have proposed no substantive alteration except in section 5, sub-section (1), clause (a), which we have made applicable to Foreign European Settlements in India generally

3 Schedules —We have proposed several alterations in the schedules Those in Schedule I call for no remark

4 Schedule II—Arms, Ammunition and Military Stores —We have varied Exception II with reference to exemptions now in force in pursuance of remissive orders of the Governor General in Council

5 Schedule III, Article 1, Wine —Following English laws, we have reduced from forty-five to forty-two per cent the percentage of proof spirit in wines which is to regulate the rate of duty to be levied on them

6 Schedule III, Article 4, Salted Fish —We have removed the word "ngapi" as superfluous

7 Schedule IV, Article 5, Sugar —We have re-classified "sugar," leaving duty to be levied ad valorem on all kinds which are not China candy, loaf or crystallised beet. We have added crystallised beet with a tariff valuation of Rs 14 per cwt

8 Schedule IV, Article 10, Agricultural Implements —We have removed this article from separate enumeration in the schedule.

9 Schedule IV, Article 12 (now 11), Metals —We have proposed to reduce from five to one per cent the duty on iron and steel of all kinds

We have also proposed to make the duty on "lametta, single reels," payable ad valorem and have added words expressly excluding gold bullion and coin from the list of dutiable metals

10 Schedule IV, Article 13 (now 12), Oils —We have added benzoline to the articles enumerated in the definition of petroleum, and have proposed to make the duty on batching and lubricating petroleum five per cent ad valorem instead of half an anna a gallon

11 Schedule IV, Articles 30 (now 29) and (new) 38, Flax and Lac —We have proposed that there shall be an uniform duty of five per cent ad valorem on all flax and articles made of flax (including linen-thread) We have also separately enumerated lac of all sorts

12 Schedule IV, Article 38 (now 37), Jute —We have proposed to remove the exception in favour of gunny-bags

13 Schedule IV, Article 45, Paper —We propose that a duty of five per centum ad valorem be levied on paper of all kinds

14. Schedule IV, Article 61, Wood and Timber —We have proposed to except railway sleepers and firewood and leave them free

15 The publication ordered by the Council has been made as follows —

In English.

Acts of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL

[First Publication.]

The following Act, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honour on the 26th February, 1894, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General on the 14th March, 1894, is hereby published for general information :—

Act No. I of 1894.

An Act to amend Bengal Act I of 1893.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Licensed Warehouse and Fire-Brigade Act, 1893; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Preamble.

1. This Act may be called the Licensed Warehouse and Fire-Brigade Amendment Act, 1894." It shall be read with, and taken as part of, Bengal Act I of 1893, and shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor General.

Title. Commencement.

2. In section 5, for the words "is in existence at the commencement of this Act" the words "was in existence on the thirty-first day of March, 1893, or on the date of the commencement of this Act" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 5.

3. In section 8, clause (2), for the words "as in that case made and provided" the words "in advance" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 8.

4. After section 10 the following section shall be inserted :—

New section to follow section 10.

"10A. Anything in this Act notwithstanding, a fee in respect of a license shall be payable on the fifteenth day of March, 1894, in respect of every such building or place as is described in section five, by the owner or occupier thereof, for the period commencing on the twenty-eighth day of June, 1893, (the date on which this Act came into force), and ending on the thirty-first day of March, 1894, calculated on the basis of the annual fee which was payable in respect of warehouses under the provisions of section five of Bengal Act IV of 1883."

Fee payable from 28th June, 1893, to 31st March, 1894.

5. After section 46, the following section shall be inserted :—

New section to follow section 46.

"46A. Anything in the last preceding section notwithstanding, the Commissioners are hereby authorised to levy fees under sections three hundred and forty-seven of the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1888, and two hundred and sixty-one of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, as the case may be, up to the thirty-first day of March, 1894, and it is hereby declared that the repeal of the said sections, in so far as the power is withdrawn from the Commissioners of levying fees in respect of premises licensed as depôts for hay, straw, wood, rags, jute or other dangerously inflammable material which are licensed and used as warehouses under this Act, shall not take effect until the first day of April, 1894."

Operation of section 46 suspended.

6. In the schedule, for the words "on the back of schedule" the words "on the back of the license", and at the end thereof, for the words "(here state annual or other dates for payment of license fee)" the words "in advance" shall be substituted.

Amendment of Schedule.
